

'Fiscal cliff' would affect all

■ Many to pay thousands more in taxes

By Christopher S. Rugaber
Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Everyone who pays income tax — and some who don't — will feel it.

So will doctors who accept Medicare, people who get unemployment aid, defense contractors, air traffic controllers, national park rangers and companies that do research and development.

The package of tax increases and spending cuts known as the "fiscal cliff" takes effect in January unless Congress passes a budget deal by then. The economy would be hit so hard that it would likely sink into recession in the first half of 2013, economists say.

And no matter who you are, it will be all but impossible to avoid the pain.

Middle income families would have to pay an average of about $2,000 more next year, the non-partisan Tax Policy Center has calculated.

Up to 3.4 million jobs would be lost, the Congressional Budget Office estimates. The unemployment rate would reach 9.1 percent from the current 7.9 percent. Stocks could plunge. The nonpartisan CBO estimates the total cost of the cliff in 2013 at $671 billion.

Collectively, the tax increases would be the steepest to hit Americans in 60 years when measured as a percentage of the economy.

"There would be a huge shock effect to the U.S. economy," says Mark Vitner, an economist at Wells Fargo.

Most of the damage — roughly two-thirds — would come from the tax increases. But the spend-

See CLIFF, 8A

Officials to meet with Patriot miners

Gleaner staff

The 89 employees who will lose their jobs by the end of the year when Patriot Coal Corp. closes its surface mine in eastern Henderson County will receive information Thursday concerning getting training for new careers and finding new jobs.

The Green River Area Career Centers will meet with miners at a pair of one-hour meetings at 3 and 5 p.m. Thursday at the mine site.

Information concerning job registration, job listings, unemployment insurance, job search and other services will be provided.

Patriot miners unable to attend can contact Michelle Drake at (270) 686-2542 for information.

Patriot announced Nov. 2 that it will close its Bluegrass Mine Complex, including the Patriot Surface Mine and Grand Eagle Preparation Plant by the end of this year. Last summer, it closed its Freedom underground mine, laying off approximately 196 employees.

St. Louis-based Patriot filed for Chapter 11 bankruptcy reorganization in July.

Golden umbrella

The last leaves of autumn hang on as Ashley Baxter, Henderson, takes a late-afternoon jog along the Riverwalk Tuesday.

MIKE LAWRENCE/THE GLEANER

Top general winds up ensnared in email scandal

■ Commander 'flirtatious' with woman who helped break Petraeus story

By Pauline Jelinek and Nancy Benac
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The sex scandal that felled CIA Director David Petraeus widened Tuesday to ensnare the top U.S. commander in Afghanistan, Gen. John Allen, in a suddenly public drama involving a Tampa socialite, a jealous rival, a twin sister in a messy custody dispute and flirty emails.

MUSADEQ SADEQ/ASSOCIATED PRESS

Gen. John Allen is under investigation for alleged "inappropriate communications" with Jill Kelley, the woman who is said to have received threatening emails from Paula Broadwell, the woman with whom former CIA Director David Petraeus had an extramarital affair.

The improbable story — by turns tragic and silly — could have major consequences, unfolding at a critical time in the Afghan war effort and just as President Barack Obama was hoping for a smooth

See GENERAL, 8A

Ex-CIA leader's case shows privacy limits

By Richard Lardner
Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Your emails are not nearly as private as you think.

The downfall of CIA Director David Petraeus demonstrates how easy it is for federal law enforcement agents to examine emails and computer records if they believe a crime was committed. With subpoenas and warrants, the FBI and other investigating agencies routinely gain access to electronic inboxes and information about email accounts offered by Google, Yahoo and other Internet providers.

"The government can't just wander through your emails just because they'd like to know what you're thinking or doing," said Stewart Baker, a former assistant secretary at the Homeland Security Department who's now in

See EMAIL, 8A

Gleaner staff

South Middle School will host a regional robotics competition Saturday for the first time ever.

The Tri-State VEX SACK Attack Robotics 2012 Competition will begin at 7:30 a.m. Saturday.

Middle and high school VEX teams can enter the competition with no registration fee at RobotEvents.com. Approximately 24 teams will participate. During the competition, teams will test the ability of their robots to lift as many half-pound bean bags as possible into a trough in an allotted time.

The Robotics Education and Competition Foundation is underwriting the event. The foundation

See ROBOTICS, 8A

Flood insurance inquiries rise in wake of Sandy

By Claudia Buck
Sacramento Bee

With damage from Superstorm Sandy estimated as high as $20 billion, now is a good time to consider whether you should have flood insurance.

"Hurricane Sandy is a reminder that everyone should consider their need for flood insurance," said Roger Wildermuth, a spokesman for USAA insurance company, which caters to military families. "Plenty of people in Manhattan surely thought they didn't require it."

Consumer calls to USAA offices about flood insurance tripled in the weeks surrounding Hurricane Sandy, he said. Those contemplating getting flood insurance "should consider their own needs and their own tolerance for risk."

First, let's clear up a common misperception about flood insurance: Your basic homeowner's policy does not cover flooding.

Flood insurance covers "rising water" coming from the ground, such as overflowing creeks, rivers and oceans. Homeowner's insurance covers damages from "falling water," including rain, hail, felled trees and burst pipes.

"If it's coming from the sky, it's your homeowner's (policy); if it's coming from the ground, it's flood insurance," said Tully Lehman, a spokesman for the Insurance Information Network of California.

For insurance industry folks such as Lehman, paying for flood insurance is a no-brainer. Last year, the average U.S. claim for flood-related damage was $28,300, according to the National Flood Insurance Program.

Given that some homeowners' flood premiums can cost about $2 a day, "If you do suffer any sort of flood losses, it would definitely be worth it," Lehman said.

For homeowners, flood insurance typically covers up to $100,000 in personal belongings (clothes, fur-

See FLOOD, 8A

INDEX

ADVICE, 6B

BUSINESS, 5B

TV SCHEDULES, COMICS, IN CLASSIFIEDS

CROSSWORDS, IN CLASSIFIEDS

DEATHS, 2A

LOCAL & REGION, 3A

LOTTERIES, 2A

MOVIE TIMES, 6B

SPORTS, 1B-4B

SUDOKU, 6B

48°/28°

Partly cloudy, continued chilly today, high in upper 40s; low tonight in upper 20s. Temperatures slowly warm, remain below average into next week.

Full forecast, 8B

Printed partially on recycled paper with SOY ink

Deaths

Danette Carlisle Snodgrass

Danette Carlisle Snodgrass, 52, a lifelong resident of Henderson County, passed away Monday, Nov. 12, 2012, at the Lucy Smith King Care Center.

Danette graduated Henderson County High School with perfect attendance. She loved music from the '60s. Some of her favorites were Patsy Kline, Loretta Lynn and more currently, Alabama. Mrs. Snodgrass loved her collection of angel figurines.

She enjoyed bowling in a league and was known to be a fierce bowler. One of her favorite nights was when she actually broke the bowling ball! The morning after a fun night at the bowling alley, Mrs. Snodgrass was happy to go to a job that she loved. She was very proud to claim her title of executive housekeeper at the Signature Inn in Evansville. She was always excited to tell family and friends about celebrity sightings here and there.

She was preceded in death by her father, Milburn K. Carlisle.

Surviving Mrs. Snodgrass are her loving husband of 28 years, Curtis Snodgrass; her mother, Marie Carter Carlisle; two sisters, Wendy Peckinpugh and Angie Jackson; two nieces, Brianna Scott and Amanda Peckinpugh; and one great-nephew, Mason Brown.

Services will be at 11 a.m. Thursday at Benton-Glunt Funeral Home. The Rev. Leo Perkins and the Rev. Jerry Francis will officiate. Burial will follow at Mount Zion Cemetery in Reed.

Relatives and friends are invited to Danette's Life Celebration from 2 to 8 p.m. today and after 9 a.m. Thursday at the funeral home.

Expressions of sympathy may take the form of contributions to St. Anthony's Hospice, 2410 S. Green St., Henderson, KY 42420.

Arrangements entrusted to Benton-Glunt Funeral Home, a Life Celebration Home; online condolences may be made at www.bentonglunt.com.

Roy A. McClure

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. — Roy A. McClure, 73, Independence, passed away Tuesday, Nov. 13, 2012.

Roy was born in Little Dixie on April 27, 1939, to Ralph and Gladys McClure. He graduated from Henderson City High School in 1957.

He was preceded in death by one brother, Don McClure of Henderson.

Survivors include his wife of 20 years, Mary Ann; two sons, Andrew L. McClure and Jonathan D. McClure; one daughter, Kerry L. Wilson; two stepdaughters, Kristina Gurera and Kimberly Snowden; two sisters, Lelia Gaines and Linda Day; two aunts, Frances Abell Newman and Odie Mays and her husband, Everett, both of Henderson; and eight grandchildren.

Memorial services will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at McGilley & Sheil Chapel in Kansas City, Mo. Friends may call after 1 p.m. Saturday at the funeral home.

Expressions of sympathy may take the form of memorial contributions to Old Missouri Town (c/o Jackson Co. Parks, 8010 E. Park Road, Lee's Summit, MO 64064), the American Cancer Society or Boy Scouts of America.

Online condolences may be made at www.mcgilley-sheil.com.

Arrangements by McGilley and Sheil Chapel, 11924 E. 47th St., Kansas City, MO 64133, 816-353-6555.

Funerals

Ethel Hazelwood Gilbert

A celebration of life for Ethel Hazelwood Gilbert, 90, Henderson, who died Friday, will be at 11 a.m. Thursday at First Missionary Baptist Church in Henderson. The Rev. Anthony M. Brooks will officiate. Her resting place will be in Fernwood Cemetery.

Friends may call from 6 to 8 p.m. today and after 9 a.m. Thursday at the church.

Elliott Mortuary Funeral Services in Madisonville is in charge of the arrangements.

Edward Linn Sarver

Services for Edward Linn Sarver, 49, Evansville, who died Sunday will be at 10 a.m. Thursday at Alexander Newburgh Chapel in Evansville. The Rev. Mike Claypool will officiate. Burial will be in Oak Hill Cemetery in Evansville.

Friends may call from 5 to 8 p.m. today at the funeral home.

Brevities

Henderson County Diabetes Coalition, noon today, Henderson County Cooperative Extension Expo Center.

Henderson County Diabetes Education and Support Group, 6:30 p.m. Thursday, Henderson County Cooperative Extension Service, 3341 Kentucky 351. Topic: Open discussion. Information: Jenny Carter, 826-8636. Newcomers welcome.

Corydon Masonic Lodge No. 799 conferring 2nd Degree, 7 p.m. Thursday; meal at 6 p.m. All Fellow-Crafts are welcome.

Henderson United Democratic Women's Club meeting, 6 p.m. Thursday, Rookies.

Lotteries

KENTUCKY

Cash Ball: 9-15-27-31
Cash ball: 18
Kicker: 9-2-9-5-4
5 Card Cash: AS-KH-JH-7C-6S
Pick 4-midday: 6-7-8-1
Pick 4-evening: 0-1-2-4
Pick 3-midday: 8-2-4
Pick 3-evening: 2-9-1
Powerball jackpot: $185 million

INDIANA

Cash 5: 4-5-25-28-34

Daily 4-midday: 0-0-1-8
Daily 4-evening: 3-9-0-5
Daily 3-midday: 7-0-2
Daily 3-evening: 8-5-5
Lotto jackpot: $10 million

ILLINOIS

Lucky Day Lotto: 2-21-23-33-34
Pick 4-midday: 6-9-2-4
Pick 4-evening: 6-8-9-1
Pick 3-midday: 4-6-7
Pick 3-evening: 0-0-4
My 3-midday: 9-0-5

Memories
"Antiques, Gifts, Furniture, Collectibles and More"

Rescheduled!
Christmas Open House!
Fri. & Sat., Nov. 16 & 17
Refreshments, Door Prizes, Gifts, and More!

324 N. Elm St.
Wednesday – Saturday
10 a.m. – 5 p.m.
www.hendersonmemories.com
844-0014

We're Kicking Off The Holiday Season!

- Clothing • Shoes
- Hats • Scarves
- PJ's • Sleepwear
- & More!

Free Gift Wrap

Klassy Kids

320 N. Elm 826-5793
Mon. - Sat. 9-5

City OKs merging HWU position

By Frank Boyett
fboyett@thegleaner.com
270-831-8342

The Henderson City Commission passed an ordinance Tuesday that will merge two positions at Henderson Water Utility and upgrade the result. The upgrade is from secretary to senior secretary and affects only Sandy Danner, who gets a promotion and extra work.

She will take on the duties of Vickie Meuth, who for the past several years had been working partly for HWU and partly for the city of Henderson. Meuth recently retired and Danner will be assuming her duties at HWU.

"It's basically saving the utility money by not filling a position," said HWU General Manager Bruce Shipley.

The reclassification ordinance will be up for final reading at the commission's Nov. 27 meeting.

The city commission also agreed Tuesday to the purchase of a dump truck and final reading of an ordinance accepting city maintenance responsibility for 165 feet of sidewalk at 501 Harding Ave.

The commission authorized paying Don Moore Chevrolet of Owensboro $21,357 for a 1-ton Chevrolet chassis and cab with a diesel engine. The city intends to spend another $7,559 with Mills Truck Equipment of Evansville to equip it with a dump bed.

The only other business before the commission Tuesday was passing two proclamations and a brief executive session to discuss legal business. It took no action upon resuming the open meeting other than to adjourn.

Woman who drove on sidewalk holds 'idiot' sign

The Associated Press

CLEVELAND — A Cleveland woman puffed on a cigarette, wore headphones, and ignored passers-by and crowds of reporters as she stood for an hour Tuesday under a judge's order holding a sign that said, "Only an idiot would drive on the sidewalk to avoid a school bus."

A Municipal Court judge had ordered 32-year-old Shena Hardin to serve the highly public sentence Tuesday and today for the Sept. 11 citation after she was caught on camera driving on a sidewalk to pass a Cleveland school bus that was unloading children.

She arrived bundled up against the 34-degree cold at the intersection near downtown Cleveland as passing vehicles honked. Satellite TV trucks streamed the event live.

Hardin refused to comment, as did her mother, who watched from a parked car.

Hardin's license was suspended for 30 days and she was ordered to pay $250 in court costs.

Lisa Kelley, whose 9-year-old daughter boards the bus that Hardin had been passing on the sidewalk, said the sentence fit the crime.

"She's an idiot, just like her sign says," Kelley said as she watched Hardin lean against a fence, her head down and her eyes hidden by dark glasses.

"She did this almost every day last year," Kelley said. "She won't stop laughing. She's not remorseful, she laughed at every court appearance. She's still laughing, so she needs to be humiliated like this."

Kelley said she was only sorry the woman was standing in the cold and not the rain or snow.

Bill Lipold, 37, who works nearby in the blue-collar neighborhood of older homes and factories, yelled to Hardin: "Why do you hate kids?" He hopes the punishment works.

"How else are you going to stop her from doing it again?" he said.

"She really didn't show remorse for her action after being caught, so you've got to try something."

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Shena Hardin smokes a cigarette as she holds up a sign to serve a highly public sentence Tuesday in Cleveland for driving on a sidewalk to avoid a Cleveland school bus that was unloading children.

Local events sought for holiday calendar

Gleaner staff

The Gleaner will publish a calendar of holiday events in the Features section this Sunday.

If you have an event that you would like for us to include, we need the information by noon today.

We will include school band and choir concerts, school holiday programs, church programs, parades, bazaars, concerts, plays and stage performances, lighting services, musical performances and other events of public interest taking place on or after Sunday.

Fax your information to 827-2765 or email it to features@thegleaner.com.

Puppies found bludgeoned to death in Henderson County

Gleaner staff

Two puppies that had been bludgeoned to death were found Tuesday at a Henderson County residence.

The Kentucky State Police responded to a home in the 16000 section of Spottsville-Bluff City Road where the two-month-old Pit bull puppies were located.

Authorities said a third puppy was injured. The state police said it appears the two puppies which were killed were struck in the head with a blunt object.

A timeline has not been established, according to state police officials. However, anyone with information regarding this case is asked to call the state police at 826-3312.

Fire runs

Tuesday

City

- 5:43 a.m. — Smoke coming from house, 1120 S. Adams St., returned at 6:37 a.m.
- 7:49 a.m. — Vehicle accident with injuries, Arlington Drive and Zion Road, returned at 8:23 a.m.
- 8:56 a.m. — Vehicle accident with injuries, 2611 U.S. 41-North, returned at 10:01 a.m.

County

- 7:45 a.m. — Smell of something burning, 3524 Susans Court, Baskett and Zion VFDs, returned at 8:22 a.m.

The Gleaner

A SCRIPPS NEWSPAPER
The Gleaner © 2012

Published each morning except Monday by The Gleaner, at 455 Klutzy Park Plaza, Henderson KY 42420.

Periodical postage paid at Henderson, KY 42420.

POSTMASTER
Send all address changes to The Gleaner, P.O. Box 4, Henderson, KY 42419 (USPS 219-440)

Member of The Associated Press

A SCRIPPS NEWSPAPER

EDITOR
DAVID DIXON • 270-831-8333
ddixon@thegleaner.com

CIRCULATION
270-831-8393

PRODUCTION
RICK LANCASTER
270-831-8352
rlancaster@thegleaner.com

ADVERTISING
CAROLINE SEXTON
270-831-8301
csexton@thegleaner.com

NEWS
DOUG WHITE • 270-831-8337
dwhite@thegleaner.com

SPORTS
JIM KURK • 270-831-8348
jkurk@thegleaner.com

FEATURES
DONNA STINNETT
270-831-8344
dstinnett@thegleaner.com

BUSINESS NEWS
CHUCK STINNETT
270-831-8343
cstinnett@thegleaner.com

COMMUNITY NEWS
KAREN COX • 270-831-8336
kcox@thegleaner.com

GLEANER GENERAL BUSINESS FAX
270-827-2765

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
Email: letters@thegleaner.com

NEWS RELEASES TO
Email: news@thegleaner.com

CONTACT US:
Main switchboard: 270-827-2000
Customer Service: 270-831-8393
Weekdays: 5 a.m. — 5 p.m.
Sat. — Sun.: 5 a.m. — noon

To subscribe or report delivery service problems, call 270-831-8393 or 800-587-6397 in Union or Webster counties.

All carrier home delivery subscriptions will include the Thanksgiving Day edition for an additional charge.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

CARRIER DELIVERY 1 MONTH	Daily and Sunday: $14.25 Daily only: $11.60 Sunday only: $8.00
CARRIER DELIVERY 3 MONTHS	Daily and Sunday: $42.75 Daily only: $34.80 Sunday only: $24.00
CARRIER DELIVERY 6 MONTHS	Daily and Sunday: $85.50 Daily only: $69.60 Sunday only: $48.00
CARRIER DELIVERY 12 MONTHS	Daily and Sunday: $156.75 Daily only: $139.20 Sunday only: $96.00
ALL MAIL DELIVERY 1 MONTH	Daily and Sunday: $16.65 Daily only: $14.00 Sunday only: $10.10
ALL MAIL DELIVERY 3 MONTHS	Daily and Sunday: $49.95 Daily only: $42.00 Sunday only: $20.20
ALL MAIL DELIVERY 6 MONTHS	Daily and Sunday: $99.90 Daily only: $84.00 Sunday only: $60.60
ALL MAIL DELIVERY 12 MONTHS	Daily and Sunday: $199.80 Daily only: $168.00 Sunday only: $121.20
SINGLE COPY PRICE	Weekday: 75 cents Sunday: $1.75

NEED A ROOF?

FRALEY'S
Home Improvement, Inc.

Roofing • Siding • Windows

826-0627

402 Smith Ave. • Henderson, KY • 42420

FREE Cataract Screening

- Are you over 50?
- Trouble with halos & glare?
- Trouble driving at night?
- ✓ No stitches, no needles, no patches
- ✓ Surgery takes about 10 minutes

Ohio Valley Eye Institute

Schedule Your FREE Cataract Screening Today!
(812) 421-2020
www.oveye.com

Christmas Wish List

- New Fall Coats & Jackets
- French Dressing Jeans
- Brighton Jewelry

Come in & make your selections & let your "Santa" make your wishes come true

Victoria's Boutique

321 Third St., Henderson
270-831-2857

PANDORA
UNFORGETTABLE MOMENTS

Ring Gift Set
Nov. 1 – Nov. 23

Purchase a Midnight Enchantment gift set for $150 or a Moonlight Serenade gift set for $100.

Third St. House Gift Shop
307 Third St. Henderson, KY
270-826-4015
thirdstrethousegiftshop.com

Local & Regional

School chief gets two years in prison

■ Superintendent also draws fine

By Brett Barrouquere
Associated Press

LEXINGTON — A former eastern Kentucky school superintendent was sentenced Tuesday to two years in federal prison for leading a vote-buying conspiracy during the 2010 primary elections.

U.S. District Judge Karen Caldwell also levied a $250,000 fine on 66-year-old Arch Turner during his sentencing in federal court in Lexington. Turner was Breathitt County school superintendent from 2005 until his retirement this year after he was charged. The fine is more than six times the maximum recommended under the federal sentencing guidelines, which called for a fine between $4,000 and $40,000.

Caldwell ordered the money paid immediately, noting that Turner made $150,000 a year as school superintendent and $75,000 annually for years before being elected as an administrator in the school system.

Caldwell also called Turner's crimes "heinous and cynical" because they struck at the center of the democratic process. In this case, Caldwell noted, Turner paid voters out of his own funds and coerced others to lie to a federal grand jury once a federal investigation started.

Vote-buying cases aren't uncommon in eastern Kentucky, but Caldwell noted that Turner's involvement was unusual because he wasn't on the ballot and had nothing to gain financially by his participation.

Turner pleaded guilty in July to distributing money to others to buy votes for candidates he supported in local races. His plea agreement also said he accepted money from another person to be used to purchase votes.

Woman facing child porn charges

Gleaner staff

An Owensboro woman has been arrested on more than 1,000 child pornography charges.

The Kentucky State Police on Tuesday charged Sarah A. Cox, 25, with 1,064 counts of possession of matter portraying a sexual performance by a minor.

Troopers with Post 16 in Henderson and officers with the Owensboro Police Department served Cox with warrants and took her into custody at her residence around 8:30 a.m. Tuesday.

The charges stem from an investigation conducted by the Kentucky State Police's Internet Crimes Against Children Task Force into the possession and distribution of images of child sexual exploitation. Authorities said the investigation resulted in officers obtaining a search warrant and executing the warrant at Cox's residence in Owensboro on Thursday, Nov. 8.

During the search, detectives seized evidence that was being used to distribute child pornography. The equipment was taken to the Kentucky State Police forensic laboratory for examination, a news release said.

The examination of the evidence led to Cox's arrest on Tuesday.

The majority of those charged with child pornography charges are men, according to Trooper Corey King, public information officer for Post 16. "This is unusual because a female has been charged. You don't see many woman" being accused of disseminating child pornography, he said.

Cox was lodged at the Daviess County Detention Center.

Minister to hear tax evasion term today

The Associated Press

COVINGTON — A northern Kentucky religious figure who told followers the end of the world was imminent will hear his tax evasion sentence today.

Ronald Weinland was convicted in June of failing to pay $245,000 on his $4.4 million income from 2004 through 2007.

The Kentucky Enquirer (<http://bit.ly/RR7hiq>) reported the government wants a five-year prison sentence for the 63-year-old Weinland, who lives in Union. Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert McBride wrote in his motion that Weinland took advantage of his followers.

"Weinland exploited ... members' devotion to him as the Prophet," Assistant U.S. Attorney Robert McBride wrote in a sentencing memorandum.

"Weinland's scheme, lasting many years, perverted his role as a religious leader serving his church to a minister who used his church for financial gain and to escape his tax liabilities."

Defense attorney Christopher Coffman argued in a motion for a lesser sentence that federal guidelines call for only half the time requested by prosecutors. He said Weinland has already been subject to punishment.

"No one who has witnessed the highly public destruction and ridicule visited upon Mr. Weinland and his family will be tempted to engage in similar conduct," Coffman wrote in his motion.

"The indictment in 2011 brought increased media scrutiny and public contempt and significantly damaged his reputation."

Weinland's ministry is known as the Church of God — Preparing for the Kingdom of God (PKG). He has told followers that society is in its "final days" and predicts the return of Jesus Christ on May 19, 2013, though he had previously projected May 27, 2012, as the return.

Concerns about furnace fuel Indiana blast probe

By Charles Wilson and Rick Callahan
Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS — An Indianapolis explosion that killed two people, including a former Henderson resident, and decimated a neighborhood shows some signs that aren't typical of a natural gas explosion cause by an appliance, experts said Tuesday, but it still could have been tied to a faulty furnace — if conditions were right.

Investigators have homed in on natural gas as a possible cause of Saturday's blast, and the owner of the house believed to be at the center of the explosion has said the home's furnace had been having problems. But experts said that doesn't mean homeowners should be worried that their furnaces are about to explode.

John Erickson, vice president of the American Public Gas Association, said it would take a far more serious malfunction than just a pilot light going out.

Few answers were available Tuesday as crews began clearing debris from the streets of the neighborhood where the explosion leveled two homes and left dozens more uninhabitable. Investigators have found no leaks in the gas main or pipes leading into the house that exploded, said National Transportation Safety Board spokesman Keith Holloway. The lines inside the house would be under the oversight of the utility or the state, he said.

Citizens Energy spokeswoman Sarah Holsapple said the utility had found no leaks in its underground facilities in the neighborhood. The Indiana Utility Regulatory Commission had no comment Tuesday.

Residents say they are frustrated by the lack of answers and what they see as the slow pace of the investigation.

"We want to know what caused this," said Bryan McClellan, who was at home with his wife, Trina, and their 23-year-old son, Eric, when the explosion knocked out the windows along one side of their house. "(Gas) is what I think it is, and that's what some of the other people think, but nobody has officially said yet."

ASSOCIATED PRESS

Citizens Energy workers continue their investigation at the site of an explosion at a house in Indianapolis. The search for what caused a massive, deadly explosion that rocked an Indianapolis neighborhood turned to natural gas Monday.

Richard Schreiber, a forensic mechanical engineer with Intertek AIM in Sunnyvale, Calif., said it's usually immediately evident whether the blast was caused by natural gas.

Schreiber said that with explosions involving solids such as dynamite, the center of the blast is tightly concentrated, creating a crater. Explosions caused by flammable gas are typically spread out over a wide area, such as throughout the interior of a building filled with leaking gas, he said.

"If the investigators don't find a crater, that pretty much means it was something other than a solid phase explosion," he said, meaning it's likely to be a gas explosion.

But he also said such investigations can still take time.

More than a dozen home explosions linked to natural gas have occurred in the last two years. Many involved a single home, though more devastating blasts tied to pipelines — including a 2011 explosion in Allentown, Pa., that killed five people and a blast in 2010 in San Bruno, Calif., that killed eight people and destroyed 38 homes — have been reported. A gas leak in a Colorado home last month sparked an explosion that sent five people to a hospital and damaged several homes.

Erickson said more gas blasts are caused by appliances than by pipelines, but even those are rare. Technological advances such as microprocessors and the switch from pilot lights to electronic ignition have made appliances safer, he said. Gas companies have been required since 1970 to add a chemical that smells like rotten eggs to the odorless gas to make leaks easier to detect.

Briefs

Water line repair closes part of Green

A small portion of South Green Street will be closed to traffic today.

Henderson Water Utility will have the right-hand, westbound lane of South Green Street in front of 5/3 Bank closed today for a water line repair, according to Dana Woods, HWU administrative secretary. The street address of the bank is 1555 S. Green St.

Indiana to repair Lloyd interchange

The Indiana Department of Transportation will brief citizens on plans to reconstruct the U.S. 41-Lloyd Expressway interchange in Evansville at a public meeting on Thursday evening.

As part of the project, all traffic signals on the Lloyd Expressway at the interchange are to be eliminated. The northbound and southbound U.S. 41 bridges over the Lloyd will be replaced and a new pedestrian bridge will be provided on the east side of the interchange.

Traffic is to be maintained on the existing roadways during the construction.

The public meeting will take place Thursday at the Southern Indiana Career & Technical Center, 1901 Lynch Road in Evansville. It will begin with an informal open house session at 5 p.m., with a formal presentation at 6.

Caregiver charged with man's murder

BARBOURVILLE, Ky. — An eastern Kentucky woman is accused of fatally shooting a man she was supposed to be caring for.

Kentucky State Police say they have charged

49-year-old Charlene Sue King of Barbourville with murder in the slaying that happened early Tuesday at the home of the victim.

Police say a preliminary investigation found that the owner of the home, 75-year-old Earl Carter of Barbourville, suffered multiple gunshot wounds and was pronounced dead at the scene by the coroner's office. The body was sent to the state medical examiner's office for an autopsy.

Police say King, who was the victim's caregiver, has been lodged in the Knox County Detention Center. It wasn't immediately known whether she has an attorney.

Madison County inmate hangs self

RICHMOND — A Kentucky coroner says a Michigan fugitive being held at the Madison County jail died after hanging himself.

Coroner Jimmy Cornelison told The Richmond Register (<http://bit.ly/SJKNOh>) that the state medical examiner's office has confirmed the cause of 28-year-old Charles Franklin Hoffman's death.

Jailer Doug Thomas said Hoffman, of Hastings, Mich., was wanted for violating his parole.

Thomas said Hoffman was alone in an isolation cell when jail workers found him on Sunday. He said he wasn't sure why Hoffman was placed there, but he did not think he was under suicide watch.

Police ID body found in car trunk

BOWLING GREEN — Police in south-central Kentucky say they have identified the body of a man found in the trunk of a car over the weekend.

The Daily News (<http://bit.ly/XBLZh0>) reports the body of 31-year-old Joey Smith of Bowling Green was found Saturday in the trunk of his car, which was parked at an apartment complex in the city.

Bowling Green police officer Ronnie Ward said police aren't releasing how Smith died, but said his death is being investigated as a homicide.

Prayer rally planned to fight drug abuse

LONDON, Ky. — Prayer rallies are being planned in eastern Kentucky as one way to fight against drug abuse.

WYMT-TV reports the Fire in the Mountains rally will be held on Sunday in three locations — Somerset Christian School, the old Civic Center in Corbin and the Pikeville Expo Center.

Community members and church congregations plan to gather at the locations and pray for the same things.

Staff and wire reports

Specializing in...
Concrete Removal & Replacement Hauling & Excavating
• Dirt • Gravel • Sand • Rock
Robert Waller
270-827-9050 or 270-577-0349

A+ TREE SERVICE

Licensed
Insured
Free Estimates
Senior Discount
Owner, Nick Utley
270-869-4899

Need Life-Health Insurance?
Call 270.827.3505
Auto • Home Instant Quotes!
Business • Life-Health
Medicare Supplements

Vaughn Insurance
315 N Main St • GoVaughn.com

Get Ready For BIG BLUE BASKETBALL!
• Tervis Tumblers
• Koozies • Jackets
Sweatshirts
• Jewelry • Power Bracelets
• License Plates • Money Clips
• Sunglasses • Caps • Bibs
• Burp Cloths, Bows —
You Name It!!
Sweet Pea's 3000 U.S. 60 E.
831-9900
Open Mon.-Fri. 9-6; Sat. 9-5

Thanksgiving Is Thursday, November 22nd
• Centerpieces
• Fresh & Silk Arrangements
• Wreaths Teleflora's Harvest Gold Centerpiece www.odanielsflowershop.net
O'Daniel's Flower Shop
"Always Fresh Flowers"
127 N. Elm St. • Henderson, KY
826-8344

Opinion

“Give light and the people will find their own way”

Visit thegleaner.com to view editorials, letters to the editor and columnists

Editorial

Congress has chance to finish year on high note

The way this year ends in Congress will be a good indication of how the New Year will start. There will be 12 newcomers in the Senate, with Democrats holding a 55-to-45 edge. That’s still short of the 60 votes the Democrats need to break the almost-automatic Republican filibusters that have hamstringed the Senate. It could, however, be enough votes if Senate Democrats are angry enough at the end of the year at what they see as GOP obstructionism to change the filibuster rule.

When Republicans were in charge of the Senate and considered a similar rule change, it was called the “nuclear option.” In any event, it would be a prelude to a contentious year; a weary citizenry can only hope that the 112th Congress adjourns at year’s end on a conciliatory note.

Republicans retain a firm, if slightly diminished, grip on the House with a comfortable margin of 30 or so votes, depending on six races still undecided.

About 70 of the incoming lawmakers will be newcomers, and one can only hope that they are more experienced and more amenable to compromise than the Tea Party-movement-heavy class of 2010.

The intransigence of that class and its willingness to buck its own leadership created this Congress’ — and perhaps the next one’s, too — single biggest challenge, the perfect storm of $600 billion in tax hikes and budget cuts that will hit in early January if nothing is done.

To put pressure on themselves, and because House Speaker John Boehner could not sell a compromise to his hard-core conservatives, the lawmakers voted for $110 billion in automatic across-the-board budget cuts in domestic and defense programs in early January.

The consensus is that this perfect storm would be ruinous to the economy, and Wall Street is already showing early signs of the jitters.

But Boehner returned from the seven-week congressional recess suggesting a possible compromise: While Republicans were unalterably opposed to increases in tax rates, they did favor increases in tax revenues.

The most direct — barring an entirely unforeseen economic boon — way to raise revenues is to clean up the tax loopholes, exemptions and preferences in the tax code.

If Boehner, President Barack Obama and Senate Democrats can pull this off, all the other pending year-end legislation — such as a farm bill, a trade measure with Russia, an airline dispute with the European Union — should fall quickly into place.

The odds may be against it, but the old year could end and the New Year begin on a high note. There are such things as holiday miracles.

Smart dialogue, memorable lines are what make movies sparkle

The missus left after a quick dinner of pesto pizza with spinach on Monday night, leaving with me the promise of a tasty dessert. “Let’s watch ‘Oceans Eleven,’” she said. “We haven’t watched it in a while. At least two months.”

But then she was off to a church meetin’, leaving me for a couple of hours to my own resources. So I turned to Netflix, the online purveyor of you-choose movies and TV shows that can be piped right into your television set.

Ms. Donna had preselected a few dozen possibilities some time ago, and from my perch in the kitchen I surveyed some possibilities. My gaze quickly fell upon the miniseries “Lonesome Dove.”

I’m not particularly drawn to Westerns. But “Lonesome Dove” is a remarkable tale, full of not only high adventure but wonderful dialogue. (Author Larry McMurtry, who wrote the book on which the miniseries is based, didn’t win a Pulitzer Prize for nothing.)

“Lonesome Dove” features the exploits of the cowboys and loafers of the Hat Creek Cattle Co., a shaky enterprise headed by a pair of retired Texas Rangers: Capt. Augustus “Gus” McCrae (played by Robert Duvall) and Capt. Woodrow F. Call (Tommy Lee Jones).

Gus is the likable old former lawman who’s content to survey the dusty environs of Hat Creek — a Texas border town with no evident prospects — from the porch of the ranch house with a jug at hand, unperturbed by the sight of the premises’ disintegrating barn.

Woodrow, his best friend, is the grumpy (why else would you cast Tommy Lee Jones?) workaholic. While Gus loaf, the story begins late one afternoon with Woodrow laboring to break a wild horse in a corral, getting thrown to the ground for his troubles. Pea Eye, the ranch’s blacksmith, scurries out to see after Woodrow, then accompanies him as he trudges toward the ranch house.

“A little early for you two to be quittin’, ain’t it girls? Or is it Christmas?” Gus says, offering Woodrow the jug.

Woodrow takes a swig but doesn’t speak.

“By god, Woodrow,” Gus declares, “long as you worked around horses, I’d think you’d know better than to turn your back on a Kiowa mare.”

“You want to think somethin’,” Woodrow grouses, “why don’t you think that roof back up on that barn, ‘stead of sitting in the shade all the time?”

“Well, I’m glad I ain’t scared to be lazy,” Gus replies.

“Can we eat now,” Pea Eye asks, “or do we have to wait until the argument’s over?”

“You will starve if you wait for that,” their Mexican cook observes sourly.

And so it begins. Soon, Woodrow Call will lead the men of the ranch on an audacious journey. Even in the 1870s, the West that Woodrow and Gus knew as younger men is changing. While there is plenty of wildness and danger, there are growing numbers of towns and farmers as well. As they ride into bustling San Antonio during one part of the tale, they are amazed at what it has become.

Woodrow: “Things sure have changed since the last time I was here. It’s all grewed up.”

Gus: “Of course it’s grewed up, Woodrow. We killed all the Indians and bandits so the bankers could move in.”

Woodrow: “Only a fool would want the Indians back.”

Gus: “Has it ever occurred to you, Woodrow, that all the work we done was for the bankers? Hell, we killed off everybody made this country interestin’!”

It’s bright dialogue that attracts us to movies.

Few are packed with more great exchanges than “The American President,” the romantic comedy written by the brilliant Aaron Sorkin — the guy who gave Jack Nicholson the line, “You can’t handle the truth!”

In “The American President,” widowed President Andrew Shepherd (Michael Douglas) falls in love with beautiful lobbyist Sydney Ellen Wade (Annette Bening).

Douglas’ Shepherd may be the most powerful man on earth, but when he is on the verge of losing Sydney, he is fully cognizant of his fragile position. Shepherd explains the situation to his chief of staff A.J. MacInerney as he prepares to rush out of the White House to make amends and win her back.

A. J. MacInerney: “Excuse me, sir, where are you going?”

President Shepherd: “I’m going over to her house. I’m going to stand outside her door until she let’s me in, and I’m not leaving ‘til I get her back.”

A. J. MacInerney: “How are you going to do that, sir?”

President Shepherd: “Well, I haven’t worked that out yet, but I’m sure groveling will be involved.”

“Casablanca,” too, soars because of the marvelous lines of dialogue, especially the priceless lines delivered by the corrupt French officer, Captain Louis Renault:

“Round up the usual suspects.”

“I am making out the report now. We haven’t quite decided yet whether he committed suicide or died trying to escape.”

“Realizing the importance of the case, my men are rounding up twice the usual number of suspects.”

“I’m shocked, shocked to find that gambling is going on in here!”

And sure, I know that in the 2001 remake of “Ocean’s Eleven,” lead characters Danny Ocean (George Clooney) and Rusty Ryan (Brad Pitt) aren’t too hard on a lady’s eyes.

But there are wonderful exchanges as well. Danny, fresh out of prison, proposes robbing not one but three Las Vegas casinos. But his best friend and partner Rusty, who has been reduced to earning money by teaching clueless young Hollywood actors how to play poker, is skeptical of Danny’s outlandish caper.

Rusty: “Why do this?”

Danny: “Why not do it?”

Rusty shakes his head. He needs a better explanation, so Danny continues.

Danny: “Cause yesterday I walked out of the joint after losing four years of my life and you’re cold-decking ‘Teen Beat’ cover boys.”

Rusty shrugs.

Danny: “Cause the house always wins. Play long enough, you never change the stakes. The house takes you. Unless, when that perfect hand comes along, you bet big, and then you take the house.”

Rusty: “Been practicing this speech, haven’t you?”

Danny (without hesitation): “Little bit. Did I rush it? Felt I rushed it.”

Rusty: “No, it was good, I liked it.”

I like it, too, Danny.

Business Editor Chuck Stinnett can be reached at 270-831-8343 or cstinnett@thegleaner.com

The Gleaner

EDITORIAL PAGE

DAVID DIXON
EDITOR

CONTACT US
Phone: 270-827-2000
Fax: 270-827-2765

OPINION POLICY
The Gleaner’s Opinion Page is an open forum for viewpoints — yours, theirs and ours. The newspaper encourages comments from its readers, either through letters or more lengthy citizen columns. Letters must include the signature, address and phone number of the writer. Only signed, verifiable letters will be published. Questions about newspaper viewpoints or the Opinion Page in general should be addressed to The Editor, The Gleaner, P.O. Box 4, Henderson, KY 42419.

WRITING TO WASHINGTON
1st District U.S. Rep. Ed Whitfield
2368 Rayburn Office Building
Washington, D. C. 20515
Phone: 202-225-3115
Local phone: 270-826-4180
Fax: 202-225-3547
Web: www.house.gov/whitfield

U.S. Sen. A.M. “Mitch” McConnell
317 Russell Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510
Phone: 202-224-2541
Fax: 202-224-2499
Web: www.mcconnell.senate.gov

U.S. Sen. Rand Paul
208 Russell Senate Office Building
Washington, D.C. 20510
Phone: 202-224-4343
Fax: 202-228-6917
Web: www.paul.senate.gov

Nation & World

October U.S. deficit $120 billion

By Martin Crutsinger
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — The federal government started the 2013 budget year with a $120 billion deficit in October, an indication that the nation is on a path to its fifth-straight $1 trillion-plus annual deficit.

A soaring deficit puts added pressure on President Barack Obama and Congress to seek a budget deal in the coming weeks.

The Treasury Department said Tuesday that the October deficit — the gap between the government's tax revenue and its spending — was 22 percent higher than the same month last year.

Tax revenue increased 13 percent from the same month last year to $184.3 billion. But spending rose 16.4 percent to $304.3 billion. Spending was held down last October by a quirk in the calendar: the first day of the month fell on a Saturday, so some benefits were paid in September 2011.

The deficit, in simplest terms, is the amount of money the government has to borrow when revenues fall short of expenses. The government ran a $1.1 trillion annual budget deficit in the fiscal year that ended in September.

Obama's presidency has coincided with four straight $1 trillion-plus deficits — the first in history and a record he had to vigorously defend during his re-election campaign.

The size and scope of this year's deficit largely will depend on what happens with a package of tax increases and spending cuts set to take effect in January unless the White House and Congress reach a budget deal. If the economy goes over the fiscal cliff, this year's deficit would shrink to $641 billion, according to the Congressional Budget Office. But the CBO also warns that the economy would sink into recession in the first half of 2013. If the White House and Congress extend the tax cuts and avoid the spending cuts, the deficit will end up roughly $1 trillion, the CBO says.

The last time the government ran an annual surplus was in 2001.

One of the biggest challenges for the federal budget is the aging of the baby boom generation. That is raising government spending on Social Security and on Medicare and Medicaid. At the same time, the fragile economy, along with tax cuts, has reduced government revenue.

The government is expected to hit its borrowing limit of $16.39 trillion by the end of December.

DID YOU KNOW?

The Mexican axolotl salamander is found exclusively in the lake complex of Xochimilco near Mexico City.

Source: nationalgeographic.com

Across the nation

MARYLAND

Church won't abide birth control rule

BALTIMORE — A top American bishop said Tuesday the Roman Catholic church will not comply with the Obama administration requirement that most employers provide health insurance covering birth control.

New York Cardinal Timothy Dolan, president of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops, said church leaders are open to working toward a resolution with federal officials but will meanwhile press ahead with challenges to the mandate in legislatures and in court.

"The only thing we're certainly not prepared to do is give in. We're not violating our consciences," Dolan told reporters at a national bishops' meeting. "I would say no door is closed except for the door to capitulation."

The bishops have been fighting the regulation since it was announced by President Barack Obama early this year. Houses of worship are exempt, but religiously affiliated hospitals, charities and colleges are not.

Obama promised to change the requirement so that insurance companies, not faith-affiliated employers, would pay for the coverage. But details have not been worked out.

WASHINGTON

Army seeks death in Afghan massacre

JOINT BASE LEWIS-MCCHORD — Army prosecutors on Tuesday asked an investigative officer to recommend a death penalty court-martial for a staff sergeant accused of killing 16 Afghan villagers in a predawn rampage, saying that Staff Sgt. Robert Bales committed "heinous and despicable crimes."

Prosecutors made their closing arguments after a week of testimony in the preliminary hearing. Prosecutors say Bales, 39, slipped away from his remote base at Camp Belambay in southern Afghanistan to attack two villages early on March 11. Among the dead were nine children.

An attorney for Bales argued there's not enough information to move forward with the court-martial.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA

General demoted for lavish travel

WASHINGTON — Defense Secretary Leon Panetta has demoted the former head of U.S. Africa Command who was accused of spending thousands of dollars on lavish travel and other unauthorized expenses, a senior U.S. official said Tuesday.

Panetta stripped Gen. William "Kip" Ward of a star, which means that he will retire as a three-star lieutenant general despite arguments from the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff against the demotion. Ward also has been ordered to repay the government $82,000.

According to the official, Panetta reviewed the Ward matter and concluded that the wrongdoing found by the Defense Department Inspector General, in a report released earlier this year, demanded accountability.

Retiring as a three-star will cost Ward about $30,000 a year in retirement pay — giving him close to $208,802 a year rather than the $236,650 he would get as a four-star.

Wire reports

Police still looking for answers in deaths of 5

By John Seewer
Associated Press

TOLEDO, Ohio — Caught up in a family disagreement over who should care for three young children, a grandmother and her son barricaded themselves and the kids in a garage and filled it with deadly carbon monoxide gas. All five died.

Police spent Tuesday trying to explain the heart-breaking scene discovered a day earlier at the home of 54-year-old Sandy Ford and her son Andy in a quiet Toledo neighborhood.

Firefighters using a sledgehammer broke down the garage door to find the bodies of 5-year-old Madalyn Hayes, her 6-year-old brother Logan and 10-year-old sister Paige slumped inside a car, along with their grandmother and uncle.

A lone teddy bear sits on the steps Tuesday of the home where three children, their uncle and their grandmother were found dead inside a garage Monday in what appears to be a murder-suicide amid a custody dispute in Toledo, Ohio.

Two hoses attached to the exhaust of a pickup pumped gas fumes through the car's rear window.

Police said letters inside the house indicated the woman and her son plotted the murder-suicide, beginning by picking up the children from school Monday morning after their mother had dropped them off earlier.

They also had disabled the garage door opener and nailed plywood over the windows, said Toledo police Sgt. Joe Heffernan. He wouldn't say what was in the letters, but it appeared some were written by the children.

Authorities were called to the home by the children's frantic grandfather after he discovered the letters and was unable to force open the garage door. Despite the grisly scene, investigators found no signs the children were forced into the car and believe all five died of carbon monoxide poisoning.

Around the world

UNITED NATIONS

Symbolic vote condemns embargo

The U.N. General Assembly on Tuesday voted overwhelmingly to condemn the U.S. commercial, economic and financial embargo against Cuba for the 21st year in a row.

The final tally Tuesday was 188-3, with Israel and Palau joining the United States.

Speaking before the General Assembly, Cuban Foreign Minister Bruno Rodriguez railed against the embargo calling the U.S. policy "inhumane, failed and anachronistic."

The United States has made clear that, although some restrictions on travel and remittances have been eased, it is not prepared to lift the sanctions until the communist-run nation enacts more political and economic reforms.

EGYPT

Brotherhood rails against airstrikes

CAIRO — Egypt's powerful Muslim Brotherhood sharply criticized Israeli leaders Tuesday over airstrikes in the Gaza Strip, accusing them of heating up the conflict to score political points ahead of elections.

The latest round of violence began Saturday, with rocket attacks from Gaza militants and Israeli airstrikes that killed seven Palestinians. More than 100 rockets have exploded in Israel since the weekend. The exchanges appeared to die down on Tuesday.

ISRAEL

Assassination policy considered

JERUSALEM — Israel is considering resuming its contentious practice of assassinating militant leaders in the Hamas-ruled Gaza Strip to halt intensified rocket attacks on Israel's south, according to defense officials.

With Israeli elections two months away, rocket barrages from Gaza are disrupting the lives of 1 million residents of southern Israel, pressuring the government to come up with an effective response.

Advocates say targeted killings are an effective deterrent without the complications associated with a ground operation, chiefly civilian and Israeli troop casualties. Critics say they invite retaliation by militants and encourage them to try to assassinate Israeli leaders.

FRANCE

Man gets 8 years for duping aristocrats

PARIS — A man who held sway over an aristocratic French family by convincing them someone wanted them dead was sentenced to eight years in prison Tuesday, convicted of arbitrary detention, using violence against vulnerable people and abusing people weakened by "psychological subjection."

The family's lawyer said Thierry Tilly befriended the woman who hired him at the secretarial school and won her confidence. After telling the family that there were plots afoot to kill them, they sold their ancestral home, apartments, jewels, wine collection, luxury watches — more than 4.5 million euros in all — handing over the proceeds to Tilly, a man they saw as their protector, even their "guru."

The family was in hiding for nearly a decade before two of the adult children realized Tilly wasn't what he appeared.

Wire reports

Syrian opposition figure and prominent Syrian human rights activist Haytham al-Maleh (left) congratulates Muslim cleric Mouaz al-Khatib on Sunday after he was elected president of the newly formed Syrian National Coalition for Opposition and Revolutionary Forces Qatar.

New opposition head gives renewed hope to Syrians

By Zeina Karam
Associated Press

BEIRUT — Syria's political opposition has struggled to prove its relevance amid the civil war under a leadership largely made up of academics and exiled politicians. With its relaunch as a new organization, it has taken a different tack: choosing as its head a popular Muslim cleric who preaches sectarian unity and can fire up a crowd.

The selection of a moderate religious figure, Mouaz al-Khatib, to head the Syrian National Coalition for Opposition and Revolutionary Forces is also an attempt to counter the growing influence of Islamic extremists in the rebellion against President Bashar Assad.

While lacking in political experience, the 52-year-old preacher-turned-activist is described by Syrians as a man of the people — a modest, unifying figure who commands wide respect among the country's various opposition groups and rebels.

A Sunni Muslim former preacher at Damascus' historic Ummayyad Mosque, al-Khatib warned against the militarization of the Syrian uprising and the pitfalls of sectarianism early in the conflict.

"My brothers, we lived all our lives, Sunnis, Shiites, Alawites and Druse, as a one-hearted community, and with us lived our dear brothers who follow Jesus, peace be upon him," he told a crowd of supporters in a Damascus suburb in April 2011, only one month into the uprising.

Now 20 months into the conflict — as Syria sinks deeper in a civil war with increasingly deadly sectarian overtones — it is this message of unity and moderation that many inside and outside the country are hoping the new leaders can help convey.

Under intense international pressure to form an opposition that includes representatives from the country's disparate factions fighting to topple Assad, the anti-government groups struck a deal Sunday to form the coalition headed by al-Khatib.

The coalition includes representatives from the main opposition group, the Syrian National Council, which was harshly criticized by many, including U.S. Secretary of State Hillary Rodham Clinton, for being cut off from rebels fighting the war on the ground and for failing to forge a cohesive and more representative leadership.

France recognizes rebel group in Syria

By Zeina Karam
Associated Press

BEIRUT — France on Tuesday became the first Western country to formally recognize Syria's newly formed opposition coalition as the sole legitimate representative of the Syrian people.

The U.S. also recognized the leadership body announced in Qatar on Sunday as a legitimate representative, but stopped short of describing it as the "sole" one, saying the group must first demonstrate its ability to represent Syrians inside the country.

The two announcements could start a trend toward world recognition of the rebels as the legitimate government of Syria, undercutting whatever legitimacy the regime of President Bashar Assad still has after 20 months of a bloody civil war.

"We look forward to supporting the national coalition as it charts a course for the end of Assad's bloody rule, and marks the start, we believe, of a peaceful just and democratic future for the people of Syria," said U.S. State Department spokesman Mark Toner in Washington.

Under intense international pressure to form an opposition that includes representatives from the country's disparate factions fighting to topple President Bashar Assad, the anti-government groups struck a deal Sunday in Doha, Qatar, to form a coalition headed by former Muslim preacher Mouaz al-Khatib.

NEWS

Talks will test GOP’s focus on tax rates

By Charles Babington and Stephen Ohlemacher
Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Republican leaders say the government can raise tax “revenues” without raising tax “rates.” But they have yet to detail how they would pursue it.

The distinction might mean little to Americans who end up with larger tax bills even if their tax rates don’t change. This politically tricky trade-off is about to take center stage in negotiations over how to reduce the federal deficit and avoid going over the “fiscal cliff” in just seven weeks.

The White House says wealthy Americans must pay a higher tax rate to help produce more revenue to lower the deficit. Congressional Republicans refuse, and many want tax rates to fall instead. But they say they are open to other means of higher tax collections, which might include limits to itemized deductions.

About one-third of U.S. households itemize deductions rather than take the standard deduction. Some of these itemized deductions, such as the one for mortgage interest payments, are popular and deeply ingrained in the American culture.

Sen. Charles Schumer, D-N.Y. gestures during a news conference on Capitol Hill in Washington.

Many Republican lawmakers are tip-toeing around the issue. But Sen. Saxby Chambliss, R-Ga., warns of possibly huge changes affecting millions of people.

Chambliss told the Atlanta Journal Constitution that federal revenues can be increased significantly without raising tax rates, by limiting deductions. But he noted the popularity of the most important deductions, which are granted for mortgage interest, charity gifts and health care costs.

“It can be done, but it’s going to require the elimination of almost all— if not all — tax deductions and tax credits,” Chambliss said. “That’s going to be difficult.”

Congress has raised and lowered income tax rates many times over the past few decades. Currently, a married couple pays 15 percent on taxable income between $17,400 and $70,700. Four higher tax rates apply to incomes beyond that.

The rate a couple pays is only one factor in their overall tax bill. Deductions or credits for child care, charitable giving, medical costs and other expenses can make big differences.

President George W.

Rep. Chris Van Hollen, D-Md., ranking Democrat on the House Budget Committee, speaks during a news conference on Capitol Hill in Washington.

Bush achieved major cuts in income tax rates in 2001 and 2003. Since then, GOP lawmakers have taken increasingly tough stands against letting those cuts expire — as they now are scheduled to do at the end of the year.

President Barack Obama campaigned this year on a pledge to end the Bush-era tax breaks for families making more than $250,000 a year. The White House said he will veto any deficit-reduction package that fails to do so.

Republican leaders say they are just as adamant that no one’s tax rate rises.

Unless one side yields, Congress and the White House seem unlikely to agree on a new deficit-shrinking plan of tax hikes and spending cuts. Without an agreement, a huge package of spending cuts and tax increases, which both parties dislike, will take effect in the new year.

Republican presidential nominee Mitt Romney briefly suggested limiting itemized deductions to $17,000 a year. The plan would have raised $1.7 trillion over the next decade, according to the non-partisan Tax Policy Center. But it would have increased taxes on millions of people, including about 27 percent of households making $50,000 to $75,000 a year.

Now, GOP congressional leaders are suggesting that limits to itemized deductions might be acceptable. But they have offered few details.

Fight brews over curbing filibusters in Senate

By Alan Fram
Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A brewing and potentially bitter fight over Democratic efforts to curb filibusters is threatening to inflame partisan tensions in the Senate, even as President Barack Obama and Republicans explore whether they can compromise on top tier issues such as debt reduction and taxes.

A potential showdown vote to limit Senate filibusters would not come until January. Democrats are threatening to resort to a seldom-used procedure that could let them change the rules without GOP support, all but inviting Republican retaliation.

That fight is looming as the newly re-elected Obama and GOP leaders prepare to use the lame-duck session of Congress that starts Tuesday to hunt for compromise on the “fiscal cliff” — the nearly $700 billion worth of tax increases and spending cuts next year that automatically begin in January unless lawmakers head them off.

That effort will be contentious enough without added animosity over efforts to weaken the filibuster. Unless a filibuster compromise is reached, the dispute could produce sour partisan feelings that might hinder cooperation on legislation when the new Congress begins work in January.

Next Bush a possibility on the 2014 Texas ballot

By Paul J. Weber and Will Weissert
Associated Press

AUSTIN, Texas — George P. Bush, a rising star among Hispanic conservatives and the grandson of one president and nephew of another, has taken the first step toward seeking elected office in Texas.

But it’s unclear what his next step will be.

The 36-year-old attorney from Fort Worth has filed a two-page candidate reporting declaration with the Texas Ethics Commission but didn’t list which office he plans to seek. Bush did not return messages at his consulting firm Friday, and his campaign treasurer was traveling in Oklahoma and unavailable for comment.

Still, word of yet another Bush coming to Texas ballots was cheered by Republicans across the state, where party leaders are well aware that they will need Hispanic voters if they want to continue dominating politics here over the next two decades the way they did during the last two.

“It’s a positive thing to have something besides old white guys like me on the ballot,” said Texas Land Commissioner Jerry Patterson.

A Democrat has not won statewide office in Texas since 1994, but Hispanics accounted for two-thirds of Texas’ population growth over the last decade and now make up 35 percent of its population. Mitt Romney’s failure to connect with Latinos is being cited as a reason for his defeat by President Barack Obama, who carried 71 percent of the Hispanic vote nationwide.

“I think George P. Bush is the future of the party,” said George Antuna, who co-founded the Hispanic Republicans of Texas with Bush. “Whichever office he decides to seek, we will support him 100 percent.”

Bush is the son of former Florida Gov. Jeb Bush and his wife, Columba, who was born in Mexico. His uncle is George W. Bush and his grandfather is George H.W. Bush.

George P. Bush, right, stands with his uncle, former President George W. Bush, left, during the Bush Center Warrior Open in Irving, Texas. George P. Bush, son of one-time Florida Gov. Jeb Bush, has made a campaign filing in Texas that is required of candidates planning to run for state office, an official said last week.

George P. Bush speaks Spanish and has been active in politics for years. In August, he was promoted to deputy finance chairman of the Texas Republican Party.

The filing answers at least one question: Texas or Florida?

Bush grew up in the Sunshine State but met his wife Amanda while attending law school at the University of Texas. He later became a partner in a real estate investment company and has since started Fort Worth-based St. Augustine Partners, a business consulting firm.

As recently as September, Bush said he was being recruited to run for statewide office by Texas GOP brass. That same month, however, he launched a four-day bus tour of Florida to drum up support for the Republican Party among college students there.

“I know he has a passion for Texas. Texas is where his granddad lives, where his uncle lives and a lot of other family members,” Antuna said. “He’s always been a Texan. It just took him a little while to get here.”

Democratic state Rep. Trey Martinez Fischer noted that the Texas Republican Party platform supports English-only laws and opposes extending legal status to immigrants brought to the U.S. as children. He also said the party wants to do away with pre-kindergarten classes and the federal health care law, even though 65 percent of pre-kindergarten students statewide are Latinos and the health care overhaul would extend coverage to 3.3 million uninsured Hispanic Texans.

“Either George P. Bush is going to change the Republican Party of Texas or the Republican Party of Texas is going to change George P. Bush,” said Martinez Fischer, who chairs the Mexican American Legislative Caucus. “When you consider the extreme views and leaders of the party today, I’m going to put my money on them.”

Bush’s paperwork was filed at a time of great uncertainty among top Texas Republicans.

Rick Perry succeeded Bush’s uncle as Texas governor in 2000 and has now held the job longer than anyone in history. Lt. Gov. David Dewhurst has been in his post for a decade. Both are eying re-election runs in 2014.

As a newcomer, Bush will likely wait to see how the field settles before he announces what office he’ll pursue.

If Perry decides not to seek another term as governor in 2014 — a possibility since he may want to run for president two years later — then Bush will likely want to run for attorney general. But if Abbott stays put, Bush is expected to run for land commissioner while Patterson campaigns for lieutenant governor.

Latin Americans want review of U.S. pot vote

By E. Eduardo Castillo and Michael Weissenstein
Associated Press

MEXICO CITY — A group of Latin American leaders have declared that votes by two U.S. states to legalize marijuana have important implications for efforts to quash drug smuggling, offering the first government reaction from a region increasingly frustrated with the U.S.-backed war on drugs.

The declaration by the leaders of Mexico, Belize, Honduras and Costa Rica did not explicitly say they were considering weakening their governments’ efforts against marijuana smuggling, but it strongly implied the votes last week in Colorado and Washington would make enforcement of marijuana bans more difficult.

The four called for the Organization of American States to study the impact of the Colorado and Washington votes and said the United Nations’ General Assembly should hold a special session on the prohibition of drugs by 2015 at the latest.

Last week, the most influential adviser to Mexico’s president-elect, who takes office Dec. 1, questioned how the country will enforce a ban on growing and smuggling a drug that is now legal under some U.S. state laws. The Obama administration has yet to make clear how strongly it will enforce a federal ban on marijuana that is not affected by the Colorado and Washington votes.

“It has become necessary to analyze in depth the implications for public policy and health in our nations emerging from the state and local moves to allow the legal production, consumption and distribution of marijuana in some countries of our continent,” Mexican President Felipe Calderon said after a meeting with Honduran President Porfirio Lobo, Costa Rican President Laura Chinchilla and Prime Minister Dean Barrow of Belize.

Marijuana legalization by U.S. states is “a paradigm change on the part of those entities in respect to the current international system,” Calderon said.

Mexico has seen tens of thousands of people killed over the last six years during a militarized government campaign against the country’s drug cartels.

President-elect Enrique Pena Nieto has promised to shift Mexico’s focus to preventing violence against ordinary citizens, although he says he intends to keep battling cartels and is opposed to drug legalization. Guatemala’s president has advocated the international legalization of drugs.

Monday’s statement by the four leaders “is an important indicator of the desire to engage in a more robust discussion of policy,” said Eric Olson, associate director of the Mexico Institute at the Woodrow Wilson International Center for Scholars in Washington.

Filibusters are a procedural tactic that lets the minority party block bills that lack the support of at least 60 senators. Democrats seem likely to command a 55-45 majority in the new Senate, meaning 60 will still be a difficult hurdle.

Frustrated by the GOP’s growing use of filibusters, Senate Majority Leader Harry Reid is considering a Senate vote in the new year to limit their use.

Democrats say that vote to change the rules would require a simple majority of senators, and they argue that the Constitution lets Senate majorities write new rules for the chamber. That, in effect, would mean Democrats could change the rules over GOP opposition, assuming 51 Democrats go along.

Republicans say they filibuster legislation because Reid blocks them from offering amendments. They also note that Senate rules require that the body’s procedures can be changed only by a two-thirds majority.

Changing Senate rules by simple majority, rather than a two-thirds vote, is rarely done and referred to as “the nuclear option” because it is considered an extreme move that can trigger all-out partisan battling.

Gilmore Inn
Henderson Hotel
601 Washington St.
270-827-9898

- Rooms with Cable TV
- Fridge & Microwave
- AC/Heat

Rooms Starting at $100.00 Week

Bring In Your VENISON
And I'll Make Your SUMMER SAUSAGE

Call Tom Floyd

Tom's Market
DELI • GROCERY • MEAT
1048 Clay St. 270-827-5338

TAKE THIS COUPON TO YOUR LOCAL PHARMACY TO SAVE UP TO 85% ON YOUR PRESCRIPTIONS!

scrips4less

- PRE-ACTIVATED
- DOES NOT EXPIRE

PRESCRIPTION DRUG COUPON

Member ID#:	101000743	RxBIN:	610704
Member Support:	(888) 983-7850	RxPCN:	APSRX
Pharmacy Help Desk:	(877) 277-7934	RxGRP:	FDPE1995

THIS IS NOT INSURANCE - PRESCRIPTION SAVINGS CARD ONLY
This program is VOID WHERE PROHIBITED BY LAW

www.Scrips4Less.com/fdpe1995 ©2012 Scrips4Less

WANTED
HOMES THAT NEED ROOFING™

A select number of homeowners in Henderson and the surrounding areas will be given the opportunity to have a lifetime Erie Metal Roofing System installed on their home at a reasonable cost.

Call today to see if you qualify. Not only will you receive the best price possible, but we will give you access to no money down bank financing with very attractive rates and terms.

An Erie Metal Roof will keep your home cooler in the summer and warmer in the winter.

An Erie Metal Roofing System will provide your home with unsurpassed “Beauty and Lasting Protection!”

DON'T MISS THIS OPPORTUNITY TO SAVE.
Call Now!
1-888-351-9442
www.ErieMetalRoofs.com

NATION

Food labels multiply, some confuse consumers

By Gosia Wozniacka
Associated Press

FRESNO, Calif. — Want to avoid pesticides and antibiotics in your produce, meat, and dairy foods? Prefer to pay more to make sure farm animals were treated humanely, farmworkers got their lunch breaks, bees or birds were protected by the farmer and that ranchers didn't kill predators?

Food labels claim to certify a wide array of sustainable practices. Hundreds of so-called eco-labels have cropped up in recent years, with more introduced every month — and consumers are willing to pay extra for products that feature them.

While eco-labels can play a vital role, experts say their rapid proliferation and lack of oversight or clear standards have confused both consumers and producers.

“Hundreds of eco labels exist on all kinds of products, and there is the potential for companies and producers to make false claims,” said Shana Starobin, a food label expert at Duke University's Nicholas School of the Environment.

Eco-labels have multiplied in recent years in response to rising consumer demand for more information about products and increased attention to animal and farmworker welfare, personal health, and the effects of conventional farming on the environment.

“Credible labels can be very helpful in helping people get to what they want to get to and pay more for something they really care about,” said Urvashi Rangan, director of consumer safety at Consumer Reports. “The labels are a way to bring the bottom up and force whole industries to improve their practices.”

The problem, Rangan and other said, is that few standards, little oversight and a lot of misinformation exist for the growing array of labels.

Some labels, such as the USDA organic certification, have standards set by the federal government to which third party certifiers must adhere. Some involve non-government standards and third-party certification, and may include site visits from independent auditors who evaluate whether a given farm or company has earned the label.

Herdsman Billy Freeman stands at the preserve run by the Sierra Foothill Conservancy near Prather, Calif. The conservancy's beef operation is certified Animal Welfare Approved and American Grassfed, both stringent labels.

But other labels have little or no standards, or are certified by unknown organizations or by self-interested industry groups. Many labels lack any oversight.

And the problem is global, because California's products get sold overseas and fruits and vegetables from Europe or Mexico with their own eco-labels make it onto U.S. plates.

The sheer number of labels and the lack of oversight create a credibility problem and risk rendering all labels meaningless and diluting demand for sustainably produced goods, Rangan said.

Daniel Mourad of Fresno, a young professional who likes to cook and often shops for groceries at Whole Foods, said he tends to be wary of judging products just by the labels — though sustainable practices are important to him.

“Labels have really confused the public. Some have good intentions, but I don't know if they're really helpful,” Mourad said. “Organic may come from Chile, but what does it mean if it's coming from 6,000 miles away? Some local farmers may not be able to afford a label.”

In California, voters this week rejected a ballot measure that would have required labels on foods containing genetically modified ingredients.

Farmers like Gena Nonini in Fresno County say labels distinguish them from the competition. Nonini's 100-acre Marian Farms, which grows grapes, almonds, citrus and vegetables, is certified biodynamic and organic, and her raisins are certified kosher.

The proliferation of labels, Willey said, is a poor substitute for “people being intimate with the farmers who grow their food.” Instead of seeking out more labels, he said, consumers should visit a farmers' market or a farm, and talk directly to the grower.

Since that's still impossible for many urbanites, Consumer Reports has developed a rating system, a database and a web site for evaluating environmental and food labels — one of several such guides that have popped up recently to help consumers.

The guides show that labels such as “natural” and “free range” carry little meaning, because they lack clear standards or a verification system.

Despite this, consumers are willing to pay more for “free range” eggs and poultry, and studies show they value “natural” over “organic,” which is governed by lengthy federal regulations.

But some consumers and watchdog groups are becoming more vigilant.

In October, the Animal Legal Defense Fund filed a lawsuit against Petaluma, Calif., organic egg producer of Judy's Eggs over “free range” claims. The company's packaging depicts a hen ranging on green grass, and the inside reads “these hens are raised in wide open spaces in Sonoma Valley...”

Meanwhile, new labels are popping up rapidly. The Food Justice label, certified via third party audits, guarantees a farm's commitment to fair living wages and adequate living and working conditions for farmworkers. And Wildlife Friendly, another third-party audited program, certifies farmers and ranchers who peacefully co-exist with wolves, coyotes, foxes and other predators.

Alaska ice possible new energy source

By Dan Joling
Associated Press

ANCHORAGE, Alaska — A half mile below the ground at Prudhoe Bay, above the vast oil field that helped trigger construction of the trans-Alaska pipeline, a drill rig has tapped what might one day be the next big energy source.

The U.S. Department of Energy and industry partners over two winters drilled into a reservoir of methane hydrate, which looks like ice but burns like a candle if a match warms its molecules. There is little need now for methane, the main ingredient of natural gas. With the boom in production from hydraulic fracturing, the United States is awash in natural gas for the near future and is considering exporting it, but the DOE wants to be ready with methane if there's a need.

“If you wait until you need it, and then you have 20 years of research to do, that's not a good plan,” said Ray Boswell, technology manager for methane hydrates within the DOE's National Energy Technology Laboratory.

The nearly $29 million science experiment on the North Slope produced 1 million cubic feet of methane. Researchers have begun the complex task of analyzing how the reservoir responded to extraction.

Much is unknown but interest has accelerated over the last decade, said Tim Collett, a research geologist for the U.S. Geological Survey in Denver.

U.S. operators in Alaska, he said, may want to harvest methane so they can re-injected it into the ground. Crude oil is more lucrative than natural gas, which is routinely injected into North Slope fields to maintain underground pressure to aid in oil extraction. Japan, Korea, India and China, however, want to cut down on natural gas imports by burning methane. Japan is setting up for a production test on a gas hydrate accumulation in the Nankai Trough south of Honshu, its main island.

“That will be the first marine gas hydrate test anywhere in the world,” Collett said.

The U.S. Energy Department describes methane hydrate as a lattice of ice that traps methane molecules but does not bind them chemically. They are released when warmed or depressurized.

Methane comes from buried organic matter after it's ingested by bacteria or heated and cooked. The gas migrates upward, under high pressure and low temperature, and can combine with water to form methane hydrate.

Most deposits are below the sea floor off the continental shelf or under permafrost. Shallow pockets of methane hydrate release the potent greenhouse gas into the atmosphere and that process is exacerbated by climate warming.

Brendan Cummings of the Center for Biological Diversity said research money should be poured into renewable resources, not more fossil fuel sources. Methane is 20 times more effective at trapping heat in the atmosphere than CO2, though not as long-lived.

“Any exploration activities designed to extract methane hydrates run the risk of unintended consequences, of unleashing the monster,” he said. Even if methane is extracted safely, burning it will add to climate warming, he said.

The world has a lot of methane hydrate. A Minerals Management Service study in 2008 estimated methane hydrate resources in the northern Gulf of Mexico at 21,000 trillion cubic feet, or 100 times current U.S. reserves of natural gas. The combined energy content of methane hydrate may exceed all other known fossil fuels, according to the DOE.

Not all is accessible, but high concentrations in permeable rock where there's existing drilling infrastructure would be among early candidates for development. The USGS in 2008 estimated 85 trillion cubic feet of undiscovered, technically recoverable gas within methane hydrate deposits on Alaska's North Slope.

Methane extracted from a hydrate well is burned at a drill site on Alaska's North Slope. A half mile below the ground at Prudhoe Bay, above the vast oil field that helped trigger construction of the trans-Alaska pipeline, a drill rig has tapped what might one day be the next big energy source.

U. S. colleges are taking renewed interest in international students

By Justin Pope
Associated Press

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Want to see how quickly the look and business model of American public universities are changing? Visit a place like Indiana University. Five years ago, there were 87 undergraduates from China on its idyllic, All-American campus in Bloomington. This year: 2,224.

New figures out Monday show international enrollment at U.S. colleges and universities grew nearly 6 percent last year, driven by a 23-percent increase from China, even as total enrollment was leveling out.

But perhaps more revealing is where much of the growth is concentrated: big, public land-grant colleges, notably in the Midwest.

The numbers offer a snapshot of the transformation of America's famous heartland public universities in an era of Kedao Wang, 21, of Shanghai, China, a senior at the University of Michigan, walks on campus in Ann Arbor, Mich. Wang, who goes by Keven, bought football season tickets all four years and loves the games, but rarely sees fellow Chinese students at Michigan Stadium. When he first arrived he tried not to hang out only with Chinese students, but his social life has since moved in that direction. New figures out Monday, show international enrollment at U.S. colleges and universities grew nearly 6 percent last year, driven by a 23-percent increase from China.

diminished state support. Of the 25 campuses with the most international students, a dozen have increased international enrollment more than 40 percent in just five years, according to data collected by the Institute of International Education.

All but one are public, and a striking number come from the Big Ten: Indiana, Purdue, Michigan State, Ohio State and the Universities of Minnesota and Illinois. Indiana's international enrollment now surpasses 6,000, or about 15 percent of the student body, and in Illinois, the flagship Urbana-Champaign campus has nearly 9,000 — second nationally only to the University of Southern California.

To be sure, such ambitious universities value the global vibe and perspectives international students bring to their Midwestern campuses.

But there's no doubt what else is driving the trend: International students typically pay full out-of-state tuition and aren't awarded financial aid.

Public universities hit hard by state funding cuts “really are starting to realize the tuition from international students makes it possible for them to continue offering scholarships and financial aid to domestic students,” said Peggy Blumenthal, senior counselor at IIE, the private nonprofit that publishes the annual “Open Doors” study.

Nationally, there were 765,000 foreign students on U.S. campuses last year, with China (158,000) the top source, followed by India, South Korea and Saudi Arabia (the fastest growing thanks to an ambitious scholarship program by the Saudi government).

Altogether, the Department of Commerce calculates they contribute $22.7 billion to the economy, and many stay after graduation.

For the first time in a dozen years, according to IIE, there were more foreign undergraduates than graduate students.

While international students bring revenue, there are also costs, obliging universities to expand services like international advising, English instruction, and even targeted mental health services. There is growing concern about the isolation of international students on campus. Expanding numbers may not help, just making it easier to find a bubble. One recent study found 40 percent of international students reported no close American friends.

Accepting Furniture, Appliances, Building Supplies

Habitat for Humanity of Henderson, NV

ReStore
826-0015

Pick Up Available By Appointment
Tax Deductible Donations
Hours: Tues. - Fri. 9-5, Sat. 9-2
325 South Green St. • 826-0015
hendersonhabitat.org

For The Holidays

• Deep Fried Turkeys
• Smoked Hams

Now Thru Christmas
Doug or Mona
869-4538
827-3496
1112 O'Byrne St.

Post Frame Buildings

• New Construction
• Repairs • Remodels

TOMPKINS CONSTRUCTION
270-521-1005
A Division of Tompkins Hauling & Excavating

Bentons Landscaping, LLC

3156 Stratman Road
Henderson, Ky 42420

For all your Landscape projects, call us:
FREE estimate

Josh Benton: 270-860-0932
Jason Benton: 270-869-5463
www.bentonslandscape.com

Present This Coupon To Receive

$500 OFF

All Shoes In Sale Room
Excludes $19.99 or Less
Not valid with any other discount
Expires 11/17/12

SIMON'S SHOES
Downtown Henderson
270-826-2341

Fresh Baked For The Holidays!

PIES
• Chocolate • Coconut
• Apple • Cherry • Chess
• Mincemeat • Pecan
• Pumpkin • Lemon

CAKES
Fresh Coconut & German Chocolate
• Cookies • Pastries

Golden Glaze Bakery
1347 Washington St.
826-3008

FROM THE COVER

CLIFF
from 1A

ing cuts would cause pain, too. The bleak scenario could push the White House and Congress to reach a deal before year's end. On Tuesday, Congress returned for a post-election session that could last through Dec. 31. At a minimum, analysts say some temporary compromise might be reached, allowing a final deal to be cut early next year. Still, uncertainty about a final deal could cause many companies to further delay hiring and spend less. Already, many U.S. companies say anxiety about the fiscal cliff has led them to put off plans to expand or hire. A breakdown in negotiations could also ignite turmoil in financial markets, Vitner said. It could resemble the 700-point fall in the Dow Jones industrial average in 2008 after the House initially rejected the $700 billion bailout of major banks. Since President Barack Obama's re-election, nervous investors have sold stocks. The Standard & Poor's 500 index sank 2.3 percent last week, its worst weekly drop since June. The sell-off resulted in part from anxiety over higher tax rates on investment gains once the fiscal cliff kicks in. Last week, Obama said he was open to compromise with Republican leaders. But the White House said he would veto any bill that would extend tax cuts on income above $250,000. Republican House Speaker John Boehner countered that higher tax rates on upper-income Americans would slow job growth. Boehner argued that any deal must reduce tax rates, eliminate special-interest loopholes and rein in government benefits. The U.S. government has run annual budget deficits in excess of $1 trillion in each of the last four fiscal years. A report Tuesday showed the government started the 2013 budget year with a $120 billion deficit in October, suggesting a fifth $1 trillion annual deficit is likely. That adds pressure on Obama and Congress to reach a budget deal. Still, most economists want an agreement that would lower the deficit gradually over several years, rather than a sharp cut that could rattle the still-weak economy. More than 50 percent of the tax increases would come from the expiration of tax cuts approved in 2001 and 2003 and from additional tax cuts in a 2009 economic stimulus law. The first set of tax cuts reduced rates on income, investment gains, dividends and estates. They also boosted tax credits for families with children. Deductions for married couples also rose. The 2009 measure increased tax credits for low-income earners and college students. About 20 percent of the tax increase would come from the expiration of a Social Security tax cut enacted in 2010. This change would cost someone making $50,000 about $1,000 a year, or nearly $20 a week, and a household with two high-paid workers up to $4,500, or nearly $87 a week. The end of the Social Security tax cut isn't technically among the changes triggered by the fiscal cliff. But because it expires at the same time, it's included in most calculations of the fiscal cliff's effects. And it could catch many people by surprise. "Every worker in America is going to see a reduction in their paycheck in the first pay period of 2013," Vitner noted. An additional 20 percent of the tax increase would come from the end of about 80 tax breaks, mostly for businesses. One is a tax credit for research and development. Another lets companies deduct from their income half the cost of large equipment or machinery. Mark Bakko, a Minneapolis accountant, says many mid-size companies he advises are holding off on equipment purchases or hiring until the fate of those tax breaks becomes clear. Bakko noted that the research and development credit typically lets a company that hired an engineer at a $100,000 salary cut its tax bill by $10,000. The credit has been routinely extended since the 1980s.

Saying thanks and goodbye

State Sen. Dorsey Ridley, left, talks with Northwest Kentucky Forward president and CEO Kevin Sheilley at Tuesday's farewell reception. Sheilley is leaving to become president and CEO of the newly formed Chamber & Economic Partnership for Ocala-Marion County, Fla.

ROBOTICS
from 1A

connects students, mentors and schools in every community to a variety of successful and engaging technology-based programs. Its goal is to provide programs with services, solutions, and a community that allows them to flourish in a way that fosters the technical and interpersonal skills necessary for students to succeed in the 21st Century. The Henderson County High School VEX team will compete under the direction of Stuart Jones, machine tool and technology teacher, and Donna Waggener, South Middle School science teacher.

FLOOD
from 1A

niture, electronics) and up to $250,000 for the structure (includes electrical, plumbing, appliances, carpeting). For nonresidential structures, the limits are up to $500,000 each. Flood insurance is mandatory if you have a federally regulated or backed home loan and live in a high-risk flood zone. For everyone else, it's optional. But note: New policies do not go into effect until 30 days after purchase. Since 1968, the federal government has run the National Flood Insurance Program, which oversees policies issued by 86 private insurance companies. Its website -- FloodSmart.gov -- makes it easy to check the flooding risk to your home or business. Type in the address and ZIP code and it will instantly tell you what type of flood zone you're in, plus estimated annual flood premiums and names of local insurance agents.

FLOOD
FACTS

- Everyone lives in a flood zone, whether it's a low-, moderate- or high-risk area.
- Every home has some flooding risk, from heavy rain to rising creeks to melting snow.
- Two feet of floodwater can carry away a car.
- Even an inch of floodwater can cause costly damage.
- Basic homeowner's policies do not cover flooding.
- Number of current U.S. flood policies: 5.5 million.
- The most flood insurance policies are held by homeowners in Florida, Texas, Louisiana and California.
- Average annual U.S. flood insurance premium: $613 (both homes and businesses).
- Number of major U.S. flood disasters in 2011: 53.
- Average flood claim: $28,300.

More may be on road this Thanksgiving

By Samantha Bomkamp
Associated Press

NEW YORK — Slightly more Americans will hit the road this Thanksgiving, according to AAA. But they'll take shorter trips to save on gas and other costs as household budgets remain tight. In its annual Thanksgiving travel forecast released Tuesday, AAA predicts 43.6 million Americans will travel at least 50 miles from home over the holiday, up just 0.7 percent from last year. That compares with healthier growth of 8 and 6 percent, respectively, in the last two years. Thanksgiving travel fell by 25 percent in 2008, the first full holiday season after the recession began.

The number of travelers forecast to drive, fly or hop on a train or bus is still 26 percent below the peak in 2005 and 14 percent below 2007. Holiday travel is mostly done by car and a dramatic drop in gas prices could inspire some reluctant travelers to get behind the wheel. The national average has declined 35 cents per gallon in the last month. AAA expects further declines through the holiday, although the price of gas on Thanksgiving Day should be close to last year's record of $3.32 per gallon. AAA says that a stronger economy is needed to spur a bigger jump in travel demand. The auto club believes that trips will average 588 miles this year, down from 706 miles a year earlier. That's partly because of an expected decline in air travelers. But it also reflects a continued focus on saving money. Airlines for America, the main trade group for U.S. airlines expects a mild increase in flying over Thanksgiving, although it uses a 12-day period for its prediction. AAA defines the Thanksgiving holiday travel period as Wednesday, Nov. 21 to Sunday, Nov. 25. AAA's forecast, which is produced from a combination of a traveler survey and economic analysis, was done before Superstorm Sandy hit the East Coast. AAA said it doesn't yet know the full impact the storm will have on travel in the Mid-Atlantic region, but it expects it will be significant.

GENERAL
from 1A

transition in his national security team. Obama put a hold on the nomination of Afghan war chief Allen to become the next commander of U.S. European Command as well as the NATO supreme allied commander in Europe after investigators uncovered 20,000-plus pages of documents and emails that involved Allen and Tampa socialite Jill Kelley. Some of the material was characterized as "flirtatious." Allen, 58, insisted he'd done nothing wrong and worked to save his imperiled career. Kelley, 37, who had worked herself into the center of the military social scene in Florida without having any official role, emerged as a central figure in the still-unfolding story that has embroiled two of the nation's most influential and respected military leaders. Known as a close friend of retired Gen. Petraeus, Kelley triggered the FBI investigation that led to his downfall as CIA director when she complained about getting anonymous, harassing emails. They turned out to have been written by Petraeus' mistress, Paula Broadwell, who apparently was jealous of the attention the general paid to Kelley. Petraeus acknowledged the affair and resigned Friday. In the course of looking into that situation, federal investigators came across what a Pentagon official called "inappropriate communications" between Allen and Kelley, both of them married. According to one senior U.S. official, the emails between Allen and Kelley were not sexually explicit or seductive but included pet names such as "sweetheart" or "dear." The official said that while much of the communication — including some from Allen to Kelley — is relatively innocuous, some could be construed as unprofessional and would cause a reasonable person to take notice. That official, as well as others who described the investigation, requested anonymity on grounds that they were not authorized to discuss the situation publicly. The FBI decided to turn over the Allen information to the military once the bureau recognized it contained no evidence of a federal crime, according to a federal law enforcement official, who was not authorized to discuss the matter on the record and demanded anonymity. Adultery, however, is a crime under the Uniform Code of Military Justice. Allen was not suspended from his military position, even though his nomination for promotion is on hold. The White House will soon be deciding how many troops will remain in Afghanistan — and for what purposes — after the U.S.-led combat operation ends in 2014. Allen has provided his recommendations to the White House and is key to those discussions. Still more subplots in the story emerged Tuesday with news that both Allen and Petraeus wrote letters last September on behalf of Jill Kelley's twin sister, Natalie Khawam, in a messy custody dispute. In 2011, a judge had denied Khawam custody of her 3-year-old son, saying she "appears to lack any appreciation or respect for the importance of honesty and integrity in her interactions with her family, employers and others with whom she comes in contact." Allen, in his letter, wrote of Khawam's "maturity, integrity and steadfast commitment to raising her child." Petraeus wrote that he'd been host for the Kelley family and Khawam and her son for Christmas dinner, and he described a loving relationship with her son. That also indicated how close the Petraeus and Kelley families had been.

EMAIL
from 1A

private law practice. "But if the government is investigating a crime, it has a lot of authority to review people's emails." Under the 1986 Electronic Communications Privacy Act, federal authorities need only a subpoena approved by a federal prosecutor — not a judge — to obtain electronic messages that are six months old or older. To get more recent communications, a warrant from a judge is required. This is a higher standard that requires proof of probable cause that a crime is being committed. Public interest groups are pressing Congress for the law to be updated because it was written a quarter-century ago, when most emails were deleted after a few months because the cost of storing them indefinitely was prohibitive. Now, "cloud computing" services provide huge amounts of inexpensive storage capacity. Other technological advances, such as mobile phones, have dramatically increased the amount of communications that are kept in electronic warehouses and can be reviewed by law enforcement authorities carrying a subpoena. "Technology has evolved in a way that makes the content of more communications available to law enforcement without judicial authorization, and at a very low level of suspicion," said Greg Nojeim, a senior counsel at the Center for Democracy & Technology. The chairman of the Senate Judiciary Committee, Patrick Leahy, has proposed changing the law to require a warrant for all Internet communications regardless of their age. But law enforcement officials have resisted because they said it would undercut their ability to catch criminals. A subpoena is usually sufficient to require Internet companies to reveal names and any other information that they have that would identify the owner of a particular email account. Google, which operates the widely used Gmail service, complied with more than 90 percent of the nearly 12,300 requests it received in 2011 from the U.S. government for data about its users, according to figures from the company. Even if a Gmail account is created with a fictitious name, there are other ways to track down the user. Logs of when messages are sent reveal the Internet address the user used to log onto the account. Matching times and dates with locations allow investigators to piece together the chain. A Gmail account figured prominently in the FBI investigation that led to Petraeus' stunning resignation last week as the nation's spy chief. Petraeus, a retired Army general, stepped down after he confessed to an extramarital affair with Paula Broadwell, an Army Reserve officer and his biographer. The inquiry began earlier this year after Jill Kelley, a Florida woman who was friends with Petraeus and his wife, Holly, began receiving harassing emails. Kelley is a socialite in Tampa, Fla., where the military's Central Command and Special Operations Command are located. Petraeus served as commander at Central Command from 2008 to 2010. FBI agents eventually determined that the email trail led to Broadwell, according to two federal law enforcement officials, who spoke on condition of anonymity because the sources were not authorized to speak about the matter on the record. As they looked further, the FBI agents came across a private Gmail account that used an alias name. On further investigation, the account turned out to belong to Petraeus. The contents of several of the exchanges between Petraeus and Broadwell suggested they were having an affair, according to the officials.

■ Touting the Irish: Notre Dame coach Brian Kelly is now touting his Fighting Irish for a spot in the BCS championship game. 3B

Duke holds off Wildcats

■ Blue Devils win 75-68 over No. 3 Kentucky

Wire reports

Seth Curry scored 23 points and No. 9 Duke held off a furious comeback by No. 3 Kentucky, beating the defending national champions 75-68 Tuesday night in the first matchup between the storied programs since 2001.

Duke (2-0) appeared to be in control, even with Mason Plumlee on the bench in foul trouble. The Blue Devils ripped off a 13-3 run, capped by Rasheed Sulaimon's 3-pointer that made it 58-44 with 9½ minutes remaining.

But Kentucky (1-1) wasn't done, rallying like the defending champ even though this is essentially a whole new team. The Wildcats outscored Duke 17-6 over the next six minutes and actually had a chance to tie it.

Julius Tays missed a 3-pointer with the Blue Devils clinging to a 64-61 lead.

Curry made sure youthful Kentucky didn't get any closer. He schooled freshman guard Archie Goodwin on a drive that essentially clinched the win.

■ Michigan St. 67, Kansas 64: Keith Appling scored 19 points, including a brilliant drive with 13.5 seconds left, and No. 21 Michigan State rebounded from a season-opening loss with a 67-64 upset of No. 7 Kansas on Tuesday night.

The Jayhawks (1-1) led

DAVE MARTIN/ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kentucky guard Archie Goodwin (10) tries to steal the ball from Duke guard Seth Curry (30) during the first half of their game at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta on Tuesday night. The Blue Devils beat the Wildcats 75-68.

59-54 with 5 minutes remaining, showing signs of taking control in a game that was tight all the way. But Michigan State (1-1) rebounded behind its brilliant guards.

Freshman Gary Harris scored 18 points, including back-to-back baskets that sparked an 8-0 run. Down the stretch, it was all Appling.

Elijah Johnson led Kansas with 16 points.

■ Western Ky. 74, Austin Peay 54: Jamal Crook scored 16 points and George Fant had 15 points and 14 rebounds to lead Western Kentucky past Austin Peay 74-54 Tuesday night.

The Hilltoppers (1-1), coming off a 67-64 overtime loss to Southern Miss, were ahead 49-43 when they used an 18-1 run to pull away.

Crook also dished out nine of Western Kentucky's 17 assists and Teeng Akol added 14 points.

AJ Lynch had 15 points and Chris Horton added 12 points and 10 rebounds for Austin Peay (1-1).

■ Michigan 77, Cleveland St. 47: Tim Hardaway Jr. had 17 points and six rebounds, and Michigan advanced to the semifinals of the NIT Season Tip-Off with a victory over Cleveland State.

It was the third straight victory by at least 30 points for the Wolverines (3-0), who shot 51 percent against a Cleveland State (2-1) team coming off an overtime win the day before.

■ Missouri 91, Alcorn St. 54: Phil Pressey scored 21 points and Laurence Bowers added 14 — all in the second half — to help Missouri rout Alcorn State.

■ Connecticut 67, Vermont 49: Shabazz Napier scored 13 points and freshman Omar Calhoun added 12 to lead Connecticut over Vermont.

■ Cincinnati 102, MVSU 60: Sean Kilpatrick scored 20 points and Cheikh Mbodj had four of Cincinnati's seven blocks to help lead the Bearcats over Mississippi Valley State.

■ Xavier 62, Butler 47: Jeff Robinson scored 17 points, and Travis Taylor added 15 points and nine rebounds to help Xavier beat cold-shooting Butler 62-47 on Tuesday.

■ St. John's 77, Detroit 74: D'Angelo Harrison, who spent the two exhibition games in coach Steve Lavin's doghouse, broke out in the season opener, scoring 22 points as St. John's rallied to beat Detroit 77-74 on Tuesday.

Duckworth leads Cols to victory in scrimmage game

Gleaner staff

Kaleb Duckworth led Henderson County with 14 points in the Colonels' 51-46 victory over Graves County Tuesday night in the teams' preseason scrimmage at Colonel Gym.

The teams played five varsity quarters with Henderson County winning three of them. Through the regulation four quarters, the Colonels had a five-point lead and also won the additional fifth period 18-13.

First-year coach Tyler Smithhart played 12 players in the scrimmage, including 10 in the first period. Eight of the 12 scored. Cain Cooper scored eight points in the victory, while David Simmons and Brady Norman added seven apiece.

Peyton Puckett scored

13 points for Graves County. Mason Beale had 12 and Andrew Smith added 10. Smith hit 8-of-9 free throws as the Eagles were 18-of-22 from the line for the game. Henderson County went to the foul line just five times, making two attempts.

The Eagles won the opening period 11-10 despite the Colonels closing with a 6-0 run. The Colonels went on to take the second period 16-10 and started the third period with a 7-0 lead before Graves rallied for a 13-10 advantage. Henderson County won the fourth period 15-12.

The Colonels play Louisville Iroquois in another scrimmage Saturday, Nov. 24 at 1:30 p.m. in the Louisville Male Jamboree, then will open the season Nov. 27 at Evansville Memorial.

MIKE LAWRENCE/THE GLEANER

Henderson County's Kaleb Duckworth gets fouled by Graves County's Andrew Smith as he goes up for a shot during Tuesday's preseason scrimmage at Colonel Gym.

No. 1 Baylor women run past Lady Wildcats 85-51

By Stephen Hawkins
Associated Press

WACO, Texas — Brittney Griner scored 27 points with eight rebounds and No. 1 Baylor easily passed what was expected to be its first real challenge, overwhelming sixth-ranked Kentucky 85-51 Tuesday night.

Odyssey Sims added 18 points with six assists and four steals. Destiny Williams had 14 points and 12 rebounds for the defending national champion

Lady Bears, who have won 42 games in a row.

After unfurling their 2012 national championship banner high from the rafters at the Ferrell Center before the game, the Lady Bears (2-0) went on to build a 46-19 halftime lead against the defending SEC champions who returned four starters and are favored to win that league again.

A'dia Mathies, the reigning SEC player of the year, had 12 points on 3-of-18 shooting for Kentucky (1-1). Bria Goss had 11 points.

Griner missed her first two shots, and put Baylor up 13-8 when she finally scored on a layup 6½ minutes into the game. That started a 2-minute span when the 6-foot-8 All-American scored 10 points, extended the lead to 23-13.

She then made 11 consecutive field goals before missing a short hook shot with just under 10 minutes left in the game. By that time Baylor led 69-33, and Griner was out of the game for good on the next timeout.

The Lady Bears head to Hawaii next, where they play fourth-ranked Stanford on Friday in the opener of the Rainbow Wahine Classic. That is a rematch of last season's national semifinal game Baylor won 59-47 in Denver.

The only other time Baylor played back-to-back top-10 opponents during the regular season was 2004, when they did it twice against Texas and Texas Tech.

Goss made a layup for Kentucky with 7:52 left, it was 25-15. The Wildcats then went more than 5 minutes without scoring until Goss made a 3-pointer.

In the meantime, Baylor scored 17 points in a row. Sims had 10 of those points, including a pair of three-point plays, the later with 3:04 left that stretched the lead to 42-15.

Kentucky's tenacious defense — a pressure, trapping, and often in-your-face attack — forced 22 turnovers. But the Wildcats managed only 12 points off those miscues.

Big East will have East, West divisions

By Ralph D. Russo
Associated Press

The new Big East will have a West Division, and Temple, located in Philadelphia, will be part of it.

The conference revealed its divisional alignment Tuesday for the 2013 football season, when it becomes a 12-team league. The announcement came after the Big East presidents approved the plan at a meeting in Chicago.

The East will have Central Florida, South Florida, Connecticut, Louisville, Cincinnati and Rutgers. The West will have Boise State, Houston, Memphis, San Diego State, SMU and Temple.

Big East Commissioner Mike Aresco said the goal was to keep natural rivals such as Louisville and Cincinnati together and make it as simple as possible for fans to know which teams are in which division.

"I like the East-West," Aresco said in a telephone interview. "I like the clarity of the divisions. I like the identifiability. Some conferences, it's hard to know who is in what division."

Navy will join the Big East for football only in 2015, and the conference plans to add another football member to reach 14.

Commissioner Mike Aresco indicated that division alignment would be readdressed after 2014.

"Despite the fact that Temple will be in the West Division during the 2013 and 2014 football seasons, we will have every opportunity to play institutions from the East Division and be eligible for the first Big East championship game," Temple athletic director Bill Bradshaw said in a statement.

"Beginning with the 2015 football season, there will be two seven-team divisions with the addition of Navy and another football school (to be announced later) with every indication that division alignment will be reconstructed."

Aresco said the conference will do everything it can to ease travel burden for the Owls.

"We will draft a schedule that will minimize travel," he said.

The first Big East championship game will be played at the home field of one of the participating teams on Saturday, Dec. 7, 2013.

Aresco said the conference has yet to decide how it will determine which division winner will host the championship game. The typical way is to give it to the team with the best conference record, but he said having overall records and/or rankings involved in some way is still a possibility.

On Monday, the Big East got good news when the commissioners of the major football conferences agreed to reserve a spot in the new postseason system for the highest ranked team from a group of five conferences that includes the Big East.

The Big East will have to compete against the Mountain West, Sun Belt, Mid-American Conference and Conference USA for a bid in one of three marquee bowls. It's not as good as its current setup — the Big East has an automatic bid in the BCS — but it's better than being left out.

"We're a re-invented conference. This gives us an opportunity to elevate our conference and elevate our brand," Aresco said. "This is all about having the opportunity to show we are one of the power conferences."

SPORTS

Briefs

Marlins trade 3 stars to Jays

MIAMI — A person familiar with the deal says the Miami Marlins have undergone another payroll purge by trading shortstop Jose Reyes, left-hander Mark Buehrle and right-hander Josh Johnson to the Toronto Blue Jays as part of a blockbuster deal.

The person confirmed the trade to The Associated Press on condition of anonymity Tuesday because the teams weren't officially commenting. The person said the trade sent several of the Blue Jays' top prospects to the Marlins.

The stunning agreement came less than a year after the Marlins added Reyes, Buehrle and closer Heath Bell in an uncharacteristic $191 million spending spree as they moved into a new ballpark.

Texans are back atop NFL rankings

NEW YORK — Houston's win over Chicago coupled with Atlanta's first loss of the season sends the Texans back on top of the AP Pro32 NFL power rankings.

Houston receives all 12 first-place votes and 384 points from The Associated Press' panel of media members who regularly cover the league. The Texans improved to 8-1 with their 13-6 win over the Bears on Sunday night.

The Falcons are the NFL's only other 8-1 team after their 31-27 loss to New Orleans, and are second with 362 points. Chicago remains third with 341 points, followed by San Francisco with 339 points, and Denver with 334 points.

Top recruit Parker to wait

CHICAGO — Top high school recruit Jabari Parker won't be signing his letter of intent when the early period begins on Wednesday.

Lola Parker says her son is "not signing." She says he'll probably commit to a school in December and make it official in the spring.

Jabari Parker, who plays for Chicago's Simeon Career Academy, has made official visits to Michigan State, Duke and Florida.

A trip to Stanford scheduled for earlier this month likely will happen in early December, instead, because he's been going for therapy on his right foot four days a week. He's also scheduled to visit Brigham Young over Thanksgiving weekend.

Mid-Ohio added to Nationwide

NASCAR is adding Mid-Ohio to the Nationwide Series next season as the third road course on the 2013 schedule.

The Aug. 17 race will mark NASCAR's return to Ohio, home state of series sponsor Nationwide Insurance. NASCAR last raced in Ohio in 2008 with the Truck Series.

Mid-Ohio joins a June stop at Road America in Wisconsin and an August race at Watkins Glen, N.Y., as the road course events. It replaces Montreal on the 33-race schedule.

The season opens at Daytona on Feb. 23, closes at Homestead on Nov. 16 and returns to Indianapolis Motor Speedway in July.

Ski racing star Vonn hospitalized

Lindsey Vonn remained hospitalized in Colorado on Tuesday with "severe intestinal pain" that has been affecting her for the past two weeks.

Vonn's spokesman, Lewis Kay, wrote in an email that the four-time overall World Cup champion was "awaiting results from diagnostic testing for severe intestinal pain."

Vonn's ski technician, Heinz Haemmerle, told The Associated Press that this isn't the first time the racer has gone to the hospital in Vail.

Wire reports

Johnson, Melvin managers of year

Nationals, A's skippers both led teams to huge turnarounds

By Ben Walker
Associated Press

NEW YORK — Davey Johnson of the Washington Nationals, and Bob Melvin of the Oakland Athletics were chosen as managers of the year on Tuesday after guiding their teams to huge turnaround seasons.

Melvin beat out Baltimore's Buck Showalter for the AL honor in a close vote by a Baseball Writers' Association of America panel. Under Melvin, the A's made a 20-game improvement, finished 94-68 and won the AL West.

Johnson was an easy choice for the NL prize after the Nationals — who had never enjoyed a winning year — posted the best record in the majors and made their first playoff appearance.

Johnson, who turns 70 in January, was honored for the second time. He was tabbed as the AL's top manager in 1997, hours after he resigned from the Orioles in a feud with owner Peter Angelos.

This time, Johnson will get a while to enjoy the accolade.

The Nationals announced this month that he will guide them in 2013, when he will be the oldest manager in the majors. He's set to leave the Washington dugout and become a team consultant in 2014.

"World Series or bust," Johnson said on the MLB Network. "It's going to be my last year, anyway."

Melvin also became a two-time winner, having been chosen in 2007 with Arizona.

Melvin got 16 first-place votes. Showalter got the other 12 firsts, and Robin Ventura of the Chicago White Sox finished third.

The A's were one of baseball's biggest surprises this year, especially after trades and injuries wreaked havoc with the roster. Oakland never panicked under Melvin's cool demeanor and overtook Texas in the final week to win the division. The Athletics lost in the first round of the playoffs to Detroit.

All tied up in the NFL

Rams-49ers stalemate not likely to cause an OT rule change

By Dave Campbell
Associated Press

When St. Louis and San Francisco couldn't produce a winner during 75 minutes of play, the complaints came from all corners of the NFL.

St. Louis Rams running back Steven Jackson (39) runs as San Francisco 49ers outside line-backer Ahmad Brooks (55) reaches for his jersey during overtime of their NFL game in San Francisco on Sunday, Nov. 11. The game ended in a 24-24 tie.

Tie games, after all, aren't much fun for the fans or the players, who finish just as unsatisfied as anyone else.

"I never had to think about it until now, and I sure don't like it," Rams defensive end Chris Long said. "I think everybody on the field would have liked to have gone back out and just settled it, but that's where we are. That's the rule right now, so it is what it is."

The Rams-49ers game Sunday finished at 24-all, the first tie in four years and only the fifth since 1990. So the rule right now that limits regular-season overtime to one period is likely to stay the same for a while.

"It's an occasional event. There is no real concern we need to change the system," said NFL executive vice president of football operations Ray Anderson, who happened to attend Sunday's game in San Francisco and was also present for the Atlanta-Pittsburgh draw in 2002. The other recent occurrence was Nov. 16, 2008, when Philadelphia and Cincinnati played at 13 apiece.

Eagles quarterback Donovan McNabb infamously acknowledged afterward he was unaware tie games were still possible.

San Francisco safety Dashon Goldson said the same Sunday.

"When I saw both sides walking onto the field, I was like, 'Where's everybody going?'" Goldson said. "Did somebody quit? Forfeit?"

Goldson, for the record, knew about the new wrinkle that now gives one team the chance to match if the other team gets the ball first in overtime and makes a field goal. (Touchdowns still immediately end the game.)

"But I didn't know there wouldn't be a second overtime if nobody scored," Goldson said.

Now he does, due to a rare sequence of events during the extra period that kept the two teams even.

The Rams had an 80-yard pass on the first play negated by an illegal formation penalty. Then stalwart David Akers missed a 41-yard field goal for the 49ers. Rams kicker Greg Zuerlein made one from 53 yards, but that didn't count because of a delay-of-game call. His next attempt from 58 yards was wide right.

By then, the anticlimactic ending seemed inevitable.

"Ties just don't seem to make sense in football," said Bengals left tackle Andrew Whitworth, who played in that previous draw in 2008. "There's too much effort, too much sacrifice that goes into this game to end in a tie, that's for sure."

The 49ers (6-2-1) now have a hard-to-figure-out lead on the Seahawks (6-4) in the NFC West, which makes Sunday's outcome all the more maddening.

"A division game? Oh, wow. I guess that could make it interesting at the end of the year," Broncos wide receiver Eric Decker said.

Overtime was introduced at the college level in 1996, and there the teams trade possessions from the 25-yard line until there's a winner. But the time when ties were permitted below the NFL was so long ago that current players never experienced that.

— Washington blew a 6-0 lead and lost the deciding Game 5 of the division series to St. Louis. Voting for the BBWAA awards was done before the playoffs.

Johnson oversaw a diverse roster, one made up of young and old, Washington veterans and newcomers. A four-time All-Star, three-time Gold Glove, two-time World Series champion and the last big leaguer to get a hit off Sandy Koufax, Johnson spoke with a soft, raspy tone but always held his team's attention.

He would occasionally raise his voice — he liked to holler "whack-o!" when the Nationals homered.

Johnson managed the New York Mets to the 1986 championship and later guided Cincinnati and the Orioles. He returned to managing in 1999 with the Los Angeles Dodgers for two years.

Knicks hold off Magic, move to 5-0

Wire reports

Carmelo Anthony scored 25 points, and J. R. Smith and Raymond Felton each added 21 as the New York Knicks held off the Orlando Magic 99-89 Tuesday night.

The victory was the fifth straight for the Knicks, extending their NBA-best start. It's also New York's first 5-0 start since it started the 1993-94 season 7-0 and reached the NBA finals.

The Knicks remain the league's only unbeaten team.

J.J. Redick led Orlando with 18 points, with Arron Afflalo scored 13 for a Magic team that was stunted by 20 turnovers that led to 24 New York points.

The Magic dropped their fifth consecutive game.

■ Raptors 74, Pacers 72: DeMar DeRozan scored 15 points and Jose Calderon had 13 points, 10 rebounds and 10 assists to lead the Toronto Raptors over the Indiana Pacers 74-72 on Tuesday night.

George Hill scored 18 points and Paul George had 12 points and nine rebounds to lead the Pacers, who have lost four of the last five.

■ Bobcats 92, Wizards 76: Ramon Sessions scored 21 points and the Charlotte Bobcats beat the winless Washington Wizards 92-76 Tuesday night to win back-to-back games for the first time since last December.

Rookie Michael Kidd-Gilchrist chipped in with 15 points and eight rebounds before leaving in the fourth quarter to ice down a sore back.

■ Nets 114, Cavs 101: Deron Williams had 26 points and 10 assists, Joe Johnson scored 25 points, and the Brooklyn Nets beat the road-weary Cleveland Cavaliers 114-101 on Tuesday night for their third straight victory.

Roethlisberger has sprained right shoulder

By Will Graves
Associated Press

PITTSBURGH — Ben Roethlisberger left Heinz Field on Monday night with his sprained right shoulder in a sling. When he walks back in ready to play is anybody's guess.

Tomlin called Pittsburgh's franchise quarterback "questionable" but otherwise offered little detail Tuesday, less than 24 hours after Roethlisberger was pounded into the ground by Kansas City Chiefs linebackers Tamba Hali and Justin Houston in the third quarter of Pittsburgh's 16-13 overtime victory.

"He is being evaluated," Tomlin said. "Obviously this injury puts his participation in the questionable category for this week."

Roethlisberger left the game and went to the hospital to for an MRI-exam. He underwent more tests on Tuesday to determine the severity of the sprain to the sternoclavicular (SC) joint in his throwing shoulder.

The SC joint connects the collarbone to the sternum. Treatment can range from a few days of rest and ice to as much as 4-6 weeks according to Dr. Victor Khabie.

Roethlisberger was scrambling in the pocket to buy time on Pittsburgh's first possession of the second half when Houston wrapped up Roethlisberger's legs and Hali slammed into him, driving the quarterback's right side into the damp Heinz Field turf. Roethlisberger didn't appear to be hurt walking off the field but quickly made his way to the locker room before leaving the stadium with the game still in progress.

Dominate the Snow

Western

Snow Plows & Spreaders by Western, SnowDogg and Meyer

Meyer truck equipment
meyertruckeq.com

Morgan Ave, Evansville (812) 477-5555
Hwy 56, Jasper (812) 695-3451

October Salesperson Of The Month In 2012.

Mike understands that product knowledge and meeting his client's needs are the keys to success. Stop by today and let Mike help you make your selection from over 200 economical to one-of-a-kind vehicles.

The DUELL Family's Evansville
mazda KIA VOLVO

Mike Whittedge - 270 869-7422
MWhittedge@EvansvilleKia.com
4000 Division St. Auto Plaza Evansville, IN 47715
812-473-0215 www.EvansvilleKia.com

SPORTS

Why not campaign in BCS?

■ It's an election, and Kelly is touting his Irish, the third wheel in the race

By Ralph D. Russo
Associated Press

Imagine having an election where candidates were criticized for campaigning.

Strange, right? Unless it's the Bowl Championship Series.

Notre Dame coach Brian Kelly, who was an aspiring politician before settling into a very successful coaching career, is currently in the unenviable position of being the third wheel in the race to the BCS title game.

Kansas State leads the BCS standings. Oregon is second. Notre Dame is third. If the Ducks and Wildcats win out, they will likely play for the BCS title on Jan. 7 in Miami, even if the Fighting Irish also finish unbeaten.

"Nobody is jumping anybody at this point, barring voter epiphany or election fraud," said Jerry Palm, who analyzes the BCS standings and basketball RPI for CBSSports.com and runs CollegeBCS.com.

You see, for all the talk about computer ratings, the BCS standings formula is really all about the polls. Two-thirds of a team's grade comes from two polls — the USA Today coaches' poll and the Harris poll. The voters in the Harris poll range from former players and college athletic administrators to current members of the media.

The system is set up for the polls to essentially set the national championship game and for the computers only to come into play when the polls are so close there is no clear consensus on Nos. 1 and 2.

The voters decide, but for some reason the candidates (i.e. coaches) who get dragged into this mess are looked down upon for publicly making a case for their teams.

Some coaches — such as Urban Meyer when he was at Florida and Mack Brown at Texas — have been more aggressive about advocating.

Others, such as Oklahoma's Bob Stoops, have been more subtle and tried to steer clear. Oklahoma State's Mike Gundy took that tack last year when his

Notre Dame head coach Brian Kelly talks with wide receiver DaVaris Daniels during the first half of a game against Boston College in Boston on Saturday, Nov. 10.

Cowboys were jockeying with Alabama for a spot in the title game.

Not until all the games had been played did Gundy make a strong pitch.

"I think that each coach has to make a decision based on what gives his team the best opportunity to play in the championship game," Gundy said Monday. "I don't know that there's a perfect time."

While the coach can only do so much, a school's sports information staff plays a big role.

Kenny Mossman, the former sports information director at Oklahoma now working as an associate athletic director for the school, has been part of a couple of close BCS races. In 2008, Oklahoma beat out Texas in a close vote that determined which team played for the Big 12 title, with a spot in the national championship game on the line.

"I always felt like we had a very fine line to walk there between overtly campaigning and providing the type of information that allowed us to be viewed fairly," he said.

Mossman and his staff would send email blasts to members of the college football media with stats and facts accentuating the strengths of Oklahoma's resume.

Most of the people on the receiving end of those emails didn't have a vote in either of the BCS polls, but they had platforms that could alter the public debate and maybe sway a voter or two.

"What you're trying to do is get to the influencers," Mossman said. "Some may be voters and some may be not."

Mossman said he would always consult with Stoops about the message.

"Ultimately, he's the face of the program and you don't want to make him feel uncomfortable," he said.

Kelly, after saying he would stay away from lobbying a week earlier, decided to tout the Irish on Sunday. And why not?

He pointed out the Irish have the No. 1 scoring defense in the country, and they are the only contender that hasn't played an FCS team.

"If you want style points, look at our defense, look at the schedule that we played: 10 FBS teams," Kelly said. "We'll just keep working on one at a time and let other people figure out where that puts us."

The odd thing about Notre Dame's BCS position is that it belies the perception among many college football fans that the Irish are media darlings and consistently overrated.

The Notre Dame brand isn't going to help the Fighting Irish in this race, and neither will the voters, no matter how much Kelly campaigns.

"Notre Dame is not going to jump (Oregon and Kansas State) without their help," Palm said. "They're way too far behind in the polls. The voters are not on board with Notre Dame."

HEISMAN WATCH

Oklahoma's Adrian Peterson finished second in the Heisman Trophy voting in 2004, the best result ever by a freshman.

Before that, Georgia's Herschel Walker had the best showing for a freshman in the Heisman voting, with a third-place finish in 1980.

Johnny Manziel isn't a true freshman like those two great running backs, he's a redshirt freshman. But his scintillating performance in Texas A&M's 29-24 upset of Alabama on Saturday has given him a legitimate chance to make Heisman history.

Manziel has been putting up Heisman-worthy numbers all season. He's second in the nation in total offense at 379 yards per game and has accounted for 33 touchdowns.

But he was less-than-spectacular in losses to Florida and LSU, A&M's two best opponents before Saturday.

Now that he has a big win on his resume, Manziel has a clear path to be a Heisman finalist and earn a trip to New York for the presentation in December.

Kansas State quarterback Collin Klein is still the Heisman front-runner, but Johnny Football is closing fast.

QUICK HITS

■ No. 1 Oregon could be starting its third-string free safety against No. 14 Stanford after Avery Patterson, who replaced John Boyett, went down with what looked like a serious knee injury on Saturday. The Ducks also played much of their game against Cal without their five best defensive lineman because of injuries.

■ Now that the Big East has gained a path to automatic entry to the new postseason system, which goes into effect in 2014, the next task for the conference will be convincing BYU to join.

■ The winner of the ACC Coastal Division could finish the regular season 6-6 overall.

LAST WORD

"We talked very frankly about it. He told me he had not made a decision, if we go 6-6, despite what all the reports are. Either the sources are wrong or Dave wasn't being forthright with me, and I have no reason to think Dave's not being forthright with me. He's an honest man. He's always been honest with me. I've appreciated how he's handled everything about this." — Tennessee coach Derek Dooley saying Monday that his future with the Volunteers has not been determined by athletic director Dave Hart.

Ineligibles thin out Big Ten's bowl lineup

By Dave Campbell
Associated Press

The turnaround at Minnesota has passed a significant milestone. The Gophers are going to a bowl game.

This won't have any bearing on the national championship, but it's still an important achievement. The Gophers will never be able to crack the conference elite if they don't become a middle-of-the-pack team first.

"It's a good thing for our kids. They've gone through a lot of transition," coach Jerry Kill said Tuesday. "I'm very excited for them."

The Gophers (6-4, 2-4) play at Nebraska on Saturday and host Michigan State to finish their schedule, and an upset in one of those games would give them a chance for eight victories, a feat unaccomplished since a 10-3 record in 2003.

"It was a long route, but we're finally there. In your senior year it feels great to do that," said cornerback Michael Carter, one of a handful of players who wept in the locker room after beating Illinois 17-3 last weekend.

Here's the most remarkable part about the Gophers, though: They became only the fifth Big Ten team to qualify for the 2012 postseason, and it's mid-November. Good for them, landing an opportunity to play in Arizona or Texas, but it's another bad sign of the conference's national standing.

Nebraska (8-2, 5-1), Michigan (7-3, 5-1), Northwestern (7-3, 3-3) and Wisconsin (7-3, 4-2) are the others who've secured an extra game; the Badgers have even clinched a spot in the Big Ten championship game. That's because Ohio State (10-0, 6-0) and Penn State (6-4, 4-2) aren't allowed to participate as punishment for the scandals revealed at their schools over the past two years. Illinois? Already eliminated.

Granted, the Big Ten would have seven qualifiers were it not for the Ohio State and Penn State sanctions, but the last time the league had only five bowl teams was 1998, when there were far fewer postseason contests than the 35 there are now. Big Ten teams filled 10 slots in 2011-12.

Those September struggles the Big Ten endured didn't just sully that proud reputation. Bowl-game bids were weakened, too.

The league went 2-8 against teams from the Southeastern, Big 12 and Pac-12 conferences, plus Notre Dame. Excluding eight victories over FCS foes, two of which were narrow wins by Iowa and Wisconsin over Northern Iowa (4-6), the Big Ten had an unimpressive 26-14 nonconference record.

That included three losses to Mid-American Conference teams. That's two or three too many for the Big Ten, which finished 9-3 against the MAC.

Due to that defeat at home by Central Michigan, Iowa (4-6, 2-4) must beat two of the conference's best teams to make a bowl. And because of a loss at Ball State, Indiana (4-6, 2-4) has to win out with two straight road games.

Michigan State (5-5, 2-4) has arguably the Big Ten's strongest nonconference victory, over Boise State, but the Spartans have lost all four league games in their home state (including at Michigan) by a total of 10 points. They have two more chances to notch that elusive sixth win, but neither of them will be easy.

Purdue (4-6, 1-5) has the safest path to eligibility among the non-qualified, but the Boilermakers just got their first Big Ten victory last week, 27-24 at Iowa.

Lewis: 'Next Great American Golfer'

■ She's first American since 1994 to win LPGA player of year honors

By Doug Ferguson
Associated Press

NAPLES, Fla. — The website for Stacy Lewis refers to her as the "Next Great American Golfer."

That's about as high as any American on the LPGA Tour had reason to aim. It has been 18 years since an American was LPGA player of the year, and go back one more year to find the last American to win the LPGA money list.

Even though the phrase "global golf" is now in vogue, the LPGA Tour was ahead of its time. It has been a magnet for the very best from every corner of the globe for the better part of two decades. The Americans had to contend with the power of Laura Davies, the precision of Annika Sorenstam, the athleticism of Karrie Webb and the influence of Se Ri Pak, who inspired a nation of South Korean golfers.

Who would have guessed that when Sorenstam won player of the year in 1995, she would be retired for four years before an American won the award?

And that's where Lewis comes in.

Sick of hearing that American women didn't work hard enough or were not as dedicated or simply not as good, Lewis set what she thought was a reasonable goal for this year. She wanted to be the top American in the women's world ranking. And when she won her second event of the year in June, she moved past Cristie Kerr to No. 3 in the world, officially making her the "Greatest American Golfer." At least for that week.

But she didn't stop there.

Lewis won in Alabama and started building a big lead in the points-based award for player of the year. Inbee Park made a run at her with a win and runner-up finish in Asia, and it figured to come down to the wire. Lewis, though, delivered her fourth and biggest win of the year at the Mizuno Classic that effectively wrapped it up.

And when Park failed to win in Mexico last week, Lewis became the first American since Beth Daniel in 1994 to be LPGA player of the year.

Lewis closes out her dream season this week at the LPGA Titleholders, which now is more of a victory lap than a sprint to the finish line.

"All last year, there were all these questions of where the Americans were and why weren't they playing well," Lewis said. "I got tired of answering the questions. The only thing I could do is play better and put a face to American golf."

In this July 28, 2012, file photo, Stacy Lewis of the United States tees off on the first hole during the third round of the Evian Masters in eastern France. Lewis is the first American since 1994 to win LPGA player of the year.

American golf didn't disappear entirely.

Julie Inkster, who as a rookie won two majors, returned from having her second daughter and won five majors, completing the LPGA Grand Slam. Meg Mallon added a pair of majors, as did Kerr. Morgan Pressel became the youngest LPGA major champion. Hilary Lunke became the most surprising.

But no American could claim to be the best in women's golf for a single season until now.

Daniel got so sick about hearing and reading how she was the last American to be player of the year that "it started to feel like part of my name."

"Here's my take," Daniel said. "So many American fans are looking for an American superstar so bad that when someone starts playing well, they get grabbed and offered to do outside things. To win player of the year, you have to focus on playing all year long. And there's not a lot of American golfers that focus entirely on the golf course. They're making money off the golf course. Stacy is one of those people who can hold her focus."

There were high hopes for Michelle Wie, who played in the final group of an LPGA major at 13 and had a chance on the back nine to win three majors at 16. Those turned out to be her best years on the golf course. Paula Creamer won her first LPGA event before going to her high school commencement, and she starred in a U.S. win at the Solheim Cup as a teenager. But her lack of power, occasional lapses in putting and injuries have kept her from reaching the top.

How fitting that this would fall to Lewis, who is rarely anyone's first choice.

She made her pro debut at Interlachen in 2008 at the U.S. Women's Open and had a one-shot lead going into the final round, though all the attention was on Creamer, who was one shot behind going into a final round that wasn't kind to either of them. Later that year, all the buzz at LPGA Q-school was Wie trying to earn her card after years of taking so many handouts. Wie made it, and it was a big story.

The footnote that day was Lewis winning the tournament by three shots.

Then again, she's used to that.

Lewis wasn't the best on her high school team. She had to earn her spot on the traveling squad at Arkansas, and despite winning six times her senior year, she lost out on NCAA player of the year. She played the Kraft Nabisco Championship as an amateur and tied for fifth, though no one noticed because Pressel won that year at age 18.

"At the U.S. Open I was overshadowed by Paula, and at Q-school it was even worse with Michelle," she said. "I think I've always been second fiddle. But it fires me up when I play well and all anyone talks about is someone else. That motivates me. That's been the story for me the whole way."

Scoreboard

AIR TIME

TELEVISION

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

7 p.m.: Ohio at Ball State, ESPNU, Cable 514.
8 p.m.: Toledo at N. Illinois, ESPN2, Cable 26.

GOLF

7:30 p.m.: Australian Masters, TGC, Cable 558.
12:30 a.m.: Hong Kong Open, TGC, Cable 558.

MEN'S COLLEGE BASKETBALL

6 p.m.: Wisconsin at Florida, ESPN2, Cable 26.
6 p.m.: St. Bonaventure at Cornell, NBCSN, Cable 549.

NBA BASKETBALL

7 p.m.: Memphis at Oklahoma City, ESPN, Cable 27.
9:30 p.m.: Miami at L.A. Clippers, ESPN, Cable 27.

SOCCER

8:50 a.m.: Russia vs. United States, ESPN2, Cable 26.
1:25 p.m.: Netherlands vs. Germany, ESPN2, Cable 26.

WOMEN'S COLLEGE BASKETBALL

7 p.m.: Cincinnati at Ohio St., BTN, Cable 39.

SPORTSCOPE

BASKETBALL

In middle school action on Tuesday: Daviess County defeated North's eighth-grade boys 46-31. Rob Dawson and Jace Pinkston led North with 7 points apiece.

North's eighth-grade girls defeated Daviess County 48-11. Elizabeth Blanford led North with 10 points and Asia Sims and Emma Lander added 8 apiece.

North's seventh-grade girls downed Daviess County 35-15. Briana Neblett scored 24 points for North and Shyrisa McGuire blocked eight shots.

South's seventh-grade girls defeated Holy Name 31-29. Jaylee Carter led South with 21 points, and Amaya Hayden and Katie Bickers added 4 apiece. Macey Thompson scored 12 points for Holy Name, and Tanner Smith, Jacey Scott and Meg Patton added 4 apiece.

Holy Name's eighth-grade girls beat South 40-26. Casey Sartore led Holy Name with 9 points. Ashley Collins scored 8 and Abigail Arnold and Caroline Newland added 6 apiece. Jaylee Carter scored 17 points for South. Hayley Hope scored 3 and Taylor Piper added 2.

South's seventh-grade boys beat Holy Name 58-45. Connor Duckworth scored 17 points for South, and Tye Calloway added 16. Tyler Durham scored 23 for Holy Name, and Gabe McFarland had 13.

North's seventh-grade boys rolled past Daviess County 51-17. J'Bryant Vincent led North with 8 points. John Logan scored 7, Austin Windhaus 6 and Bryce Easley 5.

GOLF

Results of Tuesday's Bent Creek senior scramble: First, Tommy Givens, Larry White, Jim Buley, Bob Rowland, -11; second (tie), Randy Mays, Lawrence Reed, Tommy McDonald, Herb Redding, -8; Terry Reed, Leland Leslie, Keith Miller, Odie Bradley, -8. Closest to pin: No. 3, Tommy Givens; No. 5, Tommy Givens; No. 9, Herb Redding. There was no putt-off winner.

Bent Creek Golf Course will host its first annual Black Friday four-person scramble, sponsored by Kenny Kent Chevrolet, on Friday, Nov. 23, at 12:30 p.m. Entry fee is $100 per team plus four canned goods and one gently-used men's coat. Proceeds will benefit Harbor House. For more information call 827-7774.

Municipal Golf Course will have a Turkey Day Shootout on Saturday, Nov. 24 with an 11 a.m. shotgun start. Format will be two-partner teams with six holes best ball, six holes alternate shot and six holes scramble. Entry fee is $20 per player and includes green fee and cart. Call 831-1263 to sign up.

SOFTBALL

There will be a men's softball rules meeting Thursday, Nov. 15 from 6:30-7:30 p.m. at Firedome. Players who plan on playing in 2013 may attend. Only those in attendance will have the opportunity to make changes for the upcoming season. Any questions, call 270 454-1480.

The Henderson County Lady Colonel softball coaches will have an informational meeting today at 6 p.m. in the school library. All players planning to try out for the 2013 team should be represented.

VOLLEYBALL

Horizon Girls Volleyball Association (HGVA) will have evaluations for girls in fifth grade through 18 years old on Saturday, Nov. 17 from 9 a.m. until noon and on Sunday, Nov. 18 in two sessions from 1-3 p.m. and 3-5 p.m. at the Henderson County High School auxiliary gym. Coaches will determine session time for players on Saturday at the end of the first evaluation session. Fee to tryout is $40. Club season begins the first week of January and will continue through the end of April. For more information, contact Sean Troy at seantrout@insightbb.com or 270-320-1862 or visit http://hgvavolleyball.net

BASKETBALL

Season passes for Henderson County High School boys and girls basketball are on sale in the athletic office from 2-6 p.m. Monday through Friday. Costs are: Colonel/Lady Colonel varsity/JV combo pass, $50; Varsity/JV Colonel pass, $25; Varsity/JV Lady Colonel pass, $25; Freshman Colonel/Lady Colonel combo pass, $25; Freshman Colonel pass, $12; Freshman Lady Colonel pass, $10.

The Henderson County Family YMCA is offering a youth basketball league for boys and girls ages 3-4 (must not turn 5 before Feb. 9, 2013) and 5-6 (must not turn 7 before Feb. 9, 2013) to be held on Saturday mornings starting Jan. 5 for 6 weeks. Registration deadline is Wednesday, Dec. 12. Cost is $30 for Y family members, $35 for Y youth members or $40 for non-members (add $5 after Dec. 5). Register at the YMCA or call 827-9622 for more information.

RUNNING

The Reindeer Run 5K Walk/Run will be held Saturday, Dec. 15, at 8:30 a.m. at Audubon State Park. Registration forms are available at the Audubon State Park office and on the parks.ky.gov events listing. Costs are $15 (run) and $10 (walk) if registered by Dec. 14 ($20 run and $15 walk on day of race). For more information contact Mark Kellen at (270) 826-2247 or mark.kellen@ky.gov.

COLLEGE FOOTBALL

TOP 25 SCHEDULE

All Times CST

Saturday

No. 1 Oregon vs. No. 14 Stanford, 7 p.m.
No. 2 Kansas State at Baylor, 7 p.m.
No. 3 Notre Dame vs. Wake Forest, 2:30 p.m.
No. 4 Alabama vs. Western Carolina, 11:21 a.m.
No. 5 Georgia vs. Georgia Southern, 12:30 p.m.
No. 6 Ohio State at Wisconsin, 2:30 p.m.
No. 7 Florida vs. Jacksonville State, noon
No. 8 LSU vs. Mississippi, 2:30 p.m.
No. 9 Texas A&M vs. Sam Houston State, 2:30 p.m.

No. 10 Florida State at Maryland, 11 a.m.
No. 11 Clemson vs. NC State, 2:30 p.m.
No. 12 South Carolina vs. Wofford, noon
No. 13 Oklahoma at West Virginia, 6 p.m.
No. 15 Oregon State vs. California, 9:30 p.m.
No. 16 Nebraska vs. Minnesota, 2:30 p.m.
No. 17 UCLA vs. No. 21 Southern Cal, 2 p.m.
No. 19 Louisiana Tech vs. Utah State, 3 p.m.
No. 22 Rutgers at Cincinnati, 11 a.m.
No. 23 Michigan vs. Iowa, 11 a.m.
No. 23 Texas Tech at Oklahoma State, 2:30 p.m.
No. 25 Kent State at Bowling Green, 11 a.m.

FCS COACHES POLL

SPARTANBURG, S.C. AP) — The top 25 teams in the Coaches Football Championship Subdivision poll, with first-place votes in parentheses, records through Nov. 11 and previous ranking:

	Record	Pts	Pvs
1. North Dakota St. (24)	9-1	646	1
2. Montana State	9-1	619	2
3. Sam Houston St. (2)	8-2	597	3
4. Old Dominion	9-1	578	4
5. Eastern Washington	8-2	537	6
6. Georgia Southern	8-2	521	7
7. New Hampshire	8-2	466	10
8. Appalachian State	8-3	443	12
9. Wofford	8-2	408	14
10. Central Arkansas	8-2	397	13
11. Illinois State	8-2	343	15
12. Lehigh	9-1	327	5
13. Stony Brook	9-2	300	8
14. James Madison	7-3	293	9
15. Northern Arizona	8-2	279	11
16. Towson	6-4	257	17
17. Eastern Kentucky	8-3	246	18
18. Cal Poly	8-2	240	19
19. Indiana State	7-3	176	21
20. Richmond	7-3	152	23
21. Villanova	7-3	128	25
22. Bethune-Cookman	8-2	117	22
23. South Dakota State	7-3	98	20
24. Harvard	7-2	65	16
25. Eastern Illinois	7-3	39	-

Others receiving votes: Tennessee State 35, Samford 33, Colgate 33, Albany 18, Sacramento State 8, UT Martin 8, The Citadel 7, Wagner 6, Arkansas Pine Bluff 5, Southern Illinois 4, Jackson State 2, Pennsylvania 2, Southeastern Louisiana 1, Youngstown State 1.

NATIONAL FOOTBALL LEAGUE

NFL STANDINGS

AMERICAN CONFERENCE

East	W	L	T	Pct	PF	PA
New England	6	3	0	.667	299	201
Miami	4	5	0	.444	173	186
N.Y. Jets	3	6	0	.333	175	228
Buffalo	3	6	0	.333	211	285
South	W	L	T	Pct	PF	PA
Houston	8	1	0	.889	250	143
Indianapolis	6	3	0	.667	186	201
Tennessee	4	6	0	.400	219	311
Jacksonville	1	8	0	.111	127	246
North	W	L	T	Pct	PF	PA
Baltimore	7	2	0	.778	254	196
Pittsburgh	6	3	0	.667	207	173
Cincinnati	4	5	0	.444	220	231
Cleveland	2	7	0	.222	169	211
West	W	L	T	Pct	PF	PA
Denver	6	3	0	.667	271	189
San Diego	4	5	0	.444	209	191
Oakland	3	6	0	.333	191	284
Kansas City	1	8	0	.111	146	256

NATIONAL CONFERENCE

East	W	L	T	Pct	PF	PA
N.Y. Giants	6	4	0	.600	267	216
Dallas	4	5	0	.444	188	204
Philadelphia	3	6	0	.333	156	221
Washington	3	6	0	.333	226	248
South	W	L	T	Pct	PF	PA
Atlanta	8	1	0	.889	247	174
Tampa Bay	5	4	0	.556	260	209
New Orleans	4	5	0	.444	249	256
Carolina	2	7	0	.222	163	216
North	W	L	T	Pct	PF	PA
Chicago	7	2	0	.778	242	133
Green Bay	6	3	0	.667	239	187
Minnesota	6	4	0	.600	238	221
Detroit	4	5	0	.444	216	222
West	W	L	T	Pct	PF	PA
San Francisco	6	2	1	.722	213	127
Seattle	6	4	0	.600	198	161
Arizona	4	5	0	.444	144	173
St. Louis	3	5	1	.389	161	210

Thursday, Nov. 15

Miami at Buffalo, 7:20 p.m.
Sunday, Nov. 18
Cleveland at Dallas, noon
N.Y. Jets at St. Louis, noon
Jacksonville at Houston, noon
Cincinnati at Kansas City, noon
Philadelphia at Washington, noon
Green Bay at Detroit, noon
Arizona at Atlanta, noon
Tampa Bay at Carolina, noon
New Orleans at Oakland, 3:05 p.m.
San Diego at Denver, 3:25 p.m.
Indianapolis at New England, 3:25 p.m.
Baltimore at Pittsburgh, 7:20 p.m.
Open: Minnesota, N.Y. Giants, Seattle, Tennessee

Monday, Nov. 19

Chicago at San Francisco, 7:30 p.m.

AP PRO32-POWER RANKINGS

The Associated Press Pro32 NFL Power Rankings, as voted by a 12-member panel, with first-place votes in parentheses, records through Nov. 13, total points based on 32 points for a first-place vote through one point for a 32nd-place vote, and previous ranking:

	W	L	T	Pts	Pvs
1. Houston Texans (12)	8	1	0	384	2
2. Atlanta Falcons	8	1	0	362	1
3. Chicago Bears	7	2	0	341	3
4. San Francisco 49ers	6	2	1	339	4
5. Denver Broncos	6	3	0	334	8
6. Green Bay Packers	6	3	0	326	5
7. Baltimore Ravens	7	2	0	324	9
8. New England Patriots	6	3	0	316	6
9. Pittsburgh Steelers	6	3	0	295	10
10. New York Giants	6	4	0	269	6
11. Seattle Seahawks	6	4	0	264	11
12. Indianapolis Colts	6	3	0	254	12
13. New Orleans Saints	4	5	0	229	17
13. T.B. Buccaneers	5	4	0	229	14
15. Minnesota Vikings	6	4	0	226	18
16. Dallas Cowboys	4	5	0	201	22
17. Cincinnati Bengals	4	5	0	181	29
18. Detroit Lions	4	5	0	176	13
19. San Diego Chargers	4	5	0	174	16
20. Miami Dolphins	4	5	0	150	15
21. Arizona Cardinals	4	5	0	131	21
22. Washington Redskins	3	6	0	119	23
23. Tennessee Titans	4	6	0	115	29
24. Philadelphia Eagles	3	6	0	113	20
25. St. Louis Rams	3	5	1	112	26
26. New York Jets	3	6	0	87	24
27. Buffalo Bills	3	6	0	82	28
28. Carolina Panthers	2	7	0	72	25
29. Cleveland Browns	2	7	0	49	30
30. Oakland Raiders	3	6	0	44	27
31. Kansas City Chiefs	1	8	0	24	32
32. Jacksonville Jaguars	1	8	0	14	31

HORSE RACING

CHURCHILL DOWNS

Today's Entries

Post time: 11:40 a.m.

FIRST — $21,000 starter allowance 3 yrs&up 7f
1 Homebodykris, Cohen/Moquett 3/1
2 George Ray, Vazquez/Ward 12/1
3 Ide Ball, Goncalves/Amoss 5/2
4 On Lockdown, Thompson/Moquett 12/1
5 King of Lourdes, Mena/Lovell 7/2
6 Forty Nine Watts, Castanon/Frost 3/1
7 Ivy Connection, Bridgmohan/Brownfield 8/1
SECOND — $39,500 claiming 3yos&up 1/16m
1 Son of a General, Thompson/Vance 5/1
2 Tycoon, Borel/Glyshaw 4/1
3 Stay Put, Hernandez, Jr./Margolis 2/1
4 Wealth to Me, Kuntzweiler/Ford 7/2
5 Sun Bear, Vazquez/Crouch 12/1
6 Watch My Smoke, Bridgmohan/Amoss 5/2
THIRD — $24,000 maiden claiming f&m 3yos&up 6f
1 Carli's Song, Goncalves/La Mew 20/1
2 Desi Dawn, Rossin/Frost 20/1
3 Kiss Me Darlin', Lanerie/Peery 5/1
4 Twistin Storm, Hernandez, Jr./Wilkes 4/1
5 Toprettyforwards, Fayos/Hughes 20/1
6 Malibu Custodie, Albarado/Good 6/1
7 Blue Cliff, Mastano/Scherer 5/1
8 Valentine City, McKee/Laugherty 6/1
9 Irma La Duce, Adam/Dennis 12/1
10 Ginny Weasley, Pedroza/Hughes 6/1
11 Ready for Kisses, Borel/Hanna 6/1
FOURTH — $22,500 claiming 3yos&up 1/16m
1 He's Got the Facts, Mena/Mogge 8/1
2 Notorious, Court/Oliver 3/1
3 Atlantic Titan, Lanerie/Kohnhorst 4/1
4 Silver Wins, Borel/Glyshaw 6/1
5 Sincirone, Bridgmohan/Zito 5/2
6 Outfittsoutfirmed, Hernandez, Jr./Sims 5/1
7 Discusion Closed, Lebron/Demeritte 6/1
FIFTH — $52,000 allowance f&m 3yos&up 1/1&m turf
1 Tree Hugger, Goncalves/Chudzik 12/1
2 Grand Style, Castanon/Arnold, II 12/1
3 Heart of Destiny, Mena/Baker 7/2
4 Kazoom, Fayos/Preston 12/1
5 Archetype, Hernandez, Jr./Arnold, II 3/1
6 Satyana, Lanerie/Maker 4/1
7 Corleone, Bridgmohan/Lopresti 7/2
8 Madoffwiththecash, Rocco, Jr./Reed 15/1
9 Bourbonesque, Court/Lukas 20/1

10 I'm Your Luvr, Lebron/McPeek 15/1
SIXTH — $24,000 maiden claiming 2yos 6f
1 New Found King, Fayos/Draper 20/1
2 Macho Matt, Pedroza/Hughes 15/1
3 Pegasus Flyer, Rocco, Jr./Gorder 12/1
4 Strapping, Borel/Hanna 12/1
5 River Cruising, Kuntzweiler/Stall, Jr. 2/1
6 Belroyalty, Castanon/Calhoun 8/1
7 Officer Griffin, Pompell/Engler 12/1
8 Ronson, Lebron/Deegan 8/1
9 Recon, McKee/Connelly 12/1
10 K. O. Plus, Goncalves/Pitts 5/1
11 Thanks Bro, Thompson/Jones 12/1
12 Little Cordelia, Tamburello/Taylor 20/1
13 I'am Toorific, Canchano/McCarty 20/1
14 Chambord Castle, Saez/Fawkes 7/2
5 Franderella, Franklin/Klopp 6/1
6 Aghamora, Castanon/Rangel 8/1
7 Spittin' Feathers, Hernandez/O'Connor 5/1
8 Razzeberry, Creed/Ollier 20/1
9 Pampering, Mena/Baker 4/1
10 Tart's Knickers, Pedroza/Butler 6/1
EIGHTH — $50,000 maiden special weight f&m 3yos&up 6f
1 Cue E Dee, Albarado/McGee 12/1
2 Nifty Shindig, Mena/Kenneally 7/2
3 Play the Devil, Bridgmohan/Lopresti 4/1
4 X Country Girl, Gonzalez, Jr./Fuchs 30/1
5 Hillary D, Goncalves/Foley 9/2
6 Hold the Presses, Canchano/Richardson 20/1
7 Spirit Ofa Warrior, Hernandez, Jr./Wilkes 20/1
8 Saturday Blues, Rocco, Jr./Brody 6/1
9 Twinkle Littlestar, Pedroza/Pinzo 5/1
10 Ayita, Lanerie/Proctor 6/1
11 The Bird Is Love, Borel/March 15/1
12 Betty's K, Kelly/Barker 50/1
NINTH — $52,000 allowance f&m 3yos&up 1/16m turf
1 Street Savy, Lanerie/Romans 5/1
2 Rave Reviews, Mena/Clarkson 8/1
3 Debase the Dollar, Bridgmohan/Mott 3/1
4 Glamour N Glory, Rocco, Jr./Fawkes 7/2
5 Lady Aphrodite, Saez/Terranova, II 20/1
6 High On Kitten, Borel/Ward 12/1
7 Bandi's Gal, Stephen/Bealmeier 50/1
8 A Time to Love, Albarado/Scherer 5/1
9 Annie Russell, Hernandez, Jr./Arnold, II 10/1
10 Constrictor, Goncalves/Gray 5/1
10TH — $14,000 maiden claiming 3yos&up 1/16m
1 Restless Dreams, Fayos/Ennis 30/1
2 Shut Down Corner, Goncalves/Simms 4/1
3 Jan's Bird, Pedroza/McGee 10/1
4 Gator Camp, Borel/Gowan 20/1
5 Artillery, Lanerie/Montano, Sr. 7/2
6 Pride Rock, Castanon/Mott 5/1
7 West Side Drive, Mena/Mackey 20/1
8 Meadow Cat, Rocco, Jr./Hamm 15/1
9 Ruthless Empire, Cohen/Romans 4/1
10 Le Corsaire, Saez/Obert 30/1
11 Frederico, Bridgmohan/Carroll 4/1
12 Red Harley, Chavez/Girdley 50/1

COLLEGE BASKETBALL

TUESDAY'S GAMES
EAST
Bucknell 61, George Mason 56
Mount St. Mary's 70, Hartford 63
New Hampshire 72, Dartmouth 58
Niagara 86, St. Francis (Pa.) 69
Northeastern 67, Princeton 66
St. John's 77, Detroit 74
Stony Brook 54, Rider 46
UConn 67, Vermont 49
UMass 67, Harvard 64
SOUTH
Belmont 88, Maryville (Mo.) 49
Berea 102, Crown (Tenn.) 65
Duke 75, Kentucky 68
East Carolina 87, Methodist 51
Elon 95, Bridgewater (Va.) 51
Florida Gulf Coast 63, Miami 51
Furman 90, Southern Wesleyan 71
High Point 86, Appalachian St. 64
Jacksonville 78, Trinity Baptist 48
LSU 73, McNeese St. 48
Michigan St. 67, Kansas 64
Middle Tennessee 58, Savannah St. 55
Mississippi 90, Coastal Carolina 72
Mississippi St. 78, FAU 58
Richmond 101, UNC Wilmington 58
Stetson 88, Florida A&M 66
Tulane 65, Bethune-Cookman 55
UCF 85, Alabama St. 56
VMI 116, Cent. Pennsylvania 81
W. Kentucky 74, Austin Peay 54
Wichita St. 53, VCU 51
Xavier (NO) 73, Loyola NO 67
MIDWEST
Chicago St. 81, Concordia (Ill.) 65
Cincinnati 102, MVSU 60
IPFW 73, Rochester (Mich.) 56
Indiana St. 66, Winthrop 55
Indiana-East 107, Union (Ky.) 100
Miami (Ohio) 80, Grambling St. 54
Missouri 91, Alcorn St. 54
Northwestern 79, Texas Southern 49
S. Dakota St. 78, Tennessee St. 71
Temple 80, Kent St. 66
UMKC 99, Lincoln (Mo.) 64
Valparaiso 69, N. Illinois 65
W. Michigan 85, Marygrove 40
Wright St. 56, E. Illinois 44
Xavier 62, Butler 47
SOUTHWEST
Arkansas St. 76, Ark.-Monticello 47
Cent. Arkansas 108, Hendrix 65
Prairie View 91, Arlington Baptist 38
Sam Houston St. 82, Hardin-Simmons 31
Texas St. 86, Texas-Tyler 66
FAR WEST
BYU 80, Georgia St. 62
Gonzaga 84, West Virginia 50
Hawaii 73, Houston Baptist 60
New Mexico 86, Davidson 81

NIT SEASON TIPOFF-EAST
Third Place
Robert Morris 74, Fordham 58
NIT SEASON TIPOFF-MIDWEST
Third Place
North Texas 74, Lamar 59
NIT SEASON TIPOFF-NORTH
Championship
Michigan 77, Cleveland St. 47
Third Place
IUPUI 80, Bowling Green 66
NIT SEASON TIPOFF-SOUTH
Championship
Delaware 59, Virginia 53
Third Place
Fairfield 62, Penn 53

Business

Don't call Ford's new sliding-door vehicle a minivan

By Dee-Ann Durbin
Associated Press

DEARBORN, Mich. — It looks like a minivan. It has sliding doors like a minivan. So why isn't Ford calling its new seven-seater a minivan?

For the same reason you don't wear mom jeans or listen to Barry Manilow: It's not cool.

The Transit Connect Wagon will debut later this month at the Los Angeles Auto Show. It's set to go on sale late next fall.

To the average buyer — or, in fact, to everyone outside of Ford

Motor Co. — it will appear that Ford is getting back into the minivan business after a six-year hiatus. The Transit Connect Wagon, which is based on Ford's Transit Connect commercial van, has the high roof of the van but trades its industrial-looking hood for the tapered nose and trapezoid grille of Ford's cars. It has sliding doors on both sides and comes in five-seat and seven-seat versions.

The new vehicle will have two four-cylinder engine options, one of which will get 30 miles per gallon or more on the highway. That would make it the most fuel-efficient minivan on the market — if it was a minivan. But Ford insists it's not.

"It's anything but a minivan," said David Mondragon, Ford's general manager of marketing. "In our mind, it's a people mover. We think of it as more of a utility, or kind of a hybrid sport utility, than a minivan."

Mondragon says the m-word is too polarizing and turns off Ford's target customers: 30- to 42-year-old parents who grew up with minivans and like their utility but don't want to sacrifice style. At one point, Ford even considered calling the wagon a "you-tility," but it turned out another carmaker already had dibs on that one.

The Transit Connect Wagon has a different look than the average minivan. The roof is higher, the windshield has a steeper slant and it's got a sturdier, more industrial look.

But more importantly for Ford, the Transit Connect Wagon will be priced like a minivan. The company's current seven-seaters, the Flex wagon and Explorer SUV, cost $30,000 or higher. While Ford isn't releasing a price for the new vehicle yet, Mondragon says it will compete at the lower end of the market with vehicles like the Dodge Grand Caravan, a minivan that starts at $19,995.

Dealers say the vehicle fills a void in Ford's lineup. The company stopped making the Freestar minivan in 2006, citing falling demand as customers swarmed to new crossovers like the Ford Escape. But the decision cost it some customers who needed the utility of a minivan, says Terry Kidd, who owns Kidd Ford Lincoln in Morrison, Tenn.

The Market in Review

STOCKS OF LOCAL INTEREST

Ticker	Ex	Div	Yld	PE	Last	Chg	YTD Chg %Chg
AT&T Inc	NY	1.80	5.3	44	33.95	+0.8	+12.3
AhtLab	NY	2.04	3.2	14	64.68	-1.9	+15.0
Accuride	NY	dd	2.42	+0.4	-66.0
Agrium g	NY	2.00	2.1	12	96.81	+7.6	+44.3
Airgas	NY	1.60	1.8	21	87.27	+6.0	+11.8
AlcatelLuc	NY	*	1.11	-0.2	-28.8
Alcoa	NY	.12	1.4	52	8.31	-1.2	-3.9
AllinceRes	Nasd	4.34	7.9	9	54.89	-2.31	-27.4
AmExp	NY	.80	1.5	13	54.74	-7.8	+16.0
AGreet	NY	.60	3.5	20	17.06	...	+36.4
Ameriprise	NY	1.80	3.1	13	58.55	+1.6	+17.9
Apple Inc	Nasd	10.60	2.0	12	542.90	+0.7	+34.0
ArchDn	NY	7.0	2.8	16	24.89	-1.9	-13.0
Ashland	NY	.90	1.3	cc	71.95	-1.2	+25.9
ATMOS	NY	1.40	4.1	14	34.23	+0.5	+2.6
BP PLC	NY	1.92	4.7	6	40.54	-4.1	-5.1
Belo	NY	.32	4.4	8	7.30	-0.08	+15.9
Bemis	NY	1.00	3.1	20	32.67	-1.9	+8.6
Biglotts	NY	10	27.48	-1.43	-27.2
BrMysq	NY	1.36	4.3	28	31.87	-0.7	-9.6
CSX	NY	.56	2.8	11	19.90	-0.6	-5.5
Chevron	NY	3.60	3.4	9	105.28	-6.5	-1.1
ChrchlD	Nasd	.60	1.0	17	58.52	-5.5	+12.3
Citigroup	NY	.04	2.8	11	36.16	-2.6	+37.4
CocaCola s	NY	1.02	1.9	19	36.16	+0.8	+3.4
ColSprtw	Nasd	.88	1.6	19	54.83	-3.0	+16.9
ConAgra	NY	1.00	3.6	19	27.42	-0.2	+5.4
CrackerB	Nasd	2.00	3.2	14	13.00	+2.5	+25.0
DanaHldg	NY	.20	1.5	10	63.47	+0.4	+10.9
Darling	NY	14	15.43	-1.9	+16.1
Dell Inc	Nasd	.32	3.4	6	9.40	+0.6	-35.7
DineEquity	NY	9	60.33	-7.4	+42.9
Disney	NY	.60	1.3	15	47.96	+5.1	+27.9
DollarTr s	Nasd	17	37.71	-1.7	-9.3
DowChm	NY	1.28	4.4	22	28.83	+0.4	+2
DuPont	NY	1.72	4.0	13	42.91	-2.1	+6.3
Eaton	NY	1.52	3.1	12	49.47	-0.8	+13.6
ExorMil	NY	2.28	2.6	11	86.47	-8.5	+2.0
FamilyDlr	NY	.84	1.3	18	65.82	-5.8	+14.2
FifthThird	Nasd	.40	2.9	9	11.00	-2.3	+10.1
Form	NY	.20	1.8	9	14.00	+0.3	+2.2
FMCQ	NY	1.25	3.3	12	38.37	-2.7	+4.3
GenElec	NY	.68	3.3	16	20.68	-2.1	+15.5
GlaxoSkin	NY	2.40	5.6	*	42.81	-2.2	-52.1

Dividend Footnotes: a - Extra dividends were paid, but were not included. b - Annual rate plus stock. c - Liquidating dividend. d - Amount declared or paid in last 12 months. f - Current annual rate, which was increased by most recent dividend announcement. i - Sum of dividends paid after stock split, no regular rate. j - Sum of dividends paid this year. Most recent dividend was omitted or deferred. k - Declared or paid this year, a cumulative issue with dividends in arrears. m - Current annual rate, which was decreased by most recent dividend announcement. p - Initial dividend, annual rate not known, yield not shown. r - Declared or paid in preceding 12 months plus stock dividend. t - Paid in stock, approximate cash value on ex-distribution date.

DAILY DOW JONES

STOCK MARKET INDEXES
52-Week			Net		YTD
High	Low	Name	Last	Chg	%Chg	12-mo %Chg
13,661.72	11,231.56	Dow Industrials	12,756.18	-58.90	-.46	+4.41
5,390.11	4,531.79	Dow Transportation	5,054.71	-3.76	-.07	+7.0
499.82	422.90	Dow Utilities	445.83	+1.83	+.41	-4.06
8,515.60	6,898.12	NYSE Composite	8,023.23	-30.83	-.38	+7.31
2,509.57	2,102.29	NYSE MKT Composite	2,373.79	-12.23	-.51	+4.19
3,196.93	2,441.48	Nasdaq Composite	2,883.89	-20.37	-.70	+10.70
1,474.51	1,158.66	S&P 500	1,374.53	-5.50	-.40	+9.30
1,030.00	812.43	S&P MidCap	966.28	-2.54	-.26	+9.91
15,432.54	12,158.90	Wilshire 5000	14,370.70	-61.66	-.43	+8.95
868.50	666.16	Russell 2000	789.01	-4.75	-.60	+6.49

MONEY RATES			CURRENCIES
Last Pvs Wk			Day Ago Pvs Day
Prime Rate	3.25	3.25	Australia	.9580	.9589
Discount Rate	0.75	0.75	Britain	1.5874	1.5882
Federal Funds Rate	.00-.25	.00-.25	Canada	1.0013	.9993
Treasuries			Euro	.7871	.7865
3-month	0.105	0.10	Japan	79.41	79.46
6-month	0.145	0.16	Mexico	13.1912	13.2279
5-year	0.62	0.76	Switzerland	.9474	.9479
10-year	1.59	1.75
30-year	2.72	2.92

Stock Footnotes: p = Dividends and earnings in Canadian dollars. h - Does not meet continued-listing standards. If = Late filing with SEC. n = New in past 52 weeks. pf = Preferred. rs = Stock has undergone a reverse stock split of at least 50 percent within the past year. rt = Right to buy security at a specified price. s = Stock has split by at least 20 percent within the last year. u = Units. vi = In bankruptcy or receivership. wd = When distributed. wi = When issued. wt = Warrants. Gainers and Losers must be worth at least $2 to be listed in tables at left. Most Actives must be worth at least $1. Volume in hundreds of shares. Source: The Associated Press. Sales figures are unofficial.

COMMODITIES

Open	High	Low	Settle	Chg.
WHEAT (CBOT)
5,000 bu minimum- cents per bushel
Jul 13	858.75	865	847.75	856 -4.50
Sep 13	867.25	873	855.75	864.25 -5
Dec 13	872.75	879.50	862.50	870.25 -4.50
Mar 14	871.25	874	868	873.75 -4.25
May 14	858.25	861.75	858.25	861.75 -4
Jul 14	827.25	831.50	825	831.50 -4.50
Sep 14	837.75	837.75	833.25	833.25 -4.50
Est. sales 307,166. Mon's sales 186,268
Mon's open int. 492,843, -10,187

Open	High	Low	Settle	Chg.
CORN (CBOT)
5,000 bu minimum- cents per bushel
Dec 12	717.50	725.75	710.50	723.50 +5.50
Mar 14	620	623	612.75	620 -25
May 14	626.25	628	622	626 -75
Jul 13	1374.25	1383	1349	1363 -5.50
Aug 13	1351.75	1353.25	1327.50	1339.50 -4
Sep 13	1317.50	1320.75	1298.25	1308 -2.50
Sep 13	1287.75	1297	1273.50	1282 -3.75
Nov 15	1248.50	1248.50	1243.50	-5
Est. sales 359,205. Mon's sales 214,856
Mon's open int. 605,171, +2,019

Open	High	Low	Settle	Chg.
SOYBEANS (CBOT)
5,000 bu minimum- cents per bushel
Mar 13	1391.50	1403	1369.50	1385.75 -2.25
May 13	1377.75	1390.75	1356	1372.50 -3
Jul 13	1374.25	1383	1349	1363 -5.50
Aug 13	1351.75	1353.25	1327.50	1339.50 -4
Sep 13	1317.50	1320.75	1298.25	1308 -2.50
Sep 13	1287.75	1297	1273.50	1282 -3.75
Nov 15	1248.50	1248.50	1243.50	-5
Est. sales 359,205. Mon's sales 214,856
Mon's open int. 605,171, +2,019

METALS

Last	Pvs Day	Pvs Wk
Gold (troy oz)
$1724.20	$1730.30	$1714.10
Silver (troy oz)
$32.478	$32.513	$32.019
Copper (pound)
$3.4730	$3.4730	$3.5060
Aluminum (pound)
$0.8751	$0.8568	$0.8543
Platinum (troy oz)
$1586.40	$1566.50	$1558.30
Palladium (troy oz)
$635.80	$607.25	$619.35
Lead (metric ton)
$2180.00	$2180.00	$2096.00
Zinc, HG (pound)
$0.8495	$0.8496	$0.8226

Hostess closing bakeries after strike

Hostess Brands Inc. is permanently closing three bakeries following a nationwide strike by its bakers union.

The maker of Twinkies, Ding Dongs and Wonder Bread said that the strike has prevented it from producing and delivering products, and it is closing bakeries in Seattle, St. Louis and Cincinnati. The facilities employ 627 workers.

Hostess, based in Irving, Texas, operates 36 bakeries nationwide and has about 18,300 employees. It warned earlier this month that the strike, by about 30 percent of its workforce, could lead to bakery closures.

"We deeply regret this decision, but we have repeatedly explained that we will close facilities that are no longer able to produce and deliver products because of a work stoppage — and that we will close the entire company if widespread strikes cripple our business," Hostess Brands CEO Gregory F. Rayburn said on Monday. Hostess said customers will not be affected by the closures.

A representative for the union could not be reached immediately for comment Monday.

Microsoft: Windows' Sinofsky leaving

REDMOND, Wash. — Microsoft Corp. has announced that Steven Sinofsky, the president of its Windows and Windows Live operations, is leaving the company.

Sinofsky's departure comes just weeks after the Redmond, Wash., software company launched Windows 8, which represented a major overhaul of its ubiquitous computer operating system.

Briefs

Kodak reaches deal to borrow $793M

NEW YORK — Kodak says it has reached an agreement to borrow $793 million, an important step in letting it leave bankruptcy protection in the first half of next year.

The printing and photography company would borrow the money from a private investment firm, Centerbridge Partners, and the lending arms of asset management firm The Blackstone Group and banks JP Morgan Chase & Co. and UBS AG.

The deal is contingent on Kodak being able to sell its patent portfolio for at least $500 million. The company has been trying to sell that asset for more than a year. In a statement, Kodak says it is "confident it will achieve" that requirement.

The loan would consist of $476 million in new loans and $317 million in roll-overs of old debt. There's a provision to convert $567 million into "exit financing," a prerequisite for emerging from bankruptcy protection.

Kodak filed for bankruptcy protection in January after struggling to adapt to the world of digital photography.

Company veteran Julie Larson-Green has been promoted to lead all Windows software and hardware engineering, Microsoft said. Tami Reller will take over responsibility for the Windows business while retaining her posts as chief financial officer and chief marketing officer.

The company did not say why Sinofsky is leaving.

The launch of Windows 8 last month heralded the biggest change to the industry's dominant operating system in at least 17 years. It attempts to bridge the gap between personal computers and fast-growing tablets with its touch-enabled interface.

Deal would end Madoff lawsuits

ALBANY, N.Y. — Authorities have reached a $210 million settlement with BNY Mellon subsidiary Ivy Asset Management for advising clients to invest with Wall Street swindler Bernard Madoff, whose multibillion-dollar fraud landed him in federal prison, New York Attorney General Eric Schneiderman said Tuesday.

The settlement of suits filed by the attorney general, U.S. Labor Department and private plaintiffs also provides for about $9 million in payments by other defendants. Combined with anticipated future payments from Madoff bankruptcy proceedings, Schneiderman said it is expected to return nearly all of the original investments to those who were defrauded, including union pension funds from upstate New York.

"Ivy Asset Management violated its fundamental responsibility as an investment adviser by putting its own pecuniary interests ahead of the interests of its clients," Schneiderman said. "Ivy deliberately concealed negative facts it uncovered in its due diligence of Madoff in order to keep earning millions of dollars in fees. As a result, its clients suffered massive and avoidable losses."

Home Depot 3Q income rises

NEW YORK — Home Depot Inc.'s net income rose slightly in the third-quarter, as glimmers of a housing market recovery and storm-preparation added to sales and offset costs related to closing stores in China.

Results beat expectations and the company also raised its forecast for the year. Shares rose nearly 5 percent in morning trading.

Home improvement companies have long been under pressure due to the weak housing market, as consumers cut back on large-scale renovation projects. But they stand ready to benefit as evidence mounts that the housing market is slowly improving.

Superstorm Sandy also spurred sales, but executives were cautious about forecasting how much they thought they would benefit from the storm due to the extensive damage and slow recovery.

Wire reports

Markets

GRAINS

Spot bids to producers at selected barge loading terminals on the Ohio River:

Upper Ohio (Cincinnati-Owensboro)
Yellow corn 7.38-7.48
Soybeans..... 14.41-14.53
Wheat..... 8.41-8.56

Lower Ohio (Owensboro-Cairo)
Yellow corn 7.36-7.44
White corn 8.39-8.74
Soybeans..... 14.38-14.43
Wheat..... 8.31-8.59
Sorghum 6.79

OWENSBORO LIVESTOCK

Feeder cattle weighed at time of arrival. Slaughter cows and bulls weighed at time of sale.

Receipts: 467
Last week: 879
Last year: 560

Compared to last Monday: Steers and bulls traded mostly steady; Heifers were steady. Slaughter cows and culls were steady.

Feeder steers: Medium & large 1-2: 200-300 lbs., 185.00-201.00; 300-400 lbs., 166.00; 400-500 lbs., 152.00-165.00; 500-600 lbs., 140.50-149.00; 600-700 lbs., 125.00-131.00; 700-800 lbs., 129.00-132.00; 800-900 lbs., 120.00-126.00.

Feeder steers: Medium & large 2-3: 300-400 lbs., 147.00; 600-700 lbs., 123.00.

Feeder steers: Small 1: 500-600 lbs., 115.00.

Holstein steers: Large 3: 8 head 1443 lbs., 98.50.

Feeder bulls: Medium & large 1-2: 300-400 lbs., 161.00-165.00; 400-500 lbs., 146.00; 500-600 lbs., 120.00-132.50; 600-700 lbs., 27 head (mixed) 661 lbs., 119.00; 700-800 lbs., 110.50; 800-900 lbs., 95.00-100.50.

Feeder bulls: Medium & large 2-3: 400-500 lbs., 135.00.

Feeder bulls: Small 1: 500-600 lbs., 90.00.

Feeder heifers: Medium & large 1-2: 200-300 lbs., 160.00; 300-400 lbs., 146.00; 400-500 lbs., 137.50-140.00; 500-600 lbs., 127.50-133.50; 600-700 lbs., 120.50-128.50; 700-800 lbs., 120.50; 800-900 lbs., 112.50.

Feeder heifers: Medium & large 2-3: 200-300 lbs., 158.00; 300-400 lbs., 139.00; 400-500 lbs., 130.00; 500-600 lbs., 120.00; 600-700 lbs., 111.00; 700-800 lbs., 108.00; 800-900 lbs., 95.00.

Advice

Ultimatums won't work unless couple submits to demands

Dear Amy: My partner's mother is a very unreasonable person. She is very hard on her daughter. No matter what my partner does, she is not supportive and always criticizes her. Lately she has given us a lot of ultimatums. The first one was because we were planning to adopt two cats to be companions for our little dog. We were told that if we got the cats, she would not come over to the house for a visit. For Thanksgiving we have invited friends to share the meal with us. My "mother-in-law" said that if we invited anybody for Thanksgiving, she would not come. Now the latest ultimatum is that if I invite any of my family over for dinner on Christmas, she will not come. I know this has been hurting my partner. She wants her mother to be with us for Christmas. Now my partner's mother is telling me that I have to make a decision as to whether I see my family for Christmas or I see her. My partner agrees that I should have my family for Christmas, but this is painful for her. How do I deal with this? What do I say to my mother-in-law? Help! — Powerless Partner

Dear Partner: Your partner's mother can lay down whatever ultimatums she likes, but you should know that this is a pathetic and mad grab for power and control. If you give in, the family terrorist wins. You and your partner should do your best to run a peaceful, happy home with your pets, friends and family. I like the idea of continuing to invite your partner's mother to join you for holidays, etc., but she doesn't get to control the pet count or guest list. It's that simple. This behavior is designed to divide and conquer. Don't let this happen. If you give in to one unreasonable demand, you will encourage her to demand more. You and your partner should stay on the same page. You should always be respectful and kind to her, while working hard to maintain your own sense of calm. She will have to adjust to this, and if you stay firm she might come around. Dear Amy: "Confused" wrote to you, upset because her parents were making her come home before the end of her school dance. I think she should ask them to be chaperones. That way they could supervise and see for themselves what the fuss is about. — Former Teen

Dear Former: Having your parents chaperone a dance might put a teen in the seventh circle of hell, but it might also solve the problem she was having. — Former Teen
Send questions via email to askamytribune.com or by mail to Ask Amy, Chicago Tribune, TT500, 435 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, IL 60611.

Horoscope

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY: (Nov. 14). The year is marked by your high ideals and level of personal responsibility. Because you're committed to doing things in the right way, you'll be noticed and promoted in an arena that matters to you. Family celebrates you in December. January drops fresh fun into your life. Invest in new business this March. Capricorn and Sagittarius people adore you. Your lucky numbers are: 31, 2, 35, 38 and 19.
ARIES: (March 21-April 19). Old people are just as happy as younger people, if not more. So why fear age? The effects of years? Trust that they will be good to you, and allow yourself to develop naturally without worry.
TAURUS: (April 20-May 20). You have a story to tell to anyone who stops to talk to you. Some might even say that you've perfected the art of storytelling. This is a skill that will take you far.
GEMINI: (May 21-June 21). Your guiding planet changed stations yesterday, urging you to make positive conclusions about what has happened to you. Because you see the upside, you'll continue to experience it.
CANCER: (June 22-July 22). Absolutely everything has an associated risk. Not only do risk-takers win, but you absolutely cannot win unless you are willing to take a risk. Evening will reveal to you the perfect partner.
LEO: (July 23-Aug. 22). It is not necessary to understand the complexities. Just knowing that much work went into the reality of a situation and all for many reasons will be enough for now.
VIRGO: (Aug. 23-Sept. 22). You want to be with friends and family, and ideally this would happen on your own terms. Except that it won't. The get-together will be born out of the flexibility of everyone involved.
LIBRA: (Sept. 23-Oct. 23). If everyone wants it their way and no one is willing to give in, the only possible outcome is disappointment on all fronts. Tolerance is an underrated virtue and one that keeps people together.
SCORPIO: (Oct. 24-Nov. 21). You may find yourself searching outside of yourself for the strength to continue on in a project or relationship. But the world can't offer this fuel. It's something you can only get from a fire within.
SAGITTARIUS: (Nov. 22-Dec. 21). It takes two flints to make a fire, two to tango and two to make a thing go right. You'll find yourself wondering whether there's anything worth doing that you could accomplish with only one. Hint: There is!

CAPRICORN: (Dec. 22-Jan. 19). It's been said that misery loves company, but the truer statement is that misery loves a nurse. Unless you are qualified, don't walk willingly into a situation where someone is obviously infirm.
AQUARIUS: (Jan. 20-Feb. 18). Maybe the reason you struggle to say certain words is that they are not entirely accurate. You'll find more fitting words after you've given some thought to what is really true.
PISCES: (Feb. 19-March 20). If you choose to share your opinions, your dear ones will either find your level of insight astounding, or they will feel stripped of their defenses and become incensed.

Cream of mushroom perfect for hunting

Dear Heloise: Years and years ago, my dad found a recipe in your mom's column for cream of mushroom soup. He made a huge pot of soup and in the morning filled his thermos with it to take hunting with him. I would love that recipe if you can share it with me. — Lisa D., Elmira, N.Y.
Dear Lisa: I would love to share the recipe for Heloise's Generic Cream Soup, especially with cooler weather on the way! Add to this base whatever main ingredient you want: mushrooms, broccoli or potatoes, to name a few. Collect the following ingredients:
■ 1 cup nonfat dried milk powder
■ 1 tablespoon dried onion flakes

■ 2 tablespoons cornstarch
■ 2 tablespoons chicken bouillon powder
■ ½ teaspoon dried basil
■ ½ teaspoon dried thyme
■ ¼ teaspoon black pepper
Mix all the ingredients together and store in an airtight container until ready to use. For a soup base, add 2 cups of cold water to mixture and heat, over medium heat, in large saucepan. Stir constantly until the soup thickens. Then add your main ingredient for a soup that makes 4 to 6 cups. — Heloise

Jesus still invites us to be His disciples is filled with meaning, and actually has three dimensions or parts to it. A disciple first of all was someone who believed in Jesus — that is, who was convinced He was the divine Son of God who came from heaven to save us from our sins. A disciple was also someone who learned from Jesus — that is, someone who listened to Him and absorbed His teaching. Finally, a disciple was someone who followed Jesus — that is, someone who tried to obey Jesus and live for Him. A believer ... a learner ... a follower — these still describe a disciple today. And Jesus still invites us to be His disciples, because He loves us and wants us to know Him in a personal way. More than that, He wants us to bring His light into the darkness of this world. I invite you to become Jesus' disciple right now, by asking Him to forgive your sins and take control of your life. Then ask Him to help you become His disciple, by believing in Him, learning from Him, and following Him every day.

Write to "My Answer," c/o Billy Graham, P.O. Box 1270, Charlotte, NC 28201; call (877) 2-GRAHAM; or visit www.billygraham.org.

Common reasons for stooped posture need early evaluation

Dear Drs. Donohue and Roach: Help, help, help. I'm getting stooped, I hate it, and I hope you can tell what I can do to keep it from getting worse. Will exercise help? — S.M.
Dear S.M.: There are two common reasons for a stooped posture, and both of them need early evaluation. The more common is osteoporosis. Although the stoop is sometimes called a "widow's hump" or a "dowager's hump," it can occur in men. It usually appears at an older age than in women, since men have, on average, a higher bone density than women do and women have a rapid loss of bone density after menopause. Osteoporosis is the loss of calcium from the bone, which weakens the bones and makes them more susceptible to fracture. Fractures in the bones of the neck tend to make the neck protrude forward, causing a characteristic stooped posture. This abnormality of the spine, called kyphosis, can happen in other parts of the spine as well, and can cause severe loss of height, and even an inability for the lungs to expand properly. There is effective treatment for osteoporosis, and treatment can prevent fractures. Once fractures have occurred, however, it becomes very difficult to change the shape of the spine, which is why I recommend screening for osteoporosis before fractures occur. If you have any kind of change in your spine or neck shape and haven't been examined for osteoporosis (usually by an X-ray test called a DEXA), you should do so right away.

The second cause of stooped posture, which also occurs in both men and women, is spinal stenosis. Spinal stenosis is a condition where the nerves coming off the spinal cord are compressed. It may be a result of arthritis, bone disease or injury. Spinal stenosis almost always is associated with pain, numbness or weakness, usually of the back and legs. Many people with spinal stenosis find that they need to stop and rest after walking a short while, but report that if walking while pushing a shopping cart, they can walk as far as they want. The stooped-forward posture relieves pressure on the nerves and prevents the pain, numbness or weakness associated with the condition. This "shopping cart test" also helps distinguish spinal stenosis from similar leg pain caused by poor blood circulation. Treatment for spinal stenosis depends on its underlying cause and severity, and may include medication, physical therapy or, in severe cases, surgery. It is possible to have both spinal stenosis and osteoporosis, so before starting any exercises yourself, see your internist or general doctor to diagnose why you are becoming stooped.

Movie times

SHOWPLACE/HENDERSON
406 Walker Drive
"Skyfall" (PG-13, 143 min.) 4:15, 7:30.
"Wreck-It Ralph" (PG, 108 min.) 7:20.
"Wreck-It Ralph 3D" (PG, 108 min.) 4:35.
"Fun Size" (PG-13, 90 min.) 7:40.
"Silent Hill: Revelation" (R, 94 min.) 5:15.
"Paranormal Activity 4" (R, 95 min.) 5, 7:35.
"Here Comes the Boom" (PG, 105 min.) 4:40, 7:10.
"Sinister" (R, 110 min.) 4:45, 7:25.
"Taken 2" (PG-13, 91 min.) 5:10, 7:30.
"Hotel Transylvania" (PG, 91 min.) 4:40, 7:05.
AMC EVANSVILLE 16
5401 Lloyd Expressway
"Alex Cross" (PG-13, 101 min.) noon, 2:25, 4:50, 7:20, 10.
"Argo" (R, 120 min.) 2:05, 4:55, 7:35, 10:25.
"Cloud Atlas" (R, 172 min.) 1:50, 5:30, 9:05.
"Flight" (R, 139 min.) 1:25, 4:30, 7:40, 10:50.
"Here Comes the Boom" (PG, 105 min.) 2:10, 4:40, 7:05, 9:35.

"Hotel Transylvania" (PG, 91 min.) 12:15, 2:30, 4:45, 7, 9:20.
"Looper" (R, 118 min.) 2:20, 5:10, 7:50, 10:35.
"Paranormal Activity 4" (R, 95 min.) 1:30, 3:45, 5:55, 8:15, 10:30.
"Pitch Perfect" (PG-13, 101 min.) 2, 4:35, 7:15, 9:55.
"Silent Hill: Revelation 3D" (R, 94 min.) 1:10, 3:25, 5:45, 8, 10:20.
"Sinister" (R, 110 min.) 12:50, 3:20, 5:50, 8:30, 11.
"Skyfall" (PG-13, 143 min.) 1:15, 2:45, 4:25, 6, 7:30, 9:15, 10:45.
"Taken 2" (PG-13, 92 min.) 12:30, 2:50, 5:05, 7:25, 9:45.
"The Man With The Iron Fists" (R, 96 min.) 12:25, 2:55, 5:20, 7:45, 10:10.
"Wreck-It Ralph" (PG, 108 min.) 1:45, 7:10.
"Wreck-It Ralph 3D" (PG, 108 min.) 12:05, 4:20, 9:50.
SHOWPLACE/SOUTH
950 S. Hebron Ave.
"Trouble with the Curve" (PG-13, 111 min.) 4:35, 7.
"The Possession" (PG-13, 91 min.) 5:15, 7:35.
"The Campaign" (R, 97 min.) 5, 7:15.
"Hope Springs" (PG-13, 90 min.) 5:05, 7:20.

"The Dark Knight Rises" (PG-13, 164 min.) 6:30.
"Ted" (R, 110 min.) 4:55.
"Brave" (PG, 100 min.) 4:50, 7:05.
"Madagascar 3: Europe's Most Wanted" (PG, 110 min.) 7:25.
SHOWPLACE/EAST
1801 Morgan Center Drive
"Skyfall" (PG-13, 143 min.) 11, 11:50, 2:20, 3:10, 5:40, 6:30, 9, 9:45.
"Flight" (R, 139 min.) 11:05, 12:30, 2:15, 3:40, 5:25, 6:50, 8:35, 10.
"The Man With The Iron Fists" (R, 96 min.) 11:40, 2:45, 5:10, 7:30, 9:50.
"Wreck-It Ralph" (PG, 108 min.) 11:40, 2:20, 5, 7:40, 10:15.
"Wreck-It Ralph 3D" (PG, 108 min.) 11, 1:35, 4:10, 6:50, 9:30.
"Cloud Atlas" (R, 172 min.) 11:45, 3:30, 7:10.
"Fun Size" (PG-13, 90 min.) 11:35.
"Silent Hill: Revelation" (R, 94 min.) 11:50, 2:40, 7:45.
"Silent Hill: Revelation 3D" (R, 94 min.) 5:15, 10:15.
"Alex Cross" (PG-13, 101 min.) 11:15, 1:55, 4:35, 7:10, 9:45.

"Paranormal Activity 4" (R, 95 min.) 2, 4:25, 7, 9:30.
"Argo" (R, 120 min.) 11, 1:45, 4:30, 7:30, 10:20.
"Here Comes the Boom" (PG, 105 min.) 11:25, 2:10, 4:45, 7:20, 10.
"Sinister" (R, 110 min.) 11:30, 2:10, 4:55, 7:35, 10:15.
"Taken 2" (PG-13, 91 min.) 11:30, 1:50, 4:20, 6:55, 9:20.
"Hotel Transylvania" (PG, 91 min.) 11:55, 2:15, 4:40, 7, 9:25.
"Pitch Perfect" (PG-13, 112 min.) 11:20, 2, 4:45, 7:25, 10:05.
"The Perks of Being A Wallflower" (PG-13, 102 min.) 11:10, 1:40, 4:20, 7:05, 9:35.
IMAX THEATRE
"Skyfall: The IMAX Experience" (PG-13, 143 min) 12:30, 3:45, 7, 10:15.

SHOWPLACE/NORTH
4200 Third Ave.
"Skyfall" (PG-13, 143 min.) 4:15, 7:30.
"Wreck-It Ralph" (PG, 108 min.) 7:05.
"Wreck-It Ralph 3D" (PG, 108 min.) 4:20.
"Silent Hill: Revelation" (R, 94 min.) 7:35.
"Silent Hill: Revelation 3D" (R, 94 min.) 5:10.
"Argo" (R, 120 min.) 4:30, 7:15.
"Here Comes the Boom" (PG, 105 min.) 4:25, 7.
"Frankenweenie" (PG, 87 min.) 4:35, 6:50.
"Taken 2" (PG-13, 91 min) 5:05, 7:30.
"Hotel Transylvania" (PG, 91 min.) 4:20, 6:55.
"Pitch Perfect" (PG-13, 112 min) 4:30, 7:10.

Happy birthday

- Former U.N. Secretary-General Boutros Boutros-Ghali is 90.
- Actress Kathleen Hughes is 84.
- Former MLB All-Star Jimmy Piersall is 83.
- Jazz musician Ellis Marsalis is 78.
- Composer Wendy Carlos is 73.
- Writer P.J. O'Rourke is 65.
- Zydeco singer-musician Buckwheat Zydeco is 65.
- Britain's Prince Charles is 64.
- Rock singer-musician James Young (Styx) is 63.
- Blues musician Anson Funderburgh is 58.
- Pianist Yanni is 58.
- Former Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice is 58.
- Presidential adviser Valerie Jarrett is 56.
- Rapper Reverend Run (Run-DMC) is 48.
- Actor Josh Duhamel is 40.
- Rock musician Travis Barker is 37.

Rating: GOLD

3		6		4		2
						5		1
4			8		2			7
		8					7	5
			9		3
9	7					4
8			1		7			4
6		3
		9		6		8		3

11/14/12

JANRIC CLASSIC SUDOKU

Fill in the blank cells using numbers 1 to 9. Each number can appear only once in each row, column, and 3x3 block. Use logic and process of elimination to solve the puzzle. The difficulty level ranges from Bronze (easiest) to Silver to Gold (hardest).

Solution to 11/13/12

5	6	3	8	4	7	9	1	2
4	1	2	5	6	9	8	3	7
9	7	8	1	3	2	4	6	5
2	3	6	4	5	1	7	9	8
8	4	5	9	7	3	6	2	1
1	9	7	6	2	8	5	4	3
7	5	1	3	9	4	2	8	6
3	2	4	7	8	6	1	5	9
6	8	9	2	1	5	3	7	4

© 2012 Janric Enterprises Dist. by creators.com

NATION

Vets preserve memories of war with their own art

By Sharon Cohen
Associated Press

CHICAGO— The fallen Iraqi soldier's face is frozen in agony, his eyes and mouth wide open, his arms spread in surrender, his death in the Kuwaiti desert captured for posterity.

The sculpture's title: "Angel in the Desert."

Marcus Eriksen was a young Marine sergeant during the Gulf War, riding with a convoy to Kuwait City, when he encountered the Iraqi soldier. It was the first dead body he'd seen. The image was haunting, the experience unforgettable. But it took more than a decade before he started welding the memory into art.

Using a mannequin, an old uniform and plaster cast of his face and hands, Eriksen produced a mold and lined it with 70,000 steel ball bearings. He meticulously recreated the scene: the soldier on his back, knees bent. His insides exposed beneath his shirt. And swooping curves in the sand that suggested he'd moved his arms like a kid making snow angels.

This, says Eriksen, is not "an anti-war message. It's a reality of war message."

Every November, America honors its veterans with grand parades, speeches and tributes. But more than 350 veterans of Korea, Vietnam, the Gulf War, Iraq and Afghanistan have turned to art to preserve more intimate and enduring memories of war, and more than 2,500 of their works have found a home at Chicago's National Veterans Art Museum.

The modest museum, which focused at first on Vietnam vets but has since expanded, includes paintings, prints, drawings, poetry, photos, sculpture, collages and video. Most of the vets are trained artists who've used their skills to illustrate harrowing life-and-death experiences, explore personal demons and celebrate fallen comrades. This is art that dredges up nightmares for some, and healing for others — Eriksen, among them.

Now 45, he vividly remembers Feb. 24, 1991, when he and about a dozen other Marines stood around staring silently at the dead soldier sprawled 30 feet from his incinerated truck. "No one would cry," he says. "As a Marine, you just suck it up."

"Seeing him put a face on the suffering," Eriksen recalls. "I knew he was dead but his family didn't. ... All that death and destruction — was it worth it? If you're going to commit young people to kill and be killed, you have to have a solid reason for it. And I don't think we had that."

Eriksen, now an environmental activist in California, began creating his sculpture shortly after the first bodies of U.S. troops

ASSOCIATED PRESS

This undated image provided by the National Veterans Art Museum shows "Commitment" by Vietnam veteran and artist Richard Olsen. More than 350 veterans of Korea, Vietnam, the Gulf War, Iraq and Afghanistan have turned to art to preserve more intimate and enduring memories of war, and more than 2,500 of their works have found a home at Chicago's National Veterans Art Museum.

started coming home from Iraq in 2003. It stirred up emotions of his days in uniform.

"It allowed me to remove the burden of my memories of Kuwait, of all the bodies, of the stench. ... Just making the sculpture ... would bring tons of sadness," Eriksen says. "I would think about that person and what happened every day. At some point, I thought, 'Do I want to feel that way the rest of the day?' Eventually you tell yourself, as I did, no, I'm not going to beat myself up a millionth time. I'm done with that."

A man with a mustache, a fringe of brown hair and almost cartoon-like huge brown eyes looks out from the canvas. His lips are a barely defined pink oval. His expression is blank.

Title: Thousand Mile Stare.

More than 30 years passed before Helen White painted the picture of the officer she saw at the 67th Evacuation Hospital in Qui Nhon, where she served as an orthopedic nurse. She doesn't remember his name, his face or much else beyond the fact that he'd arrived there after surviving a firefight that had killed almost everyone else. His eyes telegraphed his trauma.

"They were wide open, they were scanning, looking for safety and looking for danger," White says. "If you see the stare, it's not something you forget. ... The memories stay in my mind, even if I don't focus on them. And, of course, there's the mystery — what happened, how did he recover, what impact did it have on his life."

Some people, she says, are disturbed by her painting; others think the raw image isn't even art.

White, who turns 65 on Tuesday, is retired from nursing and grappling with service-related PTSD, which she says has grown so intense that she has become agoraphobic. "Just going to the grocery store is a challenge," she says. "Sometimes I just stay in my house."

Painting has brought some solace, and also puts her in contact with a world beyond her Missouri home; she follows the works of artists who served in Iraq and Afghanistan and sees a commonality in their creations. "It gets back to the same song, just another verse," she says. "War is war."

"I don't regret being there," White says of Vietnam. "There's a lot I wish I could have done. I got off the plane, did what I could. I got back on the plane and came home. Some people didn't. So this artwork is like leaving a sign behind that I was here. It's like a cave painting. I never intended it to be that, but in a way it's a legacy."

A toy soldier is trapped in an orange pill bottle, the lid screwed on top. His arms are raised over his head, his rifle is held high in one hand, his right knee is bent as if he's trying to climb out.

Title: Trapped. This print — created on paper made from an old Army uniform — hints of Malachi Muncy's two life-changing tours with the Texas National Guard in Iraq.

He was just 18 when he first deployed, and once in the combat zone, Muncy says he began taking sleeping pills to shut out the world. The constant dangers he faced on truck-driving convoys were overwhelming.

"So much bad stuff happened," he recalls. "Watching IEDs explode, and mortars hit. Being pinned down on bridges, you wonder where the fire is coming from. You just sit and wait to get shot at and you have no control over whether you're going to live or die ... I was having nightmares. I really felt I was going to do stupid things and hurt the wrong people. I was having thoughts I couldn't expel."

Artist Marcus Eriksen, a Gulf War veteran, poses for a photo at his home studio in Los Angeles. Eriksen found part of this Japanese fishing boat floating offshore on a whirlpool of junk known as the Pacific Gyre.

Muncy got into trouble, he says, pointing a weapon at a superior after a mission in which he went 36 hours without sleep.

When he returned home, life unraveled. He slept all day, he says, started hanging around with the wrong crowd, got hooked on methamphetamines, amassed a pile of speeding tickets and was arrested for shoplifting. He took an overdose of pills — he's not sure if it was a suicide attempt.

And yet, almost inexplicably, he returned for a second tour in 2006.

Muncy, who later was diagnosed with PTSD, says he wanted to get away from "the mess" and all the pills.

That second stint went far more smoothly and Muncy, now 27, began keeping a journal. When he returned to Texas — he works at a coffee house in Killeen, outside Fort Hood — he attended college and became interested in poetry, photography and other arts.

"It's about sharing the experience," he says. "It's not just something that haunts you."

Using a toy soldier and a pill bottle he'd kept on his key chain, Muncy produced one print showing the trapped soldier. A second one shows the bottle tipped over, the soldier crawling out on his belly. That one is appropriately called Escape.

"They're both me," Muncy says. "It's not then and now. It's a back and forth. Sometimes I still feel like the guy trapped in the bottle."

A desperate Vietnamese mother clutches her starving baby on her chest as she flees her village. Looking back, she sees the chaos of her hamlet under attack. A Viet Cong soldier has his rifle pointed at the head of a villager on his knees, praying before he's executed.

Title: The Refugee.

Richard Olsen created the yellow-and-black linocut after returning home following a year's tour as an Army helicopter pilot with the 33rd Transportation Company in Vietnam. He came back in 1963, and the war in far-away Southeast Asia was not yet fully on America's radar, so producing these images was his way of sounding an alarm.

"It was like, 'Hey, you guys, there's a war going on' " Olsen says. "Why make pictures of flowers? Why not make pictures of war?"

Olsen had always wanted to be an artist growing up in Wisconsin — he earned a master of fine arts degree — and Vietnam allowed him to create works that he says reveal a "little man swept into a world beyond his control."

Olsen's work — paintings, drawing and prints — is ripe with pain, sacrifice and patriotism.

"War is the depth of the human experience," he says. "It's the most meaningful part of one's life."

Reach Newly Engaged Couples in 2013

EVANSVILLE WOMAN MAGAZINE Special Wedding Edition: January 2013

ADVERTISING INVESTMENT AS LOW AS $305

- Tri-State Bridal resource magazine since 2001
- Beautiful full-color wedding planner sectioned by category (gowns, floral, jewelry, etc.) for the bride to use throughout the year
- Insightful and informative articles from local columnists focusing on all aspects of a wedding
- This magazine is available throughout all of 2013
- 6,000 copies are to be distributed FREE
 - to newly engaged couples at the 5th annual Courier & Press Wedding & Prom Showcase, January 6, 2013 at the Centre
 - to every couple announcing their engagement in the Courier & Press and The Gleaner during 2013
 - at targeted Wedding & Prom retailers throughout the Tri-State by integrated in-paper and online promotion

Full page advertisers receive a full-page article

2013 cover will feature a Tri-State bride or couple

Promotional advertising in Courier & Press to provide free copies of the Weddings magazine throughout 2013

To reach your customers with affordable and effective advertising, contact your Courier & Press advertising specialist or Carolyn Franklin, Event Manager, at 812-464-7658 or via email at franklinc@courierpress.com

COURIERPRESSEXPOS.COM

Evansville
COURIER & PRESS

All I want for Christmas... Write To Santa!

Hey, Kids! Get into the Christmas spirit and send in your letters to Santa right now! Letters will be featured in our "Holiday Greetings" section on Sunday, December 16th.

Guidelines:

- Children 12 and under only.
- Please DO NOT include last names, addresses or phone numbers.
- In your letter, please ask Santa for the ONE thing you would like most for Christmas.
- Please limit letters to 40 words or less.
- Letters will be edited to meet requirements.
- Space is limited, so please send letters

POSTMARKED NO LATER THAN TUESDAY, DECEMBER 4.

Email: santa@thegleaner.com

Mail: Letters To Santa
c/o The Gleaner
P.O. Box 4
Henderson, KY 42419

Wayne Hart's five-day forecast

Almanac

HENDERSON TEMPERATURES
High/low Monday	59/30
High/low Tuesday (as of 6 p.m.)	46/27
Normal high/low	59/40
Record high for Tuesday	83 in 1955
Record low for Tuesday	13 in 1986
High/low since first of the month	73/27
High/low November temp. on record	85/-5
Tuesday's temperatures
Midnight	30	10 a.m.	39
2 a.m.	28	Noon	43
4 a.m.	27	2 p.m.	45
6 a.m.	27	4 p.m.	45
8 a.m.	32	6 p.m.	39
Humidity Tuesday at 3 p.m.		36%

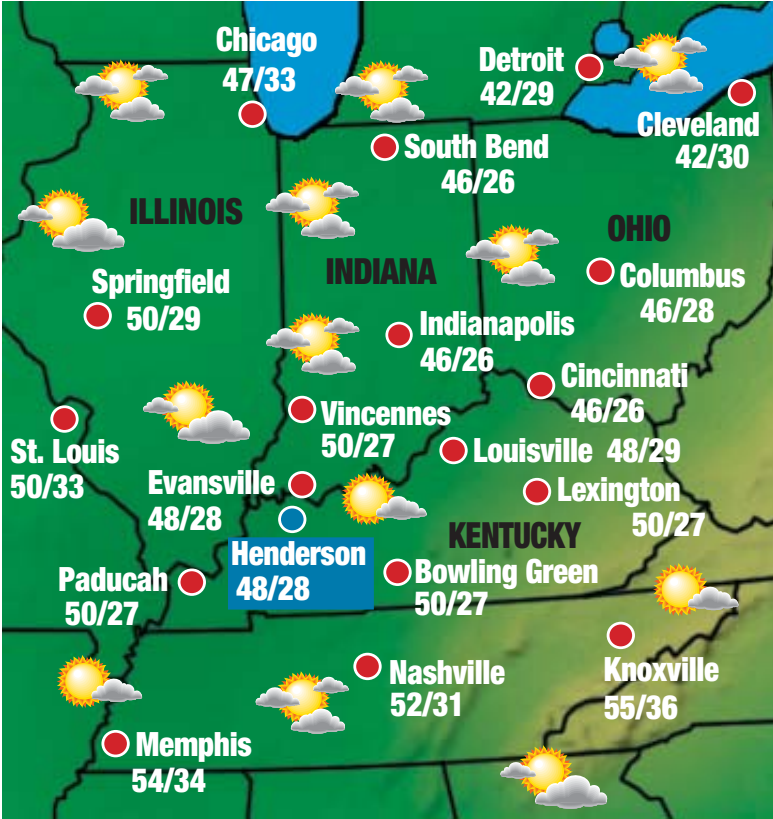

HENDERSON PRECIPITATION
24 hours ending 6 p.m. Tuesday	0.00"
Month to date	0.74"
Year to date	29.77"
Deviation for month	-1.01"
Deviation for year	-8.95"

UV INDEX

The higher the AccuWeather.com UV Index™ number, the greater the need for eye and skin protection.

2 LOW: 60 minutes to burn

Regional Map

Shown is today's weather. Temperatures are today's highs and tonight's lows.

Some high clouds will move through at times today through tomorrow, otherwise, our quiet weather will continue through the weekend. Temperatures will slowly warm, but remain below average into early next week.

AccuWeather.com

Today	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
48/28	51/32	53/32	52/34	54/37

Shown are noon positions of weather systems and precipitation. Temperatures bands are highs for the day.

National Forecast

RIVERS & LAKES

Stages	24-hour change
Ohio River	-0.59
Evansville	-0.54
Newburgh	-1.21
Uniontown	-1.17
Louisville Dam	-1.17
Ohio River will be falling.
Green River	+0.26
Calhoun	+0.26
Green River will be rising.
Barkley Lake
Above dam	+0.10
Below dam	-0.20
Water temperature	57
Kentucky Lake
Above dam	-0.12
Below dam	+0.05
Water temperature	56

WEATHER TRIVIA™

Q What type air mass and kind of bear share the same name?

Polare

HEATING DEGREE DAYS

Yesterday	28
Month to date (normal)	232 (177)
Season to date (normal)	594 (446)

SUN & MOON

First	Full	Last	New
Nov. 20	Nov. 28	Dec. 6	Dec. 13
Sunrise today			6:30 a.m.
Sunset today			4:40 p.m.
Moonrise today			7:18 a.m.
Moonset today			5:29 p.m.

With Movember, mustaches used to get men talking about cancer

By Tom Kisken

Scripps Howard News Service

Go ahead and talk about the scraggly caterpillar sprouting on Gary Stewart's upper lip. Tease him. Giggle at him.

It's why the 47-year-old wine-maker is growing his first-ever mustache.

"It's ugly," he said less than a week after he stopped shaving. "What I'm hoping is people are going to make fun of me and poke fun at me. And then I can tell them, 'I'm growing this mustache so you'll ask me what I am doing.'"

What he's doing is joining the spirit of Movember, an international movement that uses just-sprouted mustaches — what Australians call a "mo" — as a way to talk about prostate cancer, testicular cancer and other men's health issues.

Stewart, owner of Four Brix Winery in Ventura, Calif., is spurred by his father's battle against prostate cancer and his own scare that led to 10 days of limbo as he waited for test results that turned out to be clear.

John Laurenzi, in his third year as a full-fledged Movember participant, is motivated by his father-in-law, Jerry Roberts. He died of prostate cancer a year ago at age 72.

In honor of Roberts and to get other men to deal with their own health risks, Laurenzi shaved his mustache and goatee. And then he started growing them again.

Last week, whiskered men gathered at a barbershop in Thousand Oaks, Calif., to do the same thing -- shave themselves clean so they can dedicate November to repopulating their upper lips.

If the logic seems puzzling, that's OK with Laurenzi. He's looking for the same kind of reaction he gets when he tells people he's a "Mo Bro."

"They kind of just give you a little look ... like 'huh?' " said Laurenzi, characterizing the transition from full growth to no growth to cultivating growth as a way to get, and then steer, people's attention. "I need to create a change in order to incite discussion."

Movember was born Down Under, where friends discovered they could use newly sprouted lip covers as a way to promote health awareness and ultimately raise money to fight and deal with prostate cancer and other illnesses. Last year, the worldwide campaign raised $126.3 million, about $15 million of which came from the United States.

"The mustache became our little hairy ribbon. You become a walking, talking billboard," said Tom Whiteside of the U.S. Movember campaign. "The overarching goal is just to get men to talk about their health."

So far this year, about 155,000 people have joined the U.S. campaign. Most are men but some are "Mo Sistas."

The campaign was born out of the premise that mustaches, especially partially grown mustaches, are about as hip as pet rocks. But now mustaches are in, at least in the form of a fashion fad that ranges from refrigerator magnets and necklaces to coin purses and socks.

Whiteside isn't sure the hipness helps.

"It needs to be a little uncool to make sure it sparks that conversation," he said.

'I spend all day and all night in here'

Exhibit depicts juveniles in justice system

By Scott Stoner

Associated Press

RENO, Nev. — One picture shows a 12-year-old boy in a yellow jump suit staring at the wall of a tiny, windowless cell at a Mississippi detention center. Another zooms in on the bruised and blackened eye of a 14-year-old Oklahoma girl locked up for running away from a group home.

A third depicts a 10-year-old Nevada boy, barefoot and beltless in a white, concrete intake cell with a sandwich and a small carton of milk.

The stark images are part of an exhibit, "Juvenile In Justice," that photographer Richard Ross hopes will bring changes in the way the nation deals with what he said are the roughly 70,000 youths held in detention or correctional facilities across the country on any given night — many of them for offenses no more serious than skipping school.

"These are no places for kids," the longtime art professor at the University of California-Santa Barbara, adding that he is on a mission to test the limits of the "power of images in social advocacy."

A visitor leafs through the book "Juvenile In Justice" by Richard Ross at an exhibit of the same name at the Nevada Museum of Art in Reno, Nev. Creator Richard Ross hopes the haunting exhibit will bring changes in the way the nation deals with the approximately 70,000 youths held in detention or correctional facilities across the country on any given night — many of them for offenses no more serious than skipping school.

"I'm not a criminologist or a sociologist," he said. "I'm just trying to help arm those people, give them visual tools they don't have to make their case. They can show policymakers this is real."

The exhibit at the Nevada Museum of Art through Jan. 13 — and a book of the same name — are the product of Ross spending parts of the last five years photographing and interviewing more than 1,000 incarcerated youths at more than 300 facilities in 30 states.

Excerpts of the interviews supplement the pictures:

"I spend all day and all night in here," said a 16-year-old boy in a cell at South Bend (Ind.) Juvenile Correctional Facility. "No mattress, no sheets and I get all my meals through this slot."

A 14-year-old boy at the Pueblo (Colo.) Youth Services Center held on a gun charge and probation violation said: "I've been in 15, maybe 16 times ... My dad can't visit 'cause he has warrants out against him. He's in a gang. So are my four brothers."

The stories and the settings are all too familiar to Shawn Marsh.

"It is an accurate reflection," said Marsh, who worked in a number of facilities and now is director of the Juvenile and Family Law Department at the National Council of Juvenile and Family Court Judges. "In many ways, the photographs are mild. They don't show the abusive side."

"These are not facilities that encourage even the best of the best to be human," he said.

It's a very different view of the world than Ross, 65, used to capture as principal photographer on a number of architectural projects at the Getty Conservation Institute and the Getty Museum in Los Angeles, or shooting pictures for the New York Times, Harpers and others.

"I spent years and years

A male juvenile stands in a room at Harrison County Juvenile Detention Center in Biloxi, Miss. The image is part of a haunting exhibit, "Juvenile In Justice," by Richard Ross.

— maybe too much time really — doing beautiful things, creating things with lines and texture, shape and form," said Ross, who quotes Booker T. Washington in the book saying: "The study of art that does not result in making the strong less willing to oppress the weak means little."

"I lecture more now at law schools than art schools," he said. "People are using my images not only in museums, which is great, but also in public policy."

War widow sues Fox over film featuring husband

The Associated Press

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — A widow of a U.S. Army soldier killed in a blast in Afghanistan has sued Fox Cable Networks and the National Geographic Society over a documentary that showed her husband and family.

The documentary about a combat hospital called "Inside Afghanistan" featured Staff Sgt. Kevin Casey Roberts, who was serving with the 4th Brigade Combat Team, 101st Airborne Division when an improvised explosive device struck his vehicle in Khost province in Afghanistan in 2008.

A year after his death, his wife, Donnice Roberts, got a call from a service member in Germany who saw her husband in the documentary. According to the lawsuit filed in Texas on Nov. 1, she never knew there was video footage related to her husband's death and that the documentary existed.

She is seeking at least $750,000 in damages and wants a judge to prevent the film from airing again. She also wants the cable network to stop using images of military families without their permission.

The documentary was produced and distributed by the National Geographic Society and was promoted and distributed by Fox Networks Inc. and Fox Entertainment Group Inc., which owns part of the NatGeo network.

Donnice Roberts said she suffered mental anguish, shock and sadness from learning about the documentary.

"Moreover, Mrs. Roberts has fears and concerns that her minor children are depicted as the children of a warrior in the war on terror, which is fought by fanatic, radical individuals who have shown a propensity and desire to kill Americans, including women and children," the lawsuit said.

Scott Grogan, a spokesman for Fox Networks Group, said the film never aired in the United States.

Instead, it aired on the National Geographic International channel.

JUMBLE

Unscramble these four Jumbles, one letter to each square, to form four ordinary words.

FLUWA
HEWEL
LEBLUT
MOONIT

Answer here:

--	--	--	--	--

--	--	--	--	--

--	--	--	--	--

THAT SCRAMBLED WORD GAME by David L. Hoyt and Jeff Knurek

Now arrange the circled letters to form the surprise answer, as suggested by the above cartoon.

(Answers tomorrow)

Yesterday's Jumbles: REBEL GLOAT LIZARD SPLASH
Answer: When King Kong agreed to buy the Empire State Building, it was a — BIG DEAL

Courier & Press

Courier & Press

Place an ad online:
cplocalfieds.com
Call Evansville
Courier & Press
812-461-1200

Sell your merchandise locally with our Good, Better, Best options.
Call 270-826-1600.

SCRAMLETS ANSWERS 11/14/12
Crispy - Voice - Twine - Hollow - OVER WITH
The old grouch said, "I start everyday with a smile just to get it OVER WITH."

Legals

Gleaner Public Notices

LEGAL NOTICE
INVITATION TO BID

The Housing Authority of Henderson will accept bids until December 14, 2012 for Cleaning Offices and Designated Areas of Barret Center. Bid packets will be available November 14, 2012 at Barret Center, 111 S. Adams St., Henderson, KY 42420

Sincerely,
Tina Belcher
Administrative Assistant

LEGAL NOTICE

The Housing Authority of Henderson hereby requests proposals from qualified firms to provide Information Technology services. Proposal information will be available at the Housing Authority of Henderson Barret Center Office located at 111 South Adams Street, Henderson, KY 42420 on or after November 7, 2012. Proposal submissions must be received by December 7, 2012 at 2:00 p.m. at the Housing Authority Office.

COMMISSIONER'S SALE
Civil Action No. 12-CI-00619

By order of the Henderson Circuit Court, entered on November 5, 2012, in the case of Fifth Third Mortgage Company, Plaintiff, against Chad Totten a/k/a Chad M. Totten; Linda D. Totten and GE Money Bank nka GE Capital Retail Bank, Defendants, I will, as Commissioner, on November 26, 2012, at 1:00 p.m. prevailing time, sell at the Court House in Henderson, Kentucky, to the highest and best bidder, the following described property, or enough thereof to satisfy the judgment and costs in said case, amounting to approximately $61,744.47 plus interest, costs and attorney's fees, to wit:

3037 State Route 136 West, Henderson, Kentucky 42420

A certain tract or parcel located near intersection of Kentucky Highway 136 and Kentucky Highway 268 in the community of Geneva in Henderson County, Kentucky

Commercial Real Estate

Open Houses

Rentals

Real Estate Sales

LOCAL Real Estate Here

gleanerlocalfieds.com or call 270-826-1600

HOME REPAIR RENOVATION LAWN CARE PROFESSIONAL SERVICES CLEANING

Service & Business Directory

To advertise in the Service & Business Directory, call (812) 461-1200.

Ask your professional about licensing for your state. Courier & Press Classifieds does not accept responsibility for the work performed by advertisers in this section.

Auto Services

I BUY JUNKED & WRECKED cars w/o title. CHEAP MOVING & HAULING (812)598-6300

NEED TO PLACE AN AD?

Call us!
Mon.-Fri., 7:30 am-5 pm
461-1200, Evansville or
826-1600 KY

Home Maint./Repair

Guttertech, Inc.
Seamless Gutters & Gutter Guards
5", 6", 7" Gutters
(270)826-4653 Kentucky
(812)431-6137 Indiana
Free Estimates

Moving & Storage

MOVING & HAULING
I buy junk /wrecked cars w/out titles
(812)598-6300

NEED TO PLACE AN AD?

Call us!
Mon.-Fri., 7:30 am-5 pm
461-1200, Evansville or

Tree Services

POOR BOY TREE SERVICE
Licensed & Insured
(270)826-9949

THOMAS SERVICES
* Tree Trimming & Removal
* Stump Grinding
* Licensed & Insured
270-860-5113 or 270-869-5031

Gleaner Public Notices

band and wife, on August 24, 2007 and recorded on August 27, 2007 in Deed Book 557, Page 311 of the records of the Henderson County Clerk's Office.

Purchaser or purchasers may pay cash, or said property will be sold upon a credit of thirty (30) days, the purchaser to execute bonds with approved surety, bearing interest at 12% from date until paid, having the force and effect of a judgment and retaining a lien on said property until the purchase money is paid.

Witness my hand, this 6th day of November, 2012.

Steven D. Gold,
Master Commissioner

Sale about 1:00 p.m. prevailing time. Purchaser must execute bonds as soon as sale is over or the property will be immediately put up and resold.

NEED TO PLACE AN AD?

Call us!
Mon.-Fri., 7:30 am-5 pm
461-1200, Evansville or
826-1600 KY

Pets

Dogs

HOLIDAY PET SPECIAL
Run an ad for your puppies for sale w/ graphic or picture for (6) weekends (Fri Sat & Sun) before Christmas for $108!
Call Sharon Alvey 270-831-8338

Help Wanted

Employment

Dental

Do you love making a difference in people's lives? We appreciate exquisite, amazing hospitality & a desire to grow. Our quality care focused Henderson practice needs team members:

Dental Assistant
Appointment Coordinator
Experience preferred
Please forward resume to: drmoats@insightbb.com

Help Wanted

CABLE TV FIELD TECHS - to perform disconnects and collections in Henderson, Evansville, and Owensboro areas. $700+ weekly. No exp req. Need own truck/SUV. 270-454-9122

INDUSTRIAL CLEANING
First shift in Mt. Vernon
Clean background/drug screen
$10/hour
Manpower 812-474-7485

Gleaner subscriber questions?
Call 270-831-8393 or
toll free 800-587-6397.

Big Rivers
ELECTRIC CORPORATION

RECORDS TECHNICIAN
(JOB #IRC1652)

Performs a variety of clerical and technical duties in the electronic imaging of corporate documents. Operates optical scanners, microfilm equipment and computers used in records management operations. Assists in the maintenance of records in Corporate Files, records retention scheduling and warehousing of documents. Serves as a clerical expert in the preparation and processing of hard copy documents for conversion to other storage mediums, following records management policies and procedures. Operates a Fujitsu Color Scanner, Context Ideal Imation Scanner, printing and duplication equipment for electronic images and microfilm. Professional Certification or two years' experience in the knowledge and use of records management techniques is required via Industry Standards (ARMA or AIRM). An Associate's Degree is desired. Direct knowledge of LaserFICHE and LaserVAULT Operating Software Systems, or equivalent, in the preservation and conversion of both hardcopy paper and electronic data into electronic images. Ability to work independently, detail oriented and handle confidential information.

Send resume (include job number) by November 26 to P.O. Box 24 Henderson, KY 42419 apply@bigrivers.com EOE

Mfg/Operations

Local manufacturing company seeks part-time machine operators, laborers & welders for first and second shift. We are an Equal Opportunity Employer
Reply to Box #163
The Gleaner, 455 Klutzy Park Plaza, Henderson, KY 42420

Sales

Merchandise

Fuel & Wood

SEASONED FIREWOOD - OAK & CHERRY
1/2 Cord $85 delivered
270-869-7750 or 270-521-6050

Furniture

FOR SALE
CALL SHARON TO PLACE YOUR MERCHANDISE FOR SALE IN THE GLEANER CLASSIFIEDS!
Reach 74% of Henderson Area Adults with Your Classified Ad.
(This includes The Gleaner & thegleaner.com)
Call Sharon Alvey 270-831-8338

Real Estate Rentals

Bus/Office/Retl Space

441 SECOND ST. $675
Property Management
(270)831-1085

KY Apts/Furn

NICELY FURNISHED 1 bdrm efficiency & mobile homes. 415 12th, Simpkins Apts. (270)826-6108

KY Apts/Unfurn

2 BDRM - Browns Dr., Water pd. No pets. $425/mo, $425 dep. (270)826-7674

Houses For Sale

BARRET, GREENLEAF & THE ELMS - 1 & 2 Bdrm, dep., lease, no pets, water & sewer paid. (270)827-2235

Houses For Sale

HENDERSON'S FINEST PEBBLE CREEK APARTMENTS
1, 2 & 3 BEDROOMS
Some utilities included!
Call for Details (270)826-8918

NICE - 1 & 2 Bdrm Apts, appls; Exc. Northeast location. Lease, dep. Utills. Incl. (270)827-0635

REAL ESTATE

CURRAN MILLER
ESTABLISHED 1924
AUCTION / REALTY, INC.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 14 6:00pm

ONLINE ONLY AUCTION
2 BEDROOM BRICK HOME
405 NORTH 8TH STREET; BOONVILLE, IN CLOSING BID: Wed, Nov. 14 at 6PM (CST)
SHOWING DATE: Tuesday, November 6 from Noon-2PM.
• 2 BR 1 BA • Roman Brick • Enclosed porch • Basement Rec. rm. w/ fireplace
• Hard wood floors • Replacement windows
• Fenced back yard and paved off-street parking
BUYERS PREMIUM: A 6% buyer's premium will be added to the high bid to determine the contract purchase price.
OWNER: Thomas & Kathy Merrill
Hugh Miller: CAI - AU10000564 • Wendy Miller: AU1080094 • Ryan Miller: AU1080017 • Tim Coslett: AU1020040
812-474-6100 • 800-264-0601 • CurranMiller.com

Sales

Farmers Market

Livestock & Supplies

KRAMER'S MILL
Stanley, KY
Custom Grinding
All Livestock Feed
(270)764-1031

KY Apts/Unfurn

REDBANKS PLEASANT POINTE
A 55 & older retirement community.
Step into a new way of living. Wheelchair Accessible and 1 bedroom unit available. $550 per month, all utilities included.
Daily activities - noon meal delivery - 911 pull cords - daily residential check - Guest apt. - Grocery Delivery
STOP BY TO SEE OUR MODEL APT AND HOW YOU COULD BE LIVING TODAY! (270)827-5232

KY Houses for Rent

2 FORREST AVE - 1 bdrm w/front porch, refrigerator & stove furn., washer & dryer hookup, central heat & air, $300 dep, $375/mo. (270)860-1915 or 860-7124

Gleaner subscriber questions?
Call 270-831-8393 or
toll free 800-587-6397.

CALL SHARON TO PLACE YOUR PROPERTY FOR RENT IN THE GLEANER CLASSIFIEDS!
Reach 74% of Henderson Area Adults with Your Classified Ad.
(This includes The Gleaner & thegleaner.com)
Call Sharon Alvey 270-831-8338

Crew Sales Manager

$600+ A Week!

Do you work well with teens?
Do you have a large car, SUV or van?
Do you want to make $600 + a week?

If you answered YES to these...WE WANT TO TALK TO YOU!

Expanding sales and marketing company is seeking crew sales managers. Work early evenings and Saturdays motivating a teen sales crew as they canvass for the area's #1 daily newspaper!

Advancement opportunities!

Position is that of an independent contractor.

Contact: Kevin Burbank
(812) 773-0717

After School Jobs

WORK 3-5 DAYS AND SATURDAYS

Earn up to $50-$150 per week. Earn trips, prizes, trophies, pizza parties and much more! Transportation provided. 14 years and older apply today!

Contact: Kevin Burbank
(812) 773-0716

Call Today - Start Tomorrow!

Adult Supervised (work with 8-10 other teens)

Immediate Help Wanted

AUTOMOBILE SALES

Expressway Chevrolet Buick GMC is seeking full time sales people.

All Expressway stores are locally owned and managed. Experience is helpful but not necessary. If you are professional, energetic and highly motivated, this could be the job for you!

Excellent income potential and benefits, including 401K, insurance and more. Valid driver's license and pre-employment drug test required for all positions.

Expressway Chevrolet Buick GMC is located in the Expressway Auto Mall of America in Mt. Vernon, Indiana.

EXPRESSWAY
CHEVROLET • BUICK • GMC

Apply in person to:
Kevin Schickel
Sales Manager

Or email your resume to: kschickel@expresswaychevrolet.com
Expressway is an equal opportunity employer.

BEST BETS

7 p.m. on 14 Whitney
Whitney and Alex (Whitney Cummings, Chris D'Elia) are celebrating their unofficial wedding day when Whitney's mom, Candi (Jane Kaczmarek, "Malcolm in the Middle"), stops by. Whitney's joy turns to despair when Candi makes an abrupt exit, and Alex's reaction doesn't improve matters. Lily and Roxanne (Zoe Lister-Jones, Rhea Seehorn) can't agree on a gift for Whitney in the new episode "Bawl and Chain."

7 p.m. on 19 Arrow
After an off-duty police officer is seriously wounded during a bank heist, Diggle (David Ramsey) tells Oliver (Stephen Amell) it's time to think outside his father's list and help the citizenry at large. Tommy and Thea (Colin Donnell, Willa Holland) have an awkward moment when he asks her for relationship advice. Moira (Susanna Thompson) confronts Oliver about his tendency to disappear from family events in the new episode "Legacies."

7 p.m. on 13 NBA Basketball
A clash of Western conference playoff contenders goes down tonight at Chesapeake Energy Arena, where Kevin Durant and the Oklahoma City Thunder welcome in Zach Randolph and the Memphis Grizzlies. The Thunder had their way with the Grizz last season, winning three of four matchups. In the second game of the ESPN doubleheader, LeBron James and the defending champion Miami Heat drop in on Chris Paul and the Los Angeles Clippers.
7:30 p.m. on 25 The Neighbors
Debbie (Jami Gertz) wants a different kind of Thanksgiving celebration this year, so she asks Marty (Lenny Venito) to uninvited his parents and invites Larry, Jackie, Reggie and Dick (Simon Templeman, Toks Olagundoye, Tim Jo, Ian Patrick) instead. The in-laws show up anyway, and the chaos is compounded when Dick adds Jackie's estranged sisters (Carla Renata, Leslie Jordan) to the guest list in the new episode "Thanksgiving Is for the Bird-Kersees."

8 p.m. on 19 Supernatural
Castiel (Misha Collins) startles Sam and Dean (Jared Padalecki, Jensen Ackles) by suddenly reappearing on Earth with no memory of how he got out of Purgatory. Mrs. Tran (Lauren Tom) calls on a witch (Cyrina Fiallo) to build a demon bomb, but the witch turns out to be a double-crosser who delivers Mrs. Tran and Kevin (Osric Chau) into Crowley's (Mark Sheppard) clutches in the new episode "A Little Slice of Kevin."

8 p.m. on 9 35 NOVA
In August, the Curiosity rover touched down inside Mars' Gale Crater, carrying 10 new instruments that will advance the quest for signs that the Red Planet might once have been suitable for life. The new episode "Ultimate Mars Challenge" chronicles the exhilarating moments after Curiosity's landing, with inside access to the team of scientists and engineers responsible for the rover's on-the-ground experiments.

8 p.m. on 13 Life After Top Chef
Spike and his family scramble to get Good Stuff Crystal City ready to open in one week. Jen puts her plans on hold to help Fabio cater a charity dinner in Los Angeles, but things turn ugly when the sous-chef is two hours late. Richard second-guesses himself after his chefs fail a series of culinary skills tests in the new episode "Mt. Viviani Erupts."

9 p.m. on 14 Chicago Fire
Dawson (Monica Raymund) gets help from the girl who was saved by the actions that got her in trouble and facing suspension. Still defying the pressure from Voight (Jason Beghe) to retract his statement, Casey (Jesse Spencer) catches a possible break when he lays his life on the line at a fire in the new episode "Rear View Mirror." Taylor Kinney also stars.

9 p.m. on 13 Eddie Murphy: One Night Only
This new special celebrates the career of comic icon Eddie Murphy in a tribute at the Saban Theatre in Los Angeles featuring appearances by some of Murphy's TV and film co-stars over the years. The event marks 30 years since his groundbreaking "Delirious" stand-up concert film and his breakthrough film role in "48 HRS." The two-hour show will also include short films, musical performances and sketch comedy and will culminate in an appearance by Murphy.

9 p.m. on 13 Top Chef: Seattle
Fifteen chefs have been chosen to go to Seattle, where a twist changes the course of the contest and prompts one contestant to turn up the heat in her own way. A turn of the Space Needle determines who's going home. Local chef and restaurateur Tom Douglas is the guest judge in the new episode "A Shock at the Space Needle."

9:15 p.m. on 13 Movie: Shanghai Noon
Talk about "East meets West." Jackie Chan shows off his usual eye-popping martial-arts moves in this lighthearted tale set in 1880s Nevada. His character, Chon Wang, is there to help rescue a kidnapped Chinese princess (Lucy Liu) with a little help from a laid-back train robber and an American Indian woman (Owen Wilson, Brandon Merrill).

WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 14	WEHT 23 Cable 11	WFIE 13 Cable 4	WTVW 7 Cable 8	WEVV 43 Cable 10	FOX44 442 Cable 119	WAZE 19 Cable 6	WNIN 9 Cable 9	KET 85 Cable 13	WGN-A 17 Cable 3	WTBS 17 Cable 5	ENCORE 13 Cable 14	DISC 10 Cable 16	WTSN / i 13 Cable 17	SPIKE 13 Cable 23	FX 1 Cable 24	LIFE 1 Cable 25
7:00-8:00	Good Morning America (CC)	Today (CC)	News	CBS This Morning (CC)	Shepherd's Chapel	The Daily Buzz (CC)	Curious Cat in the Super Why! Dinosaur	Curious Cat in the Super Why! Dinosaur	Paid Prog.	Home Imp.	"Coim"	J. Meyer	That Girl	Paid Prog.	Movie: "Maid in Manhattan"	Will & Grace
8:00-9:00			Local 7 News Lifestyles	Paid Prog.	K. Copeland				Matlock (CC)	Jim	"Dante's Peak" (CC)	Almost, Away	Daniel Boone	Auction	Frasier	Frasier
9:00-10:00	Live! Kelly and Michael	Today (CC)	Family Feud	The Doctors (CC)	John Hagee Life Today	Better (CC)	Sesame Street	Sesame Street	Matlock (CC)	Browns	Movie: "Cold Creek Manor" (CC)	Almost, Away	Perry Mason (CC)	CSI: Crime Scene	Movie: "Along Came a Spider"	Frasier
10:00-11:00	The View (CC)	Today (CC)	Steve Harvey (CC)	The Price Is Right (CC)	Divorce	Cash Cab	Daniel Tiger	Daniel Tiger	In the Heat of the Night	Prince	Movie: "Cold Creek Manor" (CC)	Nightmare Next Door	The Rockford Files	CSI: Crime Scene	Chris	Chris
11:00-12:00	Paid Prog.	Midday With Mike (CC)	Judge Mathis (CC)	Young & Restless	Judge Alex	Eye for Eye	WordWorld	WordWorld	In the Heat of the Night	Prince	Movie: "Cold Creek Manor" (CC)	FBI: Criminal Pursuit	Hawaii Five-0 (CC)	CSI: NY (CC)	Movie: "Zodiac"	Chris
12:00-1:00	Paid Prog.	Days of our Lives (CC)	News	Paid Prog.	Judge B.	Justice	Barney	Clifford-Dog	WGN Midday News (CC)	Amer. Dad	"Jumping the Broom" (CC)	Overhaulin' (CC)	GunsMoke "Morgan"	CSI: NY (CC)	How I Met	How I Met
1:00-2:00	General Hospital (CC)	New You! America	Andy Griffith	The Talk (CC)	Anderson Live (CC)	People	Garden	Super Why!	Walker, Texas Ranger	Raymond	Movie: "Shanghai Knights" (CC)	MythBusters (CC)	Bonanza "Ballarina"	Movie: "Coming to America" (CC)	Grey's Anatomy (CC)	Grey's Anatomy (CC)
2:00-3:00	The Jeff Probst Show	Jeopardy! America	Judge Judy	Let's Make a Deal (CC)	The Jeremy Kyle Show	Trisha Goddard	Charlie Rose (CC)	Cat in the Curious	Walker, Texas Ranger	Raymond	Movie: "Shanghai Knights" (CC)	American Guns (CC)	The Big Valley	Two Men	My Life, Movie	My Life, Movie
3:00-4:00	Rachael Ray (CC)	The Dr. Oz Show (CC)	Inside Ed	Dr. Phil (CC)	The Steve Wilkos Show	Bill Cunningham	Arthur	Arthur	Walker, Texas Ranger	Friends	Movie: "Columbiana" (CC)	American Guns (CC)	The Wild, Wild West	Movie: "Twilight"	My Life, Movie	My Life, Movie
4:00-5:00	Eyewitness News First	14 News at 4:00PM	The People's Court (CC)	Ellen DeGeneres Show	Jerry Springer	Seinfeld	Wild Kratts	Wild Kratts	Law Order: CI	Friends	Movie: "Columbiana" (CC)	American Guns (CC)	Emergency!	Movie: "Beverly Hills Cop"	My Life, Movie	My Life, Movie
5:00-6:00	News	News	Judge Judy	Ent	Maury (CC)	King	Martha	World News	Chris	King	Movie: "Legend" (CC)	American Guns (CC)	Rifleman	Movie: "The Twilight Saga: New Moon"	My Life, Movie	My Life, Movie
6:00-7:00	News	News	Judge Judy	CBS News	The Ricki Lake Show	"Til Death	PBS News-Hour (CC)	PBS News-Hour (CC)	Funnies	Seinfeld	Movie: "Legend" (CC)	American Guns (CC)	Rifleman	Movie: "The Twilight Saga: New Moon"	My Life, Movie	My Life, Movie
7:00-8:00	Millionaire	Wheel	News	Two Men	The X Factor	Arrow "Legacies" (CC)	Nature (CC) (DVS)	Nature (CC) (DVS)	Engagement	Family Guy	Movie: "Dante's Peak" (CC)	American Guns (CC)	Remington Steele (CC)	Houstons	Houstons	Houstons
8:00-9:00	The Middle	Whitney	Simpsons	Survivor: Philippines	The X Factor	Arrow "Legacies" (CC)	Nature (CC) (DVS)	Nature (CC) (DVS)	Engagement	Family Guy	Movie: "Dante's Peak" (CC)	American Guns (CC)	Remington Steele (CC)	Houstons	Houstons	Houstons
9:00-10:00	Neighbors	Guys-Kids	Simpsons	Survivor: Philippines	The X Factor	Arrow "Legacies" (CC)	Nature (CC) (DVS)	Nature (CC) (DVS)	Engagement	Family Guy	Movie: "Dante's Peak" (CC)	American Guns (CC)	Remington Steele (CC)	Houstons	Houstons	Houstons
10:00-11:00	Mod Fam	Law & Order: SVU	Engagement	CSI: Crime Scene	NUMB3RS (CC)	Law Order: CI	Nova science-NOW	Nova science-NOW	WGN News at Nine (CC)	Big Bang	Movie: "Bulletproof" (CC)	Moonskinners (CC)	Cheers	Eddie Murphy: One Night Only	American Horror Story	American Horror Story
11:00-12:00	Nashville (CC)	Chicago Fire	Eyewitness News at 9PM	Two Men	NUMB3RS (CC)	Law Order: CI	Nature (CC) (DVS)	World News Ky Life	Funnies	Conan (CC)	Movie: "Bulletproof" (CC)	Moonskinners (CC)	Cheers	Eddie Murphy: One Night Only	American Horror Story	American Horror Story
12:00-1:00	News	News	Engagement	Two Men	NUMB3RS (CC)	Law Order: CI	Nature (CC) (DVS)	World News Ky Life	Funnies	Conan (CC)	Movie: "Bulletproof" (CC)	Moonskinners (CC)	Cheers	Eddie Murphy: One Night Only	American Horror Story	American Horror Story
1:00-2:00	Nightline	Tonight Show w/J. Leno	Family Guy	Late Show W/Letterman	How I Met	30 Rock	Charlie Rose (CC)	Decisions	Engagement	The Office	Movie: "Columbiana" (CC)	Moonskinners (CC)	Cheers	Eddie Murphy: One Night Only	American Horror Story	American Horror Story
2:00-3:00	Defrosting	/Jimmy Fallon	Amer. Dad	Late Late Show/Craig	Raymond	70s Show	Nature (CC) (DVS)	Charlie Rose (CC)	Engagement	Conan (CC)	Movie: "Columbiana" (CC)	Moonskinners (CC)	Cheers	Eddie Murphy: One Night Only	American Horror Story	American Horror Story
3:00-4:00	LiveWell	Carson Daly	The Office	TMZ	Frasier	70s Show	Nature (CC) (DVS)	Charlie Rose (CC)	Engagement	Conan (CC)	Movie: "Columbiana" (CC)	Moonskinners (CC)	Cheers	Eddie Murphy: One Night Only	American Horror Story	American Horror Story

WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 14	ESPN2 E2 Cable 26	ESPN E Cable 27	TNT T Cable 28	NICK N Cable 30	A&E A Cable 31	FAM F Cable 34	COM CO Cable 35	HBO H Cable 700	MAX M Cable 730	SHOW S Cable 750	AMC A Cable 41	ANPL AP Cable 42	BET B Cable 43	STARZ Z Cable 650	FSMW F Cable 47	FSO FO Cable 48
7:00-8:00	Mike and Mike in the Morning (CC) Cont'd	SportsCenter (CC)	Charmed (CC)	Max & Ruby	Dog	Boy Meets...	Paid Prog.	Tower Heist	Movie: "The New World" (CC) Cont'd	"Going Overboard" (CC)	Boone	The Crocodile Hunter	Hates Chris	Movie: "Beverly Hills Ninja" (CC)	Joint Pain?	NBA Basketball: Cavaliers at Nets
8:00-9:00		SportsCenter (CC)	Supernatural (CC)	Max & Ruby	Dog	Boy Meets...	Paid Prog.	Movie: "You Got Served" (CC)	Movie: "Cape Fear" (CC)	Movie: "The Ramen Girl" (CC)	Paid Prog.	Predator Bay (CC)	Hates Chris	Movie: "As Good as It Gets" (CC)	Athletics	UEFA Champions League
9:00-10:00	Soccer: United States vs. Russia. (CC)	SportsCenter (CC)	Supernatural (CC)	Dora...	Criminal Minds	700 Club	Comedy	Movie: "Me-gamind" (CC)	Movie: "Cape Fear" (CC)	Movie: "The Ramen Girl" (CC)	Movie: "BASIC" (CC)	I Shouldn't Be Alive	My Wife	Movie: "As Good as It Gets" (CC)	Soccer: Chelsea vs Shakhtar Donetsk	Postgame
10:00-11:00	First Take (CC)	SportsCenter (CC)	Leverage (CC)	Bubble	CSI: Miami (CC)	Gilmore Girls (CC)	Scrubs	Movie: "Bruce Almighty" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Hon-ey" (CC)	Best Ladder	NBA Basketball: Cavaliers at Nets
11:00-12:00		SportsCenter (CC)	Castle "Knockdown"	Team Umiz.	CSI: Miami (CC)	What I Like	Futurama	Movie: "Tower Heist" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Hon-ey" (CC)	Paid Prog.	Cavaliers at Nets
12:00-1:00		SportsCenter (CC)	Castle "Knockdown"	Team Umiz.	CSI: Miami (CC)	What I Like	Futurama	Movie: "Tower Heist" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Hon-ey" (CC)	English Premier League
1:00-2:00	NASCAR Soccer	SportsCenter (CC)	Castle "Lucky Stiff"	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	Soccer: Teams TBA.	:58 Flat
2:00-3:00		SportsCenter (CC)	Castle "Lucky Stiff"	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	Outdoors	Supergirl Pro
3:00-4:00	Le Batard	NFL Live (CC)	Castle "Setup" (CC)	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	Wanted	Surf 2012
4:00-5:00	NFL32 (CC)	Around Interruption	Castle "Countdown"	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	Sports Un-limited	Boat Racing
5:00-6:00	SportsNation (CC)	SportsCenter (CC)	The Mentalist (CC)	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	Boat Racing	Powerboat
6:00-7:00	College Basketball: Wisconsin at Florida.	NBA	Castle "Love Me Dead"	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	Fight Illini	College Football: Oregon State at Stanford.
7:00-8:00	College Football: Toledo at Northern Illinois.	NBA	Castle "Love Me Dead"	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	College Basketball
8:00-9:00		NBA	Castle "Love Me Dead"	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	SEC Gridiron	Cavaliers
9:00-10:00		NBA	Castle "Love Me Dead"	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	LIVE	Football
10:00-11:00	SportsCenter (CC)	SportsCenter (CC)	Castle "Love Me Dead"	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	World Poker Tour	UFC Countdown
11:00-12:00	NBA	SportsCenter (CC)	Castle "Love Me Dead"	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	College Basketball	UFC Un-leashed
12:00-1:00	NASCAR	SportsCenter (CC)	Castle "Love Me Dead"	SpongeBob	Criminal Minds	70s Show	Comedy	Movie: "Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban" (CC)	Movie: "Your Highness" (CC)	Movie: "Nice Guy Johnny" (CC)	Movie: "Mission to Mars" (CC)	Animal Cops Houston	Jamie Foxx	Movie: "Jack and Jill" (CC)	College Basketball	UFC Un-leashed

WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 14	USA U Cable 50	DISN D Cable 51	E! E1 Cable 52	TLC T Cable 53	SYFY SF Cable 54	TOON CA Cable 56	TVL TL Cable 58	HGTV H Cable 60	FOOD FN Cable 61	HALL HK Cable 66	HIST H Cable 68	NGEO NG Cable 45	TBN T Cable 20	COOK CC Cable 209	BRAVO B Cable 71	OXY O Cable 74
7:00-7:30	NCIS "Lt. Jane Doe"	Mickey Never Land	E! True Holly-wood Story	Baby Story	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Pokemon NinjaGo	Murder, She Wrote (CC)	Cash & Cari Junk	Paid Prog.	Marie (CC)	Nazi Titanic (CC)	Paid Prog.	Fall Praise-A-Thon Cont'd	Bill's Food From Spain	Chef: Vegas Top Chef: Las Vegas	"Fever Pitch" Cont'd
8:00-8:30	NCIS "The Bone Yard"	Mickey Mickey	The E! True Hollywood Story "The Hilton Sisters"	Baby Story	Ghost Hunters Inter.	NinjaGo Johnny Test	Leave D. Van Dyke	Color Spl. High Low	Paid Prog.	Home & Family (CC)		Destroy	Fall Praise-A-Thon	Luke N	Cook's Tour	Vegas	My Shopping Addition
9:00-9:30	NCIS "Terminal Leave"	Doc McSt. Never Land		I'm Turning Into a Giant	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Codename Codename	D. Van Dyke I Love Lucy	Love It or List It (CC)	5 Ingredient Fix			Hitler and the Occult	Rocket City		Spice God	Vegas	Brooklyn
10:00-10:30	NCIS "Call of Silence"	Mickey Octonauts	Nicki Minaj: Nicki Minaj:	Four Wed-dings (CC)	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Gumball Gumball	I Love Lucy Andy Griffith	Love It or List It (CC)	Good Eats Unwrapped	Marie "Marilyn Henner"	Hi-Tech Hitler (CC)	Rocket City Rocket City		Exotic	Top Chef: Las Vegas	11223 (CC)
11:00-11:30	NCIS "Heart Break"	Movie: "WALL-E" (CC)	E! News	What Not to Wear (CC)	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Looney Looney	Andy Griffith Gunsmoke	Hunters Hunters Int'l	Best Dishes Contessa	Movie: "The Christmas Choir" (CC)	Cities of the Underworld	Alaska State Troopers		Kelsey's French	Vegas	Brooklyn
12:00-12:30	NCIS "Forced Entry"		Sex-City	Baby Story	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Tom & Jerry	"Charlie Noon" (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Money Dinners		Cities of the Underworld	Border Wars	Fall Praise-A-Thon	Easy Ent.	Top Chef: Las Vegas	Brooklyn
1:00-1:30	NCIS	Doc McSt.	Sex-City	Baby Story	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Tom & Jerry	Gunsmoke (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Secrets	Movie: "A Carol Christ-mas" (CC)	Cities of the Underworld	Taboo "Pos-sessed"		Dolce	Top Chef: Las Vegas	11223 (CC)
2:00-2:30	NCIS "Chained" (CC)	Phineas A.N.T. Farm	Sex-City	Toddlers & Tiaras (CC)	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Scooby-Doo	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	30-Minute	Carol Christ-mas" (CC)	Cities of the Underworld	Abandoned		Every/Italian	Top Chef: Las Vegas	Brooklyn
3:00-3:30	NCIS "Blackwater" (CC)	A.N.T. Farm A.N.T. Farm	When Teens Kill	What Not to Wear (CC)	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Johnny Test Johnny Test	Bonanza (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Giada-Home		Cities of the Underworld	Abandoned		Every/Italian	Top Chef: Las Vegas	11223 (CC)
4:00-4:30	NCIS "Dop-pelganger"	Good Luck Jessie	20 Most Horrifying	Four Wed-dings (CC)	Viral Video	Adventure	Bonanza (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Giada-Home	Movie: "Once Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Snipers, Inc.		Nigella	Law Order: CI
5:00-5:30	NCIS "The Meat Puzzle"	A.N.T. Farm Jessie	Good Luck Jessie	What Not to Wear (CC)	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Johnny Test	Bonanza (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Giada-Home	Movie: "Twice Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Tyler's Ult. Chuck-Day		Boy/Grill	LOLwork	Law Order: CI
6:00-6:30	NCIS "Pop Life" (CC)	Good Luck Jessie	20 Most Horrifying	Four Wed-dings (CC)	Viral Video	Adventure	Bonanza (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Giada-Home	Movie: "Once Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Tyler's Ult. Chuck-Day		Boy/Grill	LOLwork	Law Order: CI
7:00-7:30	NCIS (CC)	A.N.T. Farm Shake It Up!	Good Luck Jessie	What Not to Wear (CC)	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Johnny Test	Bonanza (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Giada-Home	Movie: "Twice Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Tyler's Ult. Chuck-Day		Boy/Grill	LOLwork	Law Order: CI
8:00-8:30	NCIS "Bikini Wax" (CC)	Movie: "Rata-touille" (CC)	Nicki Minaj: Nicki Minaj:	Medium Medium	Total Total	Regular Gumball	M*A*S*H M*A*S*H	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Diners	Movie: "Twice Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Tyler's Ult. Chuck-Day		Boy/Grill	LOLwork	Law Order: CI
9:00-9:30	NCIS "Red Cell" (CC)	Phineas Good Luck	Nicki Minaj: Nicki Minaj:	Medium Medium	Total Total	Regular Gumball	M*A*S*H M*A*S*H	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Diners	Movie: "Twice Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Tyler's Ult. Chuck-Day		Boy/Grill	LOLwork	Law Order: CI
10:00-10:30	NCIS "Twilight" (CC)	A.N.T. Farm Shake It Up!	Good Luck Jessie	What Not to Wear (CC)	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Johnny Test	Bonanza (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Giada-Home	Movie: "Twice Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Tyler's Ult. Chuck-Day		Boy/Grill	LOLwork	Law Order: CI
11:00-11:30	Covert Affairs	Shake It Up! Jessie	Good Luck Jessie	What Not to Wear (CC)	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Johnny Test	Bonanza (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Giada-Home	Movie: "Twice Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Tyler's Ult. Chuck-Day		Boy/Grill	LOLwork	Law Order: CI
12:00-12:30	NCIS "Forced Entry"	Wizards Wizards	Chelsea Lat Chelsea Lat	Breaking Amish: The Dark Side	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Johnny Test	Bonanza (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Giada-Home	Movie: "Twice Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Tyler's Ult. Chuck-Day		Boy/Grill	LOLwork	Law Order: CI
1:00-1:30	House "Trans-plant" (CC)	Suite/Deck Suite/Deck	A-List A-List	Breaking Amish: The Dark Side	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Johnny Test	Bonanza (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Giada-Home	Movie: "Twice Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Tyler's Ult. Chuck-Day		Boy/Grill	LOLwork	Law Order: CI
2:00-2:30		Suite/Deck	A-List	Breaking Amish: The Dark Side	Ghost Hunters Inter.	Johnny Test	Bonanza (CC)	Holmes In-spection (CC)	Giada-Home	Movie: "Twice Upon a Christmas"	Cities of the Underworld	Tyler's Ult. Chuck-Day		Boy/Grill	LOLwork	Law Order: CI

Comics

GARFIELD

PEANUTS

B.C.

HAGAR THE HORRIBLE

BEEBLE BAILEY

TANK McNAMARA

Today in history

Associated Press

Today is Wednesday, Nov. 14, the 319th day of 2012. There are 47 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On Nov. 14, 1862, during the Civil War, President Abraham Lincoln gave the go-ahead for Maj. Gen. Ambrose Burnside's plan to capture the Confederate capital of Richmond; the resulting Battle of Fredericksburg proved a disaster for the Union.

On this date:

In 1851, Herman Melville's novel "Moby-Dick; Or, The Whale" was first published in the United States.

In 1940, during World War II, German planes destroyed most of the English town of Coventry.

In 1969, Apollo 12 blasted off for the moon.

In 1970, a Southern Airways DC-9 crashed while trying to land in Huntington, W.Va., killing all 75 people on board, including the Marshall University football team and its coaching staff.

In 1972, the Dow Jones Industrial Average closed above the 1,000 level for the first time, ending the day at 1,003.16.

Five years ago: A justice of the peace ordered O.J. Simpson to stand trial on kidnapping and armed robbery charges stemming from a confrontation with memorabilia dealers in a Las Vegas casino hotel room.

One year ago: Former Penn State football assistant coach Jerry Sandusky, in an interview with NBC News' "Rock Center," denied allegations he'd sexually abused eight boys and said any activities in a campus shower with a boy were just horseplay.

Think about it

"I never gave away anything without wishing I had kept it; nor kept anything without wishing I had given it away." — Louise Brooks, American actress (born this date in 1906, died 1985).

DILBERT

HI AND LOIS

DRABBLE

NON SEQUITUR

FOR BETTER OR FOR WORSE

FUNKY WINKERBEAN

THE LOCKHORNS

THE FAMILY CIRCUS

HERMAN

ACROSS

- 1 By Jove!
- 5 Delt's neighbor
- 8 Word of strong agreement
- 12 Horse's gait
- 13 Coral island
- 14 Game with mallets
- 15 Kitchen herb
- 17 Short news piece
- 18 Dazzle
- 19 Dinnerware
- 21 Chicken —
- 24 Mild protest (hyph.)
- 26 Come next
- 28 Swab
- 29 Reply to a ques.
- 32 Laptops, briefly
- 33 Postage
- 35 Install tile
- 36 High dudgeon
- 37 Follow closely
- 38 Feel nostalgic
- 40 Heredity factors
- 42 Friendly
- 43 RoboCop, e.g.
- 46 Not share
- 48 Lunar phenomenon
- 49 Winter wear
- 54 Stein fillers
- 55 Embroider, maybe
- 56 Falana or Montez
- 57 "— Dinah" (Avalon tune)
- 58 Prehistoric
- 59 Skirmish

DOWN

- 1 Stately tree
- 2 — few rounds
- 3 Loan abbr.
- 4 Eerie feeling (2 wds.)
- 5 Big spread
- 6 Meadow murmur
- 7 Doctor's concern
- 8 Pertaining to bees
- 9 Suffragette Lucretia
- 10 Gen. Robert —
- 11 Pseudonyms, briefly
- 16 Ouch!
- 20 Fresh
- 21 Military cap
- 22 Raise (abbr.)
- 23 Latin I verb
- 25 Public perception
- 27 Organic compound
- 29 Jai —
- 30 DEA operative
- 31 New Year's Eve word
- 34 Hybrid citrus
- 39 Swallow up
- 40 Formation flier
- 41 Make coleslaw
- 43 African lake and country
- 44 Home of the Ivy League's Bulldogs
- 45 Ran in the wash
- 47 Guru's mantra
- 50 Suffer a fever
- 51 Dedicated to
- 52 Spring training loc.
- 53 — cheese!

Answer to Previous Puzzle

RAW	PACS	STAB
USA	AMAH	MIRA
BIL	LIMABEANS
YAKKED	QUA
OER	CRATE
TANG	MUSK	DEY
ALA	AIRES	VEE
ROI	MINT	TEND
PUREE	CAR
LBS	MOUSER
KUBLAKHAN	IDA
ONCE	IOTA	TIN
IDES	DEAN	YET

11-14-12 © 2012 UFS, Dist. by Univ. Uclick for UFS

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10	11
12				13			14
15				16			17
			18			19	20
21	22	23		24	25
26				27	28		29	30	31
32				33	34			35
36				37			38	39
			40			41		42
43	44	45				46	47
48				49	50			51	52	53
54				55			56
57				58			59

